At the end of many a rainbow—

IF YOU GO TO the end of a rainbow, so the fairy tales say, you'll find a pot of gold.

Of course no grownup believes this. But it's surprising how many people believe what amounts to the same thing.

That is, many of us have a dreamy notion that somewhere, sometime, we'll come upon a good deal of money. We go along from day to day, spending nearly all we make, and believing that somehow our financial future will take care of itself.

Unfortunately, this sort of rainbow-chasing is much more apt to make you wind up behind the eight ball than with a pot of gold.

When you come right down to it, the only sure-fire way the average man can plan financial security for himself and his family is through saving—and saving regularly.

One of the soundest, most convenient ways to save is by buying U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Plan.

These bonds are the safest in the world. They mount up fast. And in just 10 years, they pay you $4 for every $3 you put in.

So isn't it just plain common sense to buy every U. S. Savings Bond you can possibly afford?

P. S. You can buy U. S. Savings Bonds at any bank or post office, too.

WHEN good fortune seems at a standstill or even appears to be going backward, don't think that you are the only one who is being hampered. A great many people are going through the same apparent restrictions as the result of the retrograde motion of three major Planets.

Some of these retrograde movements continue for months. For example, right now the Planet Jupiter, cosmic symbol of good fortune, is turning backward apparently in the Sign Scorpio which rules savings and accumulated assets. Therefore, a certain amount of difficulties may be encountered in the management of finances.

Another retarding influence is caused by the retrograde motion of Neptune in the Sign Libra which rules marriage. Since Neptune is the cosmic symbol of illusion, there might be some useless bickerings among married folk as the result of unsubstantiated suspicions.

The third Planet in retrograde transit is Pluto in the Sign Leo which rules romance. This Planet is the cosmic symbol of regeneration. Consequently the rebirth of warmed-over love may be somewhat less than satisfactory. However, Pluto is turning direct in motion toward the end of April, after having been in retrograde motion since last autumn.

At the beginning of the month Saturn, the cosmic symbol of duty, also turns direct in motion in the Sign Leo. This means some of the youngsters who have been held back in love by parental, or other adult control, should find considerable emotional release starting during April.

Success in financial transactions may remain retarded, however, since Jupiter does not turn direct until mid-July, while marital harmony should increase considerably after June 19th when Neptune apparently turns direct in its zodiacal journey.

Born Actress

PROBLEM: So far as I know no one in my family has been interested in the theatre, but I happen to crave a dramatic career. Would I succeed according to what my horoscope reveals? I was born August 17, 1927.—ELAINE W. T.

ANSWER: Selecting the stage as your medium of expression is natural inasmuch as you were born when the Sun, Mercury, and Neptune were in the Sign Leo which rules the theatre and romance.

You would always be fascinated with the thought of playing love scenes, and you might become a popular as well as talented ingenue.

The Moon and Uranus in the Sign Aries, and Saturn in the Sign Sagittarius, support the stellium in the Sign Leo through beneficent grand trine aspects. This signifies the possibility of success.

Furthermore Mars and Venus are in your solar Second House which rules money. Therefore, your income may be derived from catering to a mixed public inasmuch as Mars typifies the masculine while Venus typifies the feminine elements of Nature.

Incidentally you might do a great deal of traveling during your life, since the Sign Aries rules adventure while the Sign Sagittarius rules long journeys.

Anniversary Tour

PROBLEM: My wife and I are celebrating our silver wedding anniversary this year. She was born March 3, 1897; and I was born October 15, 1895. Our marriage has been a great success.

We want to take an extended tour to celebrate. What does Astrology say about our plans?—WILLARD R. M.

ANSWER: The compatability between your wife and you is shown by Mercury, Saturn, and Uranus in your birth chart, in harmonious trine aspect with the Sun and Moon in her horoscope.

She was born when both Luminaries were in the Sign Pisces, while Pluto, Mars, and Neptune were in the Sign Gemini, in trine aspect with your natal Sun and Mars in the Sign Libra. You also had Neptune in the Sign Gemini.

Since you have agreed so well all these years, you should continue to be happy in the future. Right now the Planet Jupiter is in the Sign Scorpio, in trine aspect with the Sun in your wife's birth chart. This transit occurs in your solar Second House which rules money. It is a fortunate influence for affluence.

Therefore, you should have sufficient means to cover the cost of your trip. If you do your traveling in a leisurely fashion, the journey should prove most satisfactory. Air travel might be somewhat risky inasmuch as your wife's Sun and Moon are in square aspect with transiting Uranus, the cosmic symbol of aviation. Surface and water routes should prove interesting and enjoyable.

Mature Romance

PROBLEM: My first marriage was so ideal that I thought I would never want to marry again after I lost my husband. But he has been dead more than ten years, and I am very lonely. Also I am going on in years.

Recently I met a man who was born January 28, 1874; and I was born April 2, 1876. I wonder if we are suited to each other.—MRS. HARRIET G. E.

ANSWER: At your birth the Sun was in the Sign Aries. The man whose birthday you mention was born when the Sun was in the Sign Aquarius. These Signs are in harmonious sextile aspect.

More than that, in your solar horoscope the Sign Aquarius occupies the Eleventh House which rules friendship and aspirations. This signifies amiable companionship.

In his birth chart the Sign Aries occupies the Third House which rules the Occupational Changes

PROBLEM: A subtle change has come into my job. I used to like my work. Now everything seems different and out of focus. I wonder how long this condition will continue.

I was born July 7, 1912.—ROGER K. C.

ANSWER: In your natal horoscope the Sun, Venus, and Neptune were in the Sign Cancer. The Moon occupied the Sign Aries in your solar Tenth House which rules your career.

Since 1942 the Planet Neptune has transitted the Sign Libra, in square aspect with the stellium in your natal Sun Sign, and in opposition with the Moon at the zenith of your horoscope.

These configurations constitute a Cardinal Sign cross, creating an emotional stress. Inasmuch as the Planet Neptune is the cosmic symbol of intuition and camouflage, you apparently are aware of subtle infiltrations that are not apparent to anyone else.

This cycle will continue for some years. Therefore, you should be careful to differentiate between what is real and what is mere illusion. By looking for flaws, you will find them.

"There is more room for newcomers in the writing field today than ever before. Some of the greatest of writing men and women have passed from the scene in recent years. Who will take their places? Who will be the new Robert W. Chambers, Edgar Wallace, Rudyard Kipling? Fame, riches and the happiness of achievement await the new men and women of power."

Symbols of Success

By RHODA L. PIERSON

The positions of the Sun, the Moon and the Planets in your birth chart reveal your inherent ability to attain success and happiness!

EAGERLY you dream of success, but how often do you stop to think about what is meant by this term? Constantly you strive to do what is best and right for yourself and for your loved ones, yet defeat seems to come more frequently than the success to which you aspire.

However, if you stop to examine what has happened to you, you may see that your destiny is moving toward successful attainments in a constant, though occasionally wavering line.

Perhaps you are too prone to think of success in terms of money or other tangible assets, without trying to see that in the quiet and humble lives of ordinary human beings the symbols of success are represented by deep contentment and faith.

Love, Trust and Loyalty

Love constitutes success as surely as do thousands of dollars in the bank. The affection of friends, who turn to you in their hour of need, and the trust and loyalty that you inspire in your associates, those are among the enduring symbols of a truly successful life.

If the aspects in your horoscope reveal that fame or prosperity can come at a certain time, and the prediction appears to have erred in its fulfillment, examine your wishes and abilities as well as your apparent failure in a more impersonal light. Take the long view. See if you are putting too materialistic or too particular an interpretation on that which has happened.

If you still remain doubtful, wait for what the future brings. The chances are you will come to realize that what you thought was failure or unfulfilled ambition actually is success, or a step toward it.

A Blessed Faculty

Apparently the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt was blessed with this faculty of thought-projection. It was a valuable asset to him during the most trying years of his life, and it was his best standby until the end.

As is well known, Franklin D. Roosevelt was the only child of wealthy parents. He was an aristocrat, insofar as it is possible for Americans to attain such prestige. From the time of his birth on January 30, 1882, he was blessed with success in every conceivable form.

He attended the best schools; and after completing the necessary training, he started to practice law.

As a parallel career, he entered politics. Then disaster struck him when, at the prime of life, he became physically incapacitated through infantile paralysis.

What a blow! Yet he did not allow this handicap to deter him. When the call came to serve his State, and then his nation, he hesitated only briefly between the belief that with the proper treatment he might recover in a few years—and the realization that he had a bigger job to handle than that which entailed purely personal considerations.

His health became of secondary importance after that, as is an established historic fact. Although in later life his personal locomotion was impeded due to the square aspect between Pluto and Mercury, he was prepared for the demands made on his intellect because this influence did not become operative until he attained full maturity.

Another delayed action influence in Franklin D. Roosevelt's chart, was the square aspect between Saturn and Venus; and the third stress was created by the square aspect between the Sun with Jupiter and Saturn.

A stupendous amount of action was stimulated by these configurations inasmuch as the Sun, Venus and Mercury formed a dynamic stellium in the Fixed Air Sign Aquarius, while Saturn, Jupiter, Neptune, and Pluto formed an even more powerful stellium in the Fixed Earth Sign Taurus.

The Moon was in the Cardinal Water Sign Cancer, in sextile aspect with Saturn; Uranus was in the Mutable Earth Sign Virgo, in trine aspect with Neptune and Jupiter; while Mars was in the Mutable Air Sign Gemini, in trine aspect with Mercury.

To understand the complexities of Franklin D. Roosevelt's nature, and the trend of his destiny, you must seek the solution in the symbols of his horoscope.

Many Diverse Factors

Although he had a unified personality because every symbol in his birth chart was related through sextile, square, or trine configuration with another symbol, yet each represented so many diverse factors that his character was molded and compressed for the greatest possible range of service.

Some of his deepest understanding of human needs was derived from the presence of Uranus, the cosmic symbol of altruism and freedom, in the Sign Virgo which rules labor and health. Inasmuch as Uranus is the planetary ruler of the Sign Aquarius which was occupied by the Sun at the time of Franklin Roosevelt's birth, some of the most significant attainments during his lifetime were in behalf of wage earners.

His personal freedom was curtailed, since Uranus in the Sign Virgo occupied in his natal horoscope the Twelfth House which rules seclusion. This part of the birth chart opposes the Sixth House which rules work and health. Therefore, Franklin D. Roosevelt was destined to give up the liberty of physical coordination so that he could, in endeavoring to surmount his own handicaps, become a benefactor of the stricken and helpless.

The symbol of this success is shown by Mars at the zenith of his horoscope, in trine aspect with Mercury.

The Symbol of Courage

The Planet Mars is the cosmic symbol of courage. Therefore it also is considered as the universal emblem of war. The leadership evidenced by President Roosevelt during the catastrophic years of World War II brought him global fame, as was inevitable with Mars in his Tenth House which rules prestige, career, and also reputation.

However, the glory to which he was entitled did not attain its full mark since the co-occupant of the Tenth House was the Moon's South Node, known as "the Dragon's Tail."

Although President Roosevelt died only a few days before the capitulation of Germany, yet he had foreknowledge of this victory; and although he has been subject to severe criticism by sincere as well as unscrupulous detractors, his success as a leader and humanitarian are unimpeachable, as shown by Uranus at the Ascendant of his horoscope.

This is the symbol of success that accelerates in importance with the passage of time inasmuch as Uranus typifies the future. Therefore, although Franklin D. Roosevelt died at the threshold of the war's victorious end to which he contributed so much, nevertheless his important place in history is secure.

That his fame will grow in stature is a foregone conclusion inasmuch as his Sun Sign, symbolized by "the Waterbearer" and ruled by the Planet Uranus, is the zone of the new Aquarian Age which is to continue for twenty consecutive centuries!

Quite a significant corollary between the symbols in President Roosevelt's birth chart with the wonders of the new cosmic era that was ushered in during his administration as Chief Executive of the United States of America!

equally dramatic effect in your personal horoscope because you also are influenced by the dynamic power of the Universe. You may not be aware of this power, but it is the very essence of your destiny.

What actually happens is that quietly, and without human aid, you are being whirled through space at more than a thousand miles a minute! Think of how miraculous this perpetual motion is in comparison to all other types of mechanical speed.

Every hour of time, whether you are awake or asleep, you are on the move. The hourly distance the Earth spans in this rapid yet smooth journey is incredible. The total is approximately 66,600 miles in sixty minutes. Compare this with the fastest airplanes, or even with the most modern-jet propelled rockets.

The Earth also spins on its axis at the rate of a thousand miles an hour. A third motion to which you are subject, as an inhabitant of the Earth, is the forward and onward swing of the entire Solar System through the labyrinths of the sky.

These celestial marathons are so contrived that few mortals are aware of the propulsion except those whose job it is to chart the changing pattern of the Universe.

This study is very rewarding since it shows that the cosmos is based on the eternal turning of unnumbered celestial wheels within wheels, comprised on the Sun, Stars and Planets. To an extent these revolving sky wheels are similar to the cogs in the mechanism of a dynamo, since each spinning motion helps to generate power.

Engineers convert the power produced by the wheels of a mechanical dynamo into electrical units for heat and light. Similar conversion occurs in the distribution of cosmic power which is the source of the energy that consistutes the self-sustaining support of the celestial spheres, and which is transmuted by human beings into an infinite variety of activities.

The Cosmic Dynamo

The Solar System, large as it is from a terrestrial viewpoint, is only a small part of this self-generating cosmic dynamo. The components of the Solar System are the Sun, Moon, Planets, and Satellites. Astrology, in its most simplified form, relies on this celestial pattern for informative facts about every phase of existence.

All you need, therefore, to ascertain the type of success for which you are best equipped is to know the relative zodiacal position on the day you were born of the Sun, Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, and Pluto.

A spectacular example of how revealing these symbols of Astrology can be is the experience of a young actress born on August 22, 1917 in Stockholm, Sweden. She attended a famous dramatic school, and after graduation became a well-known moving picture actress in her native land. After a while she met and married an able young physician, with whom she has lived happily ever since. They are the parents of a young daughter whom both idolize.

Eventually, like a fairy story, this actress was induced to go to Hollywood where it was discovered she had the quality of greatness. The natural blend of her beauty and superb personality captivated moving picture audiences everywhere.

Picture followed picture, each more popular than its predecessor. The foreign-born actress earned fabulous sums of money, so much in fact that she finds it hard to believe that she has become the owner of this great wealth.

Not only did she become rich, but her husband and child are with her in the new land of her brilliant success. What is better still, her husband is working at his own profession, untouched by the clamor and glamour that surrounds his adorable young wife.

Surely you have seen this charming young actress on the screen, or heard about her. She is the incomparable Ingrid Bergman—whom even the most callous moving picture theatre spectators find irresistibly appealing.

Her Fondest Dream

You would say that this is enough good fortune to be showered on any young woman. But there is more to come. When she was a student at the Swedish dramatic school, and then a moving picture star, she had a great hope which was both her ideal and her goal. She kept wishing that some day she would be selected to play the part of Saint Joan, the Warrior Maid, who led the French armies to a great victory against their enemy during a war in the Fifteenth Century—but who was burned at the stake as a heretic.

Even during the years of her great success in Hollywood, that dream persisted.

Then one day Maxwell Anderson, the famous author, got in touch with her and told her that he had written a story about Joan of Arc.

"Would you consider playing the part?" he asked her.

"What a question!" replied the young actress. "Surely you know, Mr. Anderson, that all my life I have wanted to play Joan."

"No, Miss Bergman," replied the playwright, "I did not know, but somehow you seemed just right for the part."

She read the play, and agreed to take the part. In the Fall of 1946 the play opened at a New York theatre, and was a smash hit immediately. To her this role means an incredible loss in money since the salaries of stage actors are small in comparison to the amounts paid to moving picture stars.

She works longer hours, and she has had to be away from her family. Yet if you were to ask Ingrid Bergman what she considers to be the big success of her career, she would reply unhesitatingly that it was having the dreamed-of and hoped-for opportunity to play the role of Saint Joan on the stage.

A Personal Triumph

This is her personal triumph. It goes beyond the fame and fortune she acquired so easily in Hollywood. Her name in the programs of this one theatre means more to her than its appearance in lights on the marquee of most moving picture theatres in the country.

Being able to play that particular role, which may continue to inspire her acting career, seems like an answer to a prayer.

At her birth the Sun was in the final degrees of the Sign Leo which rules the theatre. Also in the same Sign, but in the First Decan, were Saturn and Neptune. Venus had just entered the Sign Libra which has jurisdiction over art and beauty. The Moon also occupied this Sign, but in the latter degrees.

Mercury was in the Third Decan of the Sign Virgo which rules work; Mars was in the Second Decan of the Sign Cancer which rules domesticity; Jupiter was in the First Decan of the Sign Gemini which rules speech and manual dexterity; Uranus was in the Third Decan of the Sign Aquarius which rules friendship; while Pluto was in the initial degrees of the Sign Cancer, separated by a comparatively narrow zodiacal strip from the Planet Mars.

All these cosmic symbols reveal an interesting and important career as an entertainer, with frequent trips to augment her income through this work, as shown by the sextile aspect between Jupiter with Saturn and Neptune.

The Symbol of Affluence

Advertising, publishing, traveling and acting are indicative as fortunate sources of income for this talented young performer inasmuch as Jupiter is the cosmic symbol of affluence.

The presence in Miss Bergman's birth chart of this Planet in the Sign Gemini, which occupies an important position in the horoscope of the United States, shows that she would attain fame and prosperity in America. That this success would come with overwhelming swiftness during her sojourn in America is denoted by the conjunction of Jupiter in Miss Bergman's birth chart with Uranus, the cosmic symbol of sudden happenings, in the natal horoscope of the United States.

Right now transiting Uranus is in harmonious trine aspect with Ingrid Bergman's natal Uranus in the Sign Aquarius, but in square aspect with her Mercury in the Sign Virgo. Therefore, she needs to be careful not to make an erroneous decision as the result of imprudent advice by some of her counsellors.

She also needs to realize the value of self-discipline that is emphasized by the return at the present time of Saturn to the zodiacal position it occupied at her birth. This self-restraint can work like a magic formula to offset the serious impediments that often beset the part of popular stage celebrities.

Ingrid Bergman can be very practical about her work, due to the stabilizing influence of Saturn, but since this Planet was in conjunction with Neptune, the cosmic symbol of intuition, she is rather psychic in her impressions about most things—particularly so about her job.

That is why she knew with almost mystical insistence that she would be able to portray the illusive personality of the Warrior Maid of France whose clairaudient gifts caused her to hear the voices of invisible guides.

Harmonious Influences

Ingrid Bergman is too modern to admit that she "hears voices," but if she so desired she could delve deeply into occult subjects as the result of the Saturn-Neptune conjunction in her birth chart. Nevertheless, so long as she responds to the harmonious vibratory influences in her horoscope, she can go far in the attainment of the wonderful benefits which have already brought her so much happiness and so many honors.

With wise foresight in safeguarding her throne of fame she can remain its occupant for a long time since hers is an incomparable and wondrous accumulation of success gifts, exceeding by a wide margin some of the fabulous rewards that are poured into the coffers of screen and stage favorites, and even greater than the gilded treasures of royal families or the heirs of vast fortunes!

A Different Story

A far different success story is that of Mrs. Anna Dennis, born March 28, 1894. When she was not quite seventeen she was orphaned by the death of her mother. A few months later she married the son of a neighbor who was always kind to her, but who was unable to earn enough to support his family adequately.

Of her three children, the eldest son wanted to become a physician. There wasn't enough money to pay for this type of education, but Anna determined that somehow the miracle would be accomplished.

She had two special skills. One was the knack of baking tasty bread, and the other was the ability to do fancy ironing. She decided to commercialize both these talents. With unceasing toil she started to build up a trade, using her kitchen to bake and to launder for a few customers.

At first her earnings were small, and they never reached more than a modest sum, but she saved every cent. At last her son, born November 8, 1913, was graduated from medical school. He has since become a distinguished surgeon, due to the grand trine of the Sun and Moon with conjoined Mars and Neptune.

The Sun was in the Water Sign Scorpio which rules the secrets of life; the Moon was in the Water Sign Pisces which rules philanthropy; while Mars and Neptune were in the Water Sign Cancer which rules motherhood.

The Planet Mars is the cosmic symbol of surgery. This accounts for the extraordinary effort his mother made to enable him to attain success in this profession.

In Anna's birth chart the Sun was in the Fire Sign Aries which activates ambition, while Uranus was in the Water Sign Scorpio, in conjunction with the Sun in her son's birth chart. This alliance shows a strong bond of understanding between Mother and son, while her willingness to sacrifice so much in his behalf is shown by the conjunction of her natal Mercury with his natal Moon in the Sign Pisces.

She helped him to win success, and in turn he repaid by living up to her expectations. What greater thrill can there be for any mother than the knowledge that her children are "the right sort"—honest, sincere, and competent?

Parents and Children

Successful motherhood transcends any other achievement for most women, and that is as it should be, in compliance with universal law.

Some parents try to force their children, forgetful of the fact that a youngster's destiny is foreordained at birth. Just because Jimmy's father was a football star is no guarantee that the son will be a champion player. Seldom are traits and attributes inherited as exact reproductions since time and circumstances, as well as abilities, are affected by the steady shift of the cosmic symbols in the Zodiac.

When an adolescent is compelled to learn a special trade, or enter a definite profession at the behest of an older person, there might be seeming compliance, but instinctively a strong and bitter resentment makes itself felt. Eventually this can form into a psychological cloture against everything except misery, torment, and unhappiness.

To attain success, a child needs adult guidance and encouragement so as to allow proper adjustment with work-a-day conditions. Beyond the usual lessons and admonitions, however, there should be no regimentation. Only through free aspirations and willing collaboration can any human being, regardless of age or financial status, accomplish anything worth while. When there is too much direction, there is a tendency toward inhibition and frustration.

You can detect self-confidence, and you also can observe doubt, in the demeanor of the various people with whom you come in contact. Schoolrooms are filled with delinquents because parents and teachers do not know how to handle them. The fault might be due to a minor defect, but so long as it is allowed to fester, it can impede success.

Poverty has nothing to do with such a condition. Walk into some of the humblest homes in your vicinity, and you will become aware of the intangible atmosphere that indicates success. Money is of minor importance to the outward expression of contentment.

When the mother and father are compatible, the children do not feel fettered. When, however, the children are excluded from affection, there is bound to be a feeling of disappointment.

Domestic gaiety should be spontaneous, tasks should be shared voluntarily, small achievements should be praised, and there should be complete family unity since the seeds of success are inculcated during the early years of life.

The potentialities for achievement are inborn. When used at the right time, for the right purpose, these self-endowed aptitudes can yield illimitable good fortune that is channelized through fame, prosperity, or romance.

Any and all things come through universal power. That is why Astrology is such a revealing source of information through interpretation of the symbols of success!

Wherever you look you can find these symbols. They are present in the horoscopes of those who dwell in a cottage as well as in a mansion. Mutual affection, gaiety, sympathetic understanding, and warmth of devotion are symbolic of success. So are tasks that are shared, small achievements that are enjoyed together, and troubles that are overcome by combined help and encouragement.

This is the kind of success of which everyone is capable, but which all too few realize as constituting the rewards of really successful living.

Follow Your Starpath

Your birth chart holds the secret of such success. Once you have discovered the key to what the future holds, you can follow your starpath staunchly, even though occasionally you may doubt that you are getting ahead.

Whenever you become discouraged remember that, according to the symbols in your horoscope, you possess the ability to do certain things that can bring you success. This is charted from the very outset of your life. That is why you must be prepared to follow your destiny without faltering.

However, whether you do your utmost with the abilities that are inherent in your destiny is a matter of personal endeavor. Never allow the thoughts of failure to enter your mind.

Therefore, it is not enough to know what the astrological symbols signify because the test of greatness depends on how you develop your potentialities—as is being done right now by a vast number of your contemporaries! Let the cosmic symbols be the signals of your success.

How to Cope With Loneliness

By SYLVIA Z. HOFFMAN

LONELINESS, like the tax collector, is bound to catch up with everyone at one time or another. Neither is welcome, yet neither can be avoided. However, each has its place in life. To get rid of either with a minimum of discomfort, you must know how to conduct yourself by being prepared for the eventuality.

In your heart is the secret hope that you will never know the meaning of loneliness through personal experience. Perhaps you have been fortunate in this respect, but the majority have not been so lucky inasmuch as during this century there has been war which brought temporary loneliness to many, and made it the constant lot of many more.

During war time you accepted substitutes for clothing and food, and other things as a matter of course. The replacements weren't wholly satisfactory, but you soon learned to manage with them and you did a good job.

Keep Busy!

In personal matters you also had to find and use substitutes. Perhaps you realized that activity, for example, as a substitute for brooding, is the best remedy for loneliness. The exchange can be mentally profitable.

Frustration, which is the boon companion of loneliness, can be dissipated by activity much as a stale odor in an unventilated room gives way to clean air after the windows are opened. So keeping busy is your first important step in turning your lonely days into happy ones.

Loneliness is not the exclusive possession of the middle aged and the elderly. Young people often are desperately lonely. But resilience carries youth through unhappy periods with little harm. A brisk walk, or an hour spent watching a romantic movie, the purchase of new clothes, or unexpected gift, can dissipate the gloom. Practically anything that happens does the trick, and interesting things are always happening to youth. All life stretches before them.

Less resilient are the childless widows, the spinsters and bachelors, the parents who share the homes of married children, elderly aunts and uncles, grandparents, the countless men and women who live alone. Are you among those who are sensitive to the clutch of loneliness?

Beware of Self-Pity

If so, what can you do to make life more enjoyable and more worth while, and by that very token lift yourself out of the category of the unwanted? For that is what you probably believe you are, despite the fact that you have relatives and friends. One of the first antidotes against loneliness is to get rid of self-pity.

Don't regard yourself as a lonely soul, and nothing more, waiting to be invited to holiday dinners and other group parties. Even if you haven't the facilities to offer hospitality, there are other ways to show that you are an active person with an interest in life that you are able and willing to share with relatives and neighbors.

One way to do this is through books, if you enjoy reading. The great variety of literary material that is available through books, magazines and newspapers can be an inexhaustible source of mutual interest.

Planned Reading

This method of planned reading is a most satisfactory means of filling a gap that is caused by loneliness. It can lead to other vital contacts, and even to romance!

Your interest in Astrology, Numerology, Cartomancy, Graphology, and Palmistry can be a fascinating and intriguing link between you and others who have identical inclinations. Membership in any group that offers you the opportunity to discuss timely topics about any of these subjects should repay you a thousandfold for the time and effort expended. This will help you to know yourself better and put you in a position to probe into the cause of loneliness generally. Perhaps the combined research may enable you to correct the cause after you have detected the specific reason for the presence.

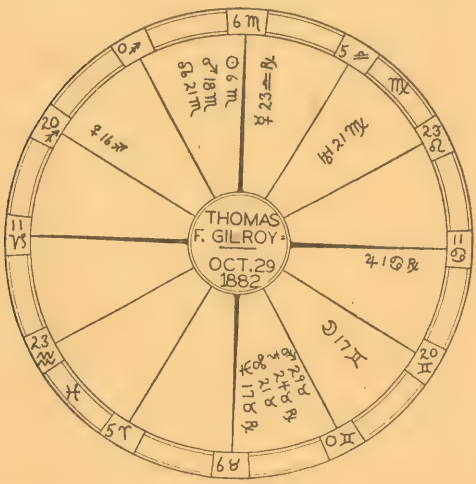
An excellent instance of planned reading is the experience of Thomas F. Gilroy, born October 29, 1882. He always had wanted to learn to play chess. There had never been time for it in his hectic younger years, filled as they were with the myriad activities of an energetic business career.

As he grew older, and no longer actively engaged in earning a living, loneliness was making itself felt. He realized that being cut off from others would reduce his alertness, he methodically started to gather all the books on chess he could locate. He read them diligently until he felt he had absorbed their contents sufficiently to join a chess club.

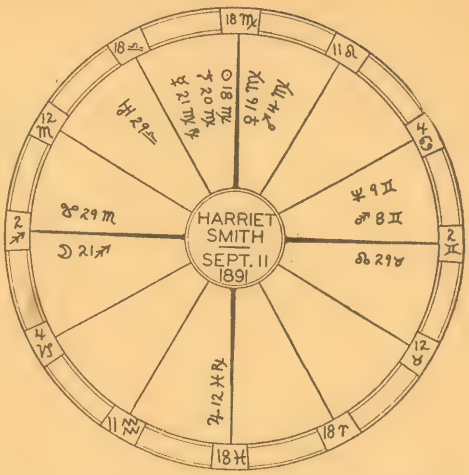


Not only did he become a good chess player, but his technical knowledge of the game soon placed him in the enjoyable position of "elder statesman" of the club. He broadened his acquaintance with men who esteemed his fine achievement.

Willpower and Persistence

His days of loneliness were over before they became a fixation in his life. He had the will power to carry out his purpose inasmuch as at birth his Sun was in the fixed Sign Scorpio, giving him the necessary persistence and perceptiveness that is necessary for consisted concentration in a competitive pastime.

These solar influences enabled him to acquire a skill with which he could challenge others—a simple yet combative quality that is among the inherent traits associated with the Sign Scorpio.



Mrs. Harriet Smith, born September 11, 1891. In the days of raising a large family she never had time to do much reading. When she found herself with enough time to read, she actually didn't know where to begin.

Picking a book at random from a library shelf, she began to read it. Suddenly an exciting idea presented itself to her mind. Why not list all the books mentioned as having been read by the characters in the story, and then read them herself.

An Absorbing Pastime

She started her list immediately. It became an absorbing pastime to see how many times the same books were mentioned by different authors. The first thing she knew she had a sizeable catalog of books, including many of the world's best known classics.

This fascinating hobby has been her salvation because she needs mental recreation due to the fact that after birth the Sun was in the Sign Virgo which rules systematized mental work.

Having such elaborate knowledge, and the desire as well as capacity to expand it, has made her the most envied member of the local literary club!

Selective Preference

Susan Parker, who belongs to the same club, prefers to read everything ever written by one author. She enjoys comparing first efforts with the later works, and evaluating their significance.

"It is like knowing the author personally" she says. "You get so familiar with his style you can almost anticipate little twists of speech. I can detect the difficult periods in his life, and the happy times. It is all there showing through his writing. For me that kind of reading is tremendously stimulating."

The reason for this selective preference is that in Susan's horoscope, the Sun and Mercury are conjoined in the Sign Taurus which rules set ideas. She was born May 3, 1925.

The Sign Taurus symbolizes the throat of the Cosmic Figure. Therefore, Susan has a pleasing speaking voice. This and her well-known enthusiasm for her favorite author, has made her one of the most popular speakers at the frequent open forum of the club.

She has a natural instinct for attractive apparel. This enables her to appear so well dressed that she has been singled out by several male members for special attention.

One of her recent escorts has started to court her in a very marked manner. It is rumored that there might be an announcement of their engagement before very long —the best possible safeguard against loneliness!

An Expert in Gardening

Books on gardening proved a blessing to Harriet Wooley, born July 11, 1887 when the Sun was in the Sign Cancer which rules the home. She thought she would be denied the one joy which filled her lonely life— that of raising flowers, after she became physically incapable of gardening. Instead her book reading made her an expert on the how, when, what and where of planting.

Her neighbors soon began to ask for her advice. This, based on experience and supplemented by extensive reading, was invariably good. Grateful to her, they took turns at keeping her own garden planted and in trim. The desolation she feared was supplanted by usefulness that brought pleasure to all with whom she came in contact.

When the Victory Garden plan started she was asked to speak about planting to the children in the town school, and to help establish a Garden Clinic over which she presided. The children came to her with all their problems. She advised them about weeds which grew too fast and vegetables which grew too slow. With each visit they brought more joy to her heart and home, leaving no room for bitter loneliness.

Regardless of external condition, therefore, the cosmic resources with which you were endowed at birth should make it possible for you to overcome in greater or lesser degree the feeling of utter loneliness. Whether you are an introvert or extrovert, there are means to find surcease from the feeling of being unwanted and unappreciated.

The Value of Music

Music can prove helpful. The radio or phonograph can bring you glorious and soul-satisfying melodies, even when there is no one around.

At times, however, you need to share your experience with other human beings, even if they are strangers, to feel a sense of companionship. When you are in this mood, go to a play, sports program, or concert if possible. The chances are you will start a conversation during intermission with whoever is sitting next to you.

The most diverting experiences that Mrs.

Julia Reid likes to recall are those which start with a casual program during intermission to someone who sits next to her at the concerts she likes to attend. She is so well-informed about music, and so entertaining in her speech, that she is usually invited to join the person, with whom she started the conversation, for tea or dinner.

She is charming and elderly in appearance. She was born August 7, 1876. Frankly she admits that she is completely alone in the world as to kin, and that her friends are so scattered over the country that she rarely visits them.

Her One Great Love

"Music has always been my one great love," she says. "I taught it when I was younger. But music, alone, is not enough for me. I have to have friends too. Starting to make new friends when you are advanced in years is not a simple task. When I suddenly found myself the last surviving member of my family, I didn't know where to begin. Then I thought of the concert hall. People there have one thing in common with me—love of music. Being an old lady gives me privileges. I can speak to anyone. It is exciting and gratifying because I have made many new friends."

Mrs. Reid did not mope, becoming mean and crabbed.

She woke up to the fact that in order to get richness out of life she would have to face realities courageously. She has done so with signal success.

Marvin Taylor has been able to cope with loneliness by learning to distinguish the various instruments in a symphony orchestra as the music poured forth from his radio. This has proved of absorbing interest since his knowledge of music had been superficial up to that time.

"It's the nearest thing to being a conductor," he claims. "And I defy any man who likes music who hasn't daydreamed about standing on a podium with a baton in his hand."

The reason Marvin Taylor like to imagine himself as the leader of the band is because when he was born the Sun was in the Sign Aries, the first segment in the zodiacal procession. Nothing is equal, from his viewpoint, to being at the head of a symphonic or any other cavalcade!

Never Too Late

It is never too late to learn how to play a musical instrument, although it must be granted that fingers are not quite as agile as they might be when one approaches middle age. This doesn't matter because there is no career at stake.

The purpose of learning to play an instrument is the same as any other educational course, that of broadening your interests and bringing fertility of thought to definite achievement.

Mrs. Mary Lessing started and completed just such a purpose, perhaps because she was born on August 9, 1884 when the Sun was in the Sign Leo which rules education and entertainment.

"My grandma's house is the most popular place in town for the kids to gather," says her young grandson.

"Is it because she makes such good cookies?" queried one mature listener.

"Well, no—I mean, gee, sure she makes swell cookies, but that's not the real reason. My grandma took piano lessons just so she could play all the hit tunes for us to sing.

That's why we have such a good time there. Now she's learning how to jive it up for dancing."

The Laughter of Youngsters

When his grandmother was asked what had made her take up jazz music at her time of life she explained that despite the fact that her children lived in the same town, her days were often lonely. She preferred the robust squabbling and gay laughter of youngsters to the peace and quiet of an empty house.

She set out to make her home attractive to her grandchildren and their friends, so they would consider it a place where they would come voluntarily, not just on holidays when they felt it their duty.

By doing this she has succeeded in making her own life full to overflowing and she also is giving the younger generation memories of happy hours which they will cherish all the days of their lives.

Express Yourself

Another way to cope with loneliness is through writing. This can be in the form of short stories, radio scripts, essays, poems, lyrics, and even inspired letters to friends. No matter what you write, you are expressing yourself. There is nothing quite so satisfying to a lonely person as a chance to pour out the suppressed thoughts in coherent words.

Writing by hand is often tedious and tiring. A typewriter can be a wonderful help, if you have the means to obtain one. After you learn to type, you can get in touch with friends and relatives who live at a distance. It is hard to feel lonely when your morning mail includes newsworthy correspondence. Keeping in touch with people, and sharing their hopes and joys is a sparkling adventure in human relations.

Also write to strangers! Send a package with an encouraging message to a needy person almost anywhere. The relief agencies will take care of the distribution. The recipient of your note is almost sure to answer. In this way you can travel practically all over the world, making friends in many different lands. You will be repaid a thousandfold in gratitude for any kindness you proffer.

Creative Work

The use of latent talents for doing creative work is one of the most effective methods of coping with loneliness. Lester J. Norton won a cash prize, and a gay trip to New York because he wrote the winning jingle in a contest.

Lester likes to rhyme and to quote poetry. This helps him from keeping bored during his long hours as a station-master at an out-of-the way railway junction.

He likes a routine occupation, since he was born January 14, 1907 when the Sun was in the Sign Capricorn which is ruled by the Planet Saturn, the cosmic symbol of restraint. But mentally he enjoys whimsical and capricious humor.

People far and wide like to loiter at his ticket window, when they have a chance, to hear his funny stories and listen to his impromptu puns. This word barrage is his weapon against loneliness.

The postcard system is good for those who don't like letter writing, but still wish to keep in touch with acquaintances. Send out a batch of greeting cards now and then, because the important thing is that you have to make an effort not to be lonely. Keeping up your contact with people by offering them new proof of your friendship.

People Aren't Selfish

Don't take the attitude that life has treated you badly, and that it is up to your friends and relatives to see that your lot is made more bearable. Nor complain that you cannot be expected to do for others, without anyone doing things for you. Get away from notions like that for a while.

People are not selfish. When you make it clear that you are essentially kind and sympathetic, your friends and neighbors will go out of their way to be helpful and encouraging. Remember that life is a two-way street. What you give in one direction, you receive in another.

Draw on your supply of cosmic power to make a good life for yourself. You will find that the milk of human kindness is inexhaustible.

The world is full of responsive generosity. You need never be lonely, except if you insist on shutting yourself away from the world. When you do this, you may be sure your privacy will not be invaded. Don't lock the door to your philanthropy. Let others enter. Hand out replicas of the key to this lock at charitable and civic organizations which need services such as you can render. Select the job for which you are best equipped, and from which you can receive deepest satisfaction.

A Splendid Job

As an example, Mrs. Alice Hopper learned the Braille system so that she could help the blind to read. Unbearably lonely after her son was killed in the war, she found her association with the blind an outlet for all her pent up emotion. She is doing a splendid job for others, and an equally splendid job on herself.

This type of voluntary service is just the thing to assuage Mrs. Hopper's loneliness because philanthropy is second nature to her inasmuch as she was born March 5, 1896 when the Sun was in the Sign Pisces which rules seclusion and institutional service.

Another instance of gracious thoughtfulness is the hobby of Florence Knight. She is skillful with the crotchet needle. She has used this for about fifteen years, as her personal rehabilitation program after she became invalided through a serious automobile accident.

She cannot walk, but she likes to use her hands inasmuch as she was born June 6, 1902 when the Sun was in the Sign Gemini which rules manual dexterity.

Daily, Florence looks through the marriage announcements in the local newspaper selecting a few couples to whom she sends a hand-made gift. Sometimes this is a pot holder, a doily, or a couple of place mats. This present from a stranger strikes a responsive chord in the romantic couple who receive the colorful gift. Invariably they come to visit, bringing with them the enthusiasm that only newlyweds possess.

Artistic Ability

Do you work capably with your hands? Then make the most of it. Try an art course. You may be amazed at how much you can accomplish even though you think you can't draw at all. Or perhaps modeling in clay is your forte. The point is to experiment until you find the medium which captures your imagination.

Winston Churchill born November 30, 1874 when the Sun was in the Sign Sagittarius, is one of the world's best known amateur artists. He took up painting as a form of recreation. Even during the most excrutiating and exhausting war days, his palette and paint brushes were part of his luggage, whenever and wherever he traveled to fulfill his momentous missions.

Collecting stamps or antiques is another way to cope with loneliness. President Franklin D. Roosevelt had a notable stamp collection, and he also collected marine prints as well as ship models. The latter have been bequeathed as part of his estate, to the nation.

President Roosevelt was born January 30, 1882 when the Sun was in the Sign Aquarius which rules love of freedom. It was cruel punishment for him to be confined to a wheel chair during so many years of his life. But he did not repine. He was able to cope with loneliness by adding interesting specimens to his fine collections inasmuch as he had Moon in the Sign Cancer which rules antiques and heirlooms.

Many Other Hobbies

Photography also is a compensating hobby. It can lead to business success on a lucrative scale. So can making and repairing of jewelry, gloves, garments, books which have loosened binding, old picture frames, upholstered furniture, bed quilts, window drapes, stockings, and other articles. Only a little aptitude, and the willingness to work, can get you started in a good business.

After that, instead of spending your days in a desultory way, you can meet people from morning till night.

Girls and women who serve as "sitters" for babies or invalids find it an antidote for loneliness because new surroundings and the thought of earning money takes away any feeling of boredom.

By being imaginative you can build in your own mind, the kind of home you would like to occupy if you had the means. Or you can design fashionable apparel by drawing silhouettes wearing your concept of stylish modes in the most modern fabrics.

When you feel a spell of loneliness coming on, look around for a specific task to do, such as pasting snapshots into an album or transferring scribbled notes and clipped printed matter to index cards. You will probably become so engrossed in what you are doing that you will forget about being lonely.

Collate humorous pictures for the amusement of children in the wards of city hospitals. Such contributions are welcome and treasured.

Mental and Physical Action

Loneliness can be coped with by substituting mental and physical action for inactivity.

One of the best cycles to make this test is right now while the Planet Uranus is transiting the Sign Gemini which rules the intellect, in zodiacal sextile aspect with Saturn and Pluto in the Sign Leo which rules dramatic expression.

By combining what you know, with the inspired wish to attain your heart's desire, you should be able to accomplish miracles in defeating the pangs of loneliness!

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. Adv.

Instrument of Illusion

By BRUCE KNIGHT

HAVE you ever looked through a quaint device called a kaleidoscope? Usually it is made in the form of a round tube that can be turned easily. At one end is an eye piece through which you can peer at a constantly shifting mosaic of brightly-colored glass at the other end.

The effect of these variegated shapes and designs is enchanting to all beholders, young and old. Although this instrument has been considered a toy for more than a century, it really was intended for a serious purpose by the inventor, Sir David Brewster, the famous Scotch physicist who was born December 11, 1781 when the Sun was in the Fire Sign Sagittarius.

A Magnetic Influence

Neptune, the cosmic symbol of illusion, was in the Sign Libra, in sextile aspect with his natal Sun. This is a magnetic influence for brilliant intuitive impressions—one of the most valuable assets for the development of inventive genius.

Sir Brewster, who was a distinguished authority on the polarization of light, wrote many books on the subject. He also perfected the stereoscope, an optical instrument which blends two objects into a single image, and he helped to improve the methods used to illuminate lighthouses.

The worth of his work is incalculable. However, in 1816, when he invented the kaleidoscope, he met with a series of mishaps that deprived him of a huge fortune. In his own words, this is what happened:

"I thought it advisable to secure the exclusive property of the kaleidoscope by a patent; but in consequence of one of the patent instruments having been exhibited to one of the London opticians, the remarkable properties of the instrument became known before any number of them could be prepared for sale. The sensation excited in London by this premature exhibition of its effects is incapable of description. No fewer than two hundred thousand kaleidoscopes were sold in London and Paris during three months."

Subterfuge and Trickery

Astrology reveals the reason for these manipulations. This was due to the fact that by 1816 the Planet Neptune had reached the Sign Sagittarius, adjacent to his natal Sun. This conjunction activated subterfuge and trickery. Therefore, instead of being assured the financial reward of his invention, he became the victim of chicanery.

Once more Neptune has returned to the position in the Sign Libra it occupied in the natal horoscope of Sir David Brewster. Again scientists are working on the mystic power of refracted light. This time the effort is concentrated at Mount Palomar, near the Pacific Ocean, where the largest telescope in the world is about ready for use, to start a new era of astronomic research.

As a tribute to Sir Brewster, compare the fleeting riches of those who cheated him, with the incalculable wealth of optical knowledge he bequeathed to later physicists. The difference in these two types of treasures is reflected in these few lines quoted from the poem by William Hone entitled: "The Kaleidoscope":

In thy magic circle rise
All things men so dearly prize. . . .

Who could from thy outward case
Half thy hidden beauties trace?

Once again—the miser views
Thy sparkling gems—thy golden hues. . . .

He breaks thee ope, and views within
Some bits of glass—a tube of tin!
Such are riches, valued true—
Such the illusions men pursue.

Your Magic Carpet

By CHARLES S. STRONG

The cosmic heritage with which you were endowed at birth enables you to heed the beckoning lure of the far horizons!

WITH only a few dollars as your talisman, you can summon a modern "magic carpet" to waft you anywhere, at any time, to any place on Earth!

All you need is the time and the money to encircle the entire globe, without the slightest personal exertion! Even Icarus, in his most imaginative moods, never visualized that the time would come when human beings would be carried by gigantic winged steeds through the skies.

Nor did the famous Italian, Leonardo da Vinci, in his enlightened predictions foresee the possibilities of air transport for any except Fortune's favorites who, in his opinion, included noblemen and kings.

Air Flights Popular

Air flights are becoming as popular for transportation for everyone as is travel by railroads and automobiles. Each is a magic carpet that is in the process of transforming living conditions in a most amazing way.

Nowadays any child knows how to engineer a miniature electric train or drive a toy automobile. But only a little more than two centuries ago when Benjamin Franklin was a boy, youngsters knew no other mode of locomotion than by horse-drawn vehicles or sailing craft.

Therefore, when young Franklin during his playtime embarked on a brief voyage on the Big Pond in Boston, his motive power was furnished by a box kite!

Years afterward, when Franklin was older, he used another box kite in his experiments to lure electricity from the clouds! His success demonstrated that the power of electricity could be harnessed. By doing so, a new branch of science was evolved which has found ways to use electricity to run motors, light lamps, and to ignite the sparks in the combustion chambers of airplanes—the most recent version of the magic carpet.

Not even Aladdin, with the genie of the magic lamp, covered as much territory as you can when you are flying through the air!

Franklin's Cosmic Influences

Inasmuch as electricity contributed so much to the success of aviation, it is interesting to investigate the cosmic influences that made it possible for Benjamin Franklin to discover its power. At his birth the Planet Uranus which is the cosmic symbol of inventions was in the Fire Sign Leo, in trine aspect with the Planet Neptune which is the cosmic symbol of intuition in the Fire Sign Aries.

Therefore, he was able to combine theory with ingenuity to discover the potency of fire. He did so by inventing a coal burning stove which revolutionized the primitive heating appliances used in America at that time. Had he patented the stove, it would have brought him a fortune. But he refused to do so. He wanted to bequeath the idea to his fellow citizens.

To this day hundreds of thousands of the "Franklin Stove" type are being used in this country. Even the steam heating systems have not supplanted it altogether!

Among his other pursuits, any one of which would have brought him fame as well as wealth, he began to tinker with a device that could utilize the magnetic power of electricity. This he succeeded in doing. To demonstrate the procedure publicly, he used an ordinary box kite during a thunder storm when the skies were filled with awesome streaks of lightning.

Having done that, his interest passed on to other matters among which were patriotic projects and big business problems inasmuch as he was born on January 17, 1706, when the Sun was in the Earth Sign Capricorn which rules politics and large organizations.

The Development of Electricity

Nevertheless, the development of electricity which he espoused became a link in the long preparatory chain that made automotive and aeronautical propulsion by electrical engines an accomplished fact.

The increasing number of air transports, and the decreasing fare rates, is an enormous incentive to use these magic carpets —made of aluminum and plastic—as a means of rapid transit.

Why is flying so popular, particularly among Americans?

That is an easy question to answer: All you need is to look at the horoscope of the United States, based on the signing of the Declaration of Independence on July 4th, 1776.

At the Ascendant of this chart the Air Sign Gemini is occupied by the Planet Uranus, the cosmic symbol of inventions. The Air Sign Libra is occupied by Saturn, the cosmic symbol of efficiency. The Air Sign Aquarius is occupied by the Moon, the cosmic symbol of ceaseless motion.

The Wright Brothers

The grand trine aspect formed by these cosmic symbols in the Air Signs activated the vibratory influences which brought about the invention of heavier than air planes by two American brothers, Wilbur and Orville Wright, and which assured supremacy in the air after the decisive allied victory in World War II.

Now that many of the secrets evolved and perfected during the war can be applied to peacetime aircraft, the longing of humanity throughout the ages "to soar through the air on wings" can become a reality.

As an inhabitant of the Western Hemisphere you have pioneering blood in your veins. You have inherited the pilgrimage urge from your ancestors who, in the quest for new goals, were among the millions who crossed the wide oceans to seek their fortunes in the new land.

Far Horizons

The far horizons continued to beckon, so many of your ancestors left the Atlantic Seaboard, traveling over the Alleghenies toward the basin of the Great Lakes and the waters of the Mississippi.

Some went North, and others went South. The foothills of the Rockies and the Continental Divide became populated. The history books are filled with the names of pioneers with which you doubtless are familiar: Lewis and Clark, Sacajawea, Kit Carson, Fremont, John Colter, Johann Sutter, Jim Bridger, John Wesley Powell, and hundreds of others who explored this nation's mountains, valleys, rivers, and plains —bringing civilization along with fertility from east to west, and north to south.

Your ancestors witnessed the pageant of progress that moved through the days of the Indian and the buffalo to the time of the covered wagons, the bull trains, the trail herds and the steamboats. They saw the muddy track of the stage coach give way to the ballasted right of way of the railroad train. Now their progeny can look on at the pathless skies that are furrowed by the beat of the slashing propellers and the hiss of fiery rockets.

The flight of airplanes has turned the passage of time into a matter of hours instead of months. Covered wagons that left Independence, Missouri, on the way to the Oregon Trail would have covered little more than twenty-five or thirty miles in the time it now takes for a fast passenger plane to traverse the distance from New York to Los Angeles!

Day line steamers that ply the waters of the Hudson River, or the excursion boats on the Ohio, the Mississippi, the Missouri, and the Merrimack accomplish not more than one hundred or one hundred and twenty-five miles in the time that it takes a modern clipper of the air to span the Atlantic to Europe, or hop the Pacific to the Hawaiian Islands.

The Era of Speed and Safety

Travel has indeed unrolled a magic carpet. More and more people are destined to ride on it in the years that are ahead. This does not mean that everyone will travel from place to place on the wings of the wind, and in the comfort provided by capable stewardesses patrolling the aisles of an airplane.

You may never be transported anywhere by an airplane. But aviation is the symbol of the present. It heralds an era of speed and safety. Standing on the observation deck at La Guardia Field in New York, it is possible to see large and small planes from nearby and far off.

There are sky giants of Air France which arrived from Le Havre, Paris, Marseilles, and the French African terminals. Close by are spinning propellers that glisten on the multiple noses of the nacelles on the wings of a ship belonging to the Royal Dutch Airlines.

The mere name brings to mind pictures of quaint Netherlands villages, and of the canal boat population on their slowly moving craft beneath the curved bridges and between the sturdy dykes.

The mind's-eye conjures the rosy cheeks of Dutch girls and boys, walking the rounded cobbles with their klompen, or wooden shoes. The sight of this plane brings memories of colorful tulips, cuddled in their wrappings of green leaves, and appearing to follow the Sun from the time it rises over the Rhine in the east, until it sets beyond the Yssel Meer in the west.

A Dramatic History

The sight of the Dutch Air Line transport stirs up memories of the dramatic history that goes back some twenty-seven years after World War I when the enterprising Hollanders (who three centuries previously had sent Hendriek Hudson to find a northwest passage to India by way of America), saw the airplane as a means of uniting the far-flung domain of Queen Wilhelmina with other nations.

From Amsterdam to Java is halfway around the world. What a vast distance. Planes did well from 1915 to 1918 on the war fronts; but most people were skeptical about the use of aircraft for civilian transportation. The average man on the street, and the shop-keeper in his counting house, was not in any hurry to risk his life merely for the sake of flying at a mile and a half a minute.

Nevertheless the Dutch used the famous Fokker plane to fly to Java. They planned on flying at the rate of about a thousand miles a day. No right-thinking airman thought of flying at night. Therefore, that journey to Java, approximately fourteen thousand miles, was accomplished in exactly fourteen days.

Nowadays there is an air-line which has its home port at Washington, D. C. It guarantees to see you safely around the world, a distance of some 28,000 miles as the plane flies, in a little more than five days. These are scheduled flights, mind you, not mere speed record jaunts by enthusiasts such as the moving picture magnate Howard Hughes, or airmen like the late Wiley Post.

Unprecedented Progress

Now that the Planet Uranus is in the Air Sign Gemini, and Neptune is in the Air Sign Libra, unprecedented progress is being made in the development of aviation. The magic carpet is flying through the air faster than ever. You can get on it within a short distance of your home, for any destination.

Do you wish to go to South America? Then arrange for transportation via the Pan-American Airways which stretches forth tentacles to link this country with Cuba, Hawaii, the Southwest Pacific, and the neighboring republics of South and Central America.

None of these modern magic carpets have sprung into being full-fledged. All needed the same careful weaving, painstaking development, and foresighted planning that are used by the craftsmen working on rugs in the weaving marts of Persia, Armenia, India, and China.

Names of oriental regions, unknown except to travelers returned from long journeys on horseback, on mule-back, or on camel-back are now household words which crop up morning, noon, and night in conversations about friends and neighbors who are borne to these once remote parts of the globe by air in a matter of hours.

Progress in air transport in the United States is being matched successfully by Canada and Mexico. The beckoning fingers of the air lanes of the Trans-Canada Airlines now feel the pulses of American air travel through contact with New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Seattle and other air centers. Craft of the Canadian airlines wing their way from Europe to the eastern borders of the Dominion, across the State of Maine, and through Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto to the cities on the western coast of Canada.

Business Travelers

Business men, who depend for their livelihood on the products of Canadian forests and mines can find themselves at the paper pulp mill or the pit head of a mine within a few hours after leaving their desks in a metropolitan center of the United States.

The ripening yellow grain of the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are no longer a matter of chalked figures on the blackboards of the Pit Exchanges in Winnipeg, Minneapolis or Chicago.

Instead you can see the mile-after-mile vista of waving wheat, tended by sunburned farmers in smooth-running tractors, and dotted with well-filled elevators from the portholes of an airplane. Or you can see them in the cars moving over Canada's railroads to the Lakehead at Fort William and Port Arthur, before being distributed to the hungry world.

Now that aviation is becoming more and more popular as the result of the combined influences generated by Uranus and Neptune in two Air Signs, you can join friends and relatives for a change of scenery that will effectively wipe out the hustle and bustle of the big cities, if only for three or four weeks. Have yourself transported, if you like, to the quiet lake districts of Canada where you can fish and frolic; or visit the high mountain and forest areas along the backbone of the continent where you can seek sport in the search for deer, elk, caribou, or other big game.

All of these benefits are made possible through the modern magic carpet that enables you to reach your rendezvous in jig time. If you are air-minded, you feel more than compensated for your expenditure of money and by the change and the delights that are waiting for you.

Airplanes need not be your only magic carpet, however. The same progress that has seen the development of the Kittyhawk plane flown by the Wright brothers, more than forty years ago, into the sky giant is also supplying America with new means of locomotion by the latest model automobiles, and the most modern railroad trains and steamships.

These, too, may be considered magic carpets to reach parts of old Mother Earth which retain the more leisurely methods of travel.

After a prolonged lull, which was a natural aftermath of World War II, the automobile industry has increased production. Many of America's travel-minded folk are, therefore, climbing into new cars this year, and setting out for the wide open spaces.

The spring house that is fed by the mountain brook which pauses on the rocks before making its musical way to the stream and the river, offers many of the delicacies that are the major attraction of a summer vacation in a rural background. Cows, steers and calves also have resumed the fascinating way they have when you can see them ruminating on the wide-open range lands, as well as in the glass-in refrigerators of butcher shops.

A Streamlined Magic Carpet

All this is bound to contribute to the pleasures of life now that you can drive in a car that has good tires, and a tankful of gas. Whether you go to a near-by market, or start off for a long trip, the automobile can be your streamlined magic carpet!

As an American you are guaranteed inexpensive transportation by the presence of Uranus and Mars in the Sign Gemini, which rules travel, in the nation's natal horoscope.

Uranus rules automotive power, while Mars rules metals and mechanics. Therefore, the inventive genius of America is at your disposal in the matter of automobiles and all other types of vehicles.

As a modern pilgrim, you can use your own private equipage to head toward the New England beaches and pine forests, the Atlantic Highlands of New Jersey, the Catskills and Adirondacks of New York, Lake Champlain or the Great Lakes on the American-Canadian Border, the Civil War Battlefields of Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi and Georgia, or the myriad other attractions on the roads that lead into the Ohio Valley, the blue-grass region of Kentucky, the old mansions of Mississippi and the colorful country of the Ozarks in Missouri and Arkansas.

Modern covered wagons, drawn by anywhere from eighty to a hundred mechanical horses, now stir up the dust on the macadam and asphalt of the modern routes that were once the Santa Fe Trail, the route of the Pony Express, the American-Canadian Highway to Alaska, or the survey courses of the Union Pacific, the Central Pacific, and the other great railroad and telegraph trails of North America.

The coast of Maine, the Maritime provinces of New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia offer many delights. Watch the fisher-folk who ply their trade along the coastal waters and on the Grand Banks south of Newfoundland.

The trails of Nova Scotia also have sights that stimulate thoughts of the early history of Canada. This history is a mixture of French, English and Indians; with memories of Lief the Lucky and Eric the Red who preceded modern Europeans by almost five hundred years.

Stirring Memories

Traveling on your magic carpet, you can find yourself delighted and stirred by the memories of Acadia, linking Canada's Grand Pre with New Orleans. Longfellow's poem Evangeline makes this union famous through the story of a sad romance.

You can visit the shrines at Boston that were British, or other Massachusetts places that were Loyalist, and the people who left the Bay Colony when Warren died at Bunker Hill. The descendants of those Loyalists have found new homes along the coasts of the Maritimes and the eastern edge of the Gaspe country.

Crossing from "English" Canada into Quebec and "French" Canada is a fascinating change in itself. The drumbeat of commerce in Halifax, Digby and Truro gives way to the soft rhythm of French-Canadian women who pound their bread into shape with wooden paddles before sliding it into open-air ovens. Dusty highways, which are accustomed to the hoot of motor horns and the kicking treads of rubber-tired wagons of the modern sons of the voyageurs.

Little girls and boys wave to passing cars from the gaily-painted stiles while they keep an eye on the cattle which may belong to the family, or may be the community property of a village that is as picturesque and colorful as anything in Brittany, Picardy, or the Basque Country of France and Spain.

A Mutual Heritage

The reason for the continuous friendship between Canadians and Americans is based on a mutual cosmic heritage, inasmuch as Canada as well as the United States have Sun in the Sign Cancer in their respective natal horoscopes.

Americans like to visit Canada, while Canadians like to visit the United States. Consequently the magic carpet on which you travel through either country might be shared by American as well as Canadian tourists.

To either group there is great appeal in the changing panorama along the St. Lawrence River, on the northern rim of the Great Lakes, or in the Northwest Territories and the provinces that have been carved out of them. This is an impressive parade of interest and lore to the discerning traveler. It means stories of Father Marquette and Joliet, of La Salle and Radisson, of priests and traders. There is the industrial development of the Hudson's Bay Company, as well as the rise of law and order picturesquely that is presented in the successors of the three hundred odd redcoats who moved into the Northwest nearly seventy-five years ago to become the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Indeed, all you need is the ignition key to the family automobile as the open sesame to these and countless other pleasures in the United States and Canada. Or a reservation, on a steamboat and railroad train, still proud public carriers, are well worthy of being your magic carpets.

Modern travel on river, lake and ocean has shown great progress. Not only have many of the ships now plying the waters exchanged their battleship gray for more colorful hues, but mechanically they have been improved to the point where you may expect a good deal more pleasure, whether your goal is the tree-lined banks of the Hudson, the Ohio, the Mississippi, the Great Lakes, or the more tropical islands of Bermuda, Nassau, and the West Indies. In fact the Caribbean Islands will become increasingly popular among tourists toward the latter part of 1947 when the Planet Jupiter, which symbolizes affluence, enters the Sign Sagittarius which rules far-off places.

During this transit the long-suppressed desire for extended journeys will, in all probability, bring the tourist trade up to a phenomenal record.

The delights anticipated at each journey's end are constantly being increased, as the shadows of war move further and further away from the resorts that were in recent years important chiefly as naval or air bases for the battle-scarred sea routes.

Cruises are no longer confined to the wealthy. They are now coming within the range of the purse and interest of any traveler who is able to pay a few hundred dollars for the cleansing assets of sea air, healthful sunshine, and the tonic sight of new people, new places and new sounds.

Mass production has brought down the price of necessities. This reduction of cost, applied to the travel business, helps people who never expected to get further from their front porches than the mail box at the crossroads. Now the low fare on the magic carpet of travel can bring you quickly and conveniently to the four fascinating corners of the world.

The deck planking of a ship is another magic carpet that's destined to carry American and Canadian tourists to foreign ports; and to weld the bond of fellowship and friendship more strongly than any metalsmith might do with modern tools.

If you do not like the swaying and bobbing of an ocean-going or river-sailing craft beneath your land-legs, the modern railroad trains are the ultimate solution to the travel problem.

Following the pattern successfully developed for more than twenty years by railroads in Canada, American railroad officials have come to realize that when a traveler wants to go from Coast to Coast, there should be through trains. The days are gone when it was necessary for a tourist from the East going West, or vice versa, to stop at Chicago or St. Louis for a change of trains.

Also reclining coach seats have solved the problem of how to rest while "sitting up" on a train. Nurses on some extra fare trains help young mothers with their children, giving a new meaning to the word service. A vacation under such circumstances has become a real rest.

Courtesies and Conveniences

When you step on the magic carpet of transportation these days, you can experience the welcome return of many courtesies and convenience. It can whisk you to your destination while you sleep on an air-filled mattress, and in an air-conditioned compartment.

When you arrive where you wish to go you are in a happy mood. You realize that farmers, ranchers, industrialists, bankers, merchants—and the other folk who work or merely live on their income—are helping by their appreciation and support of these conveniences to make transportation facilities the modest modern and the most efficient in the world.

This is a wonderful time of opportunity, while the Planet Pluto is united through sextile aspect with Uranus and Neptune. Saturn also participates in these harmonious vibratory influences inasmuch as it occupies the Sign Leo which rules romance and juveniles, the same zodiacal locality where Pluto will reside for another score of years.

Therefore, the young folk of the world will find the magic carpet of travel, that is now in the process of being modernized, as simple and convenient to use as you find trains, steamships, automobiles, and airplanes. See the world, and enjoy what you see, while you travel on the most recent version of the universal magic carpet!

Annual Forecast for Aries

By JOHN E. RAWSON

TRY to be patient and wise during 1947 though it may be difficult to understand what some people mean. Otherwise the exceedingly tense vibrations generated by the conjunction of Pluto and Saturn in your solar Fifth House, which rules your emotions and investments, may cause confusion about love and money. Don't become annoyed or upset.

Also under these vibratory rays you may not feel that you are receiving the fullest measure of satisfaction from your labors. Nevertheless, refrain from stalling on your job because, to obtain proper results, it is necessary to consider every occupational as well as financial angle with slow and deliberate care.

The Planet Jupiter resides in your solar Eighth House, which rules savings and benefits from other people. This transit, which continues until the last week of October, 1947, shows the importance of not exaggerating the values of your financial assets. Refuse to take undue risks of any kind, and handle business matters with firmness.

A Favorable Cycle

After October when Jupiter enters your solar Ninth House, which rules travel and intuitions, your ideas about journeys and correspondence should have much merit. During this transit Jupiter will be in harmonious trine aspect with your Sun Sign, signifying a favorable cycle to make good use of your talents, and of your inherent sincerity toward those who can aid you to realize a cherished ambition. Fine opportunities to meet clever people may come from the most unexpected sources.

However, during February and March, 1948, Jupiter opposes Uranus. As a result of this configuration, your mind may be in a rather restless state.

There may be irritations in your home or at your place of business. Despite these hectic conditions, try to keep unruffled. The best way to improve any domestic situation is to refrain from forcing issues, or from delivering an unpleasant ultimatum.

The Grand Trine

Willingness to cooperate, combined with your innate understanding of human nature, should make you find a good opening in a large organization. This may occur subsequent to the latter part of 1947 when the grand trine is formed by the Ascendant of your Sun Sign with Jupiter, Saturn, and Pluto.

The array of experiences you may encounter as the result of the planetary transits in your solar horoscope during the twelve months following your current birthday are delineated clearly in the month by month interpretations which follow.

APRIL, 1947: An ambition, which you cherished for a long time, may be realized with considerable satisfaction as the result of the beneficial vibrations generated by the Mars-Jupiter trine aspect on the 7th. This favorable configuration unites your Ninth House which rules inspired ideals, with your Twelfth House which rules unexpected happenings.

Another significant planetary combination, that points to success, is the Mars-Saturn trine on the 14th. This influence is favorable to enroll for a special course of study in dramatic art, or to use your aptitude for making decorative articles. The opportunity to sell at a profit what you produce by using your talents with inspired and competent skill may come before the month closes.

The last week of April is under the combined influences of Mars, Pluto, Venus, Saturn, Mercury and Uranus through harmonious sextile or trine aspects. As a result of these favorable vibrations you might realize an unexpected promotion, accompanied by an increase of popularity. Nevertheless this ascension to a higher status in your career may involve several important obligations.

However, you should be able to turn every assignment into an asset.

MAY, 1947: The work you are doing may undergo a stimulating change during the first week of May, due to the harmonious Mars-Uranus sextile aspect. Your job should prove interesting inasmuch as Uranus is the cosmic symbol of inspiration, and Mars is the cosmic symbol of initiative. Efficiency, activated by these Planets, should enable you to make headway in your occupation.

On the 11th you might be tremendously popular at a social festivity because of your ability to bring out the best talents in others, as the result of the Venus-Uranus sextile which is exact on this date. This aspect also may help you win the chance to learn a productive skill at a school that offers special scholarships.

When Venus conjoins Mars on the 18th, be on guard against your own impulsiveness. If you are too rash, you might make a mistake or take an unnecessary risk.

Matters associated with your income, speculation, education, and the affairs of young people are under the adverse influence of the Mars-Saturn square aspect on the 26th. See that you are not fooled by a beguiling stranger. The more glowing the offer, the more reason you have to be beware of it.

JUNE, 1947: The probable feeling that you are being prodded and pushed into drastic changes is due to the erratic vibrations created by the Mars-Pluto square, and the Venus-Jupiter opposition on the 5th. Avoid the risk of emotional excitement. Also take care of tax voucher and insurance premiums. Any negligence in financial matters would decrease your savings. Be prompt in paying bills so that you can earn discounts.

Do not be snared into signing a promissory note or in otherwise jeopardizing your assets on the 15th when Mars opposes Jupiter, and Uranus is in double parallel aspect with the Sun and Mercury. Since important facts may be misrepresented, insist on getting the truth. However, the Mercury-Jupiter trine on the 16th is favorable for using information that is reliable.

Mercury and Mars are in sextile aspect on the 17th, and again on the 24th. As a result, a favorable change in your plans may take place during this cycle. An opportunity to augment your income, or the chance to move to improved business quarters may begin a train of important and beneficial events in your career.

The Sun is in square formation with Neptune on the last day of June. Therefore, postpone a social plan that is scheduled for this date, if possible because entertainment is likely to prove costly and unsatisfactory.

JULY, 1947: Saturn and Neptune are in sextile configuration on the first day of July. The stimulus you receive from this vibratory impact should enhance your ambition. Use dramatic appeal to win a prized objective.

On the 12th, under the influence of the Mars-Pluto trine, you may be asked to speak in public about a youth organization. The audience response to your message should heighten your prestige.

Keep out of questionable business competion on the 15th, while Venus is in square aspect with Neptune. If you doubt the integrity of a project, be sure to investigate it before you invest in it.

Show your pioneering initiative while Mars is in sextile formation with Pluto on the 18th. If necessary, go on a trip which is intended to bring a series of favorable personal and business developments.

The Mercury-Jupiter trine aspect on the 29th is an harmonious influence for home matters, business prospects, and financial favors. Take care of business correspondence. Transactions negotiated through the mail might result in profitable expansion. Or you may obtain work that pays well, through the kindness of an acquaintance for whom you did a favor in the past.

AUGUST, 1947: Do not become upset about the actions of a friend or member of your family when Mars is conjoined and parallel Uranus on the 5th. The matter can blow over peacefully, if you refrain from adding fuel to the fire through uncontrolled excitement. The Sun-Pluto conjunction on the 6th is an adverse aspect for a needless misunderstanding with a juvenile. Sacrifice your pride to keep peace.

Your love of varied experiences should be satisfied on the 15th, when animating vibrations are generated by the Mercury-Neptune sextile. You may experience an unusually strong feeling of comradeship with an associate. This requited devotion should lead to broader social horizons.

Uranus is in sextile aspect with Venus on the 22nd, and with Mercury on the 24th. Therefore a pleasure trip that is connected with an educational program should give you needed diversion. Visit an historic scene where dramatic action took place, with the idea of gathering data for a magazine article.

Do not become so enthused about prospective good fortune, however, that you neglect opportunities in your immediate environment. Think of your job, and take care of immediate tasks, to the exclusion of time-consuming diversions.

SEPTEMBER, 1947: On the first day of September, when Mercury and Mars form a sextile aspect, you may have an opportunity to take a skill test for a more lucrative job. Your conscientious attention to duty should make a good impression on an executive. This may be a stepping stone to a new and interesting type of work.

A co-worker may give you good advice about cash on the 8th, when Venus-Mars sextile occurs. This might take the form of recommending a good merchandising method, or information about where to get a bargain.

You may enjoy the company of an elderly visitor while the Venus-Jupiter sextile is in effect on the 13th. This guest, who is widely traveled, may thrill you with anecdotes about a far-away land.

Avoid getting into bad humor on the 17th, due to the erratic vibrations created by the Mercury-Neptune conjunction. If someone contradicts your statements, do not get into an argument. Check your facts to make certain you are correct. You may be the one who is misinformed.

Look for new business, even if you have to cover a lot of territory through travel, while Mars is trine aspect with Jupiter, and Mercury is in sextile aspect with Pluto on the 20th. Or send out circulars to prospective customers. The results may prove profitable.

You may be made happy by a demonstration of your popularity while Mercury and Uranus are in trine formation on the 28th. This may be arranged by friends who wish to celebrate the honor you receive.

OCTOBER, 1947: While Mercury and Mars are in square configuration on the 1st, be skeptical about a speculative plan that promises wonderful financial returns. The promoter of the scheme may profit by the deal—not you.

You may have a chance to increase your popularity on the 10th, due to the magnetic vibrations generated by the Venus-Uranus trine aspect.

On the 13th, while Mercury is parallel Jupiter, and in square aspect with Pluto, someone in hard luck may excite your compassion. Show your sympathy by giving practical help. Do this in a quiet way, so as to avoid embarrassing the recipient.

While Mars is sextile Neptune, and the Sun is trine Uranus on the 20th, a splendid opportunity for business promotion may come through the helpful consideration of an associate. Don't lose it through pre-occupation with unimportant matters. Give full attention to your job.

Saturn is in square aspect with Mercury on the 26th and with Venus on the 30th. Consequently your interest in another person's welfare might cause you to appear domineering. If your suggestions meet with disapproval, drop the matter because insistence on your part would arouse open resentment.

NOVEMBER, 1947: Do not try to dominate anyone in a business matter while Mercury and Mars are in square aspect on the 1st of November. Even if your view is the right one, it would be difficult to convince others of the fact. The Mercury-Pluto square configuration on the 4th also is an adverse aspect for winning cooperation and for obtaining helpful attention.

While Venus and Jupiter are conjoined on the 9th, your initiative should bring worthwhile results; but refrain from being optimistic about quick profits.

You may be pulled between a feeling of fatigue that warns you to relax; and a sense of duty that urges you to work to the limit of endurance when Mars joins Saturn on the 12th. Compromise between jobs by taking extra time for rest.

Adhere to established customs while the Sun-Saturn square prevails on the 15th. If you depart from the usual procedures, your attitude might be criticized. The favorable vibrations of the Venus-Pluto trine aspect on the 18th, however, should aid you in making a good impression on those who count.

The Mars-Uranus sextile on the 19th indicates that you may be in the limelight. Do everything with the utmost care, however, so as to create a good impression. Any digression from what is expected of you may boomerang against you socially, due to the Mars-Saturn and the Venus-Uranus parallels on the same date.

Venus opposes Uranus, and Mercury is in square configuration with Pluto on the 26th. During these configurations avoid unnecessary contact with fault-finding people. You likely will feel exceedingly sensitive to criticism.

DECEMBER, 1947: You might be tempted to take a speculative chance when the Sun conjoins Jupiter on the first, followed by the square formation between Mercury and Saturn on the 2nd. Resist the impulse to make an unwise investment which might end in loss.

Your major activities will likely be centered on your career, as indicated by the Mercury-Mars square aspect on the 9th. Be cautious in any undertaking of which you have nominal or actual charge.

Be exact in making out an expense account or financial estimate on the 10th, due to the adverse vibrations generated by the Venus-Neptune square aspect. If you fail to be specific, you would create the impression of carelessness. Insist on equal accuracy in information that is proffered by others.

You should be able to assert your independence with singular success while the Sun-Saturn trine and the Mercury-Neptune sextile prevail on the 15th. However, since the Sun opposes Uranus on the following day, it would be risky to allow yourself to become involved in an irresponsible money scheme that is operated at a distance.

Make out a new budget system on the 21st, while Jupiter is in sextile aspect with Neptune and Mercury is in trine aspect with Saturn.

Be tolerant with a neighbor to prevent minor gossip from assuming exaggerated importance on the 22nd, while Mercury opposes Uranus.

Career prestige and augmented income are tied up with the Mercury-Mars trine on the 31st. The vibrations of this aspect also are favorable for seeing the Old Year out, and welcoming with joy the New Year with your close friends and family.

JANUARY, 1948: The trine aspect formed by Venus with Neptune, and the square aspect between Mercury and Neptune on the 4th create confusing vibrations. As a result you might feel inclined to be visionary unless you try to modify your idealistic moods by being more skeptical. This is particularly necessary in regard to partnership arrangements. Make every effort to manage joint funds with competent skill.

Mars turns retrograde in your solar Sixth House, which rules your job, after the 9th of January. This may cause you to focus your attention more intensely on employment problems. Watch all duties carefully so that you need not do anything which might displease those with whom you work.

On the 23rd Venus opposes Mars. Therefore, do not fritter away time and mental power in pursuit of pleasure which may prove worthless.

On the 28th Mercury is in trine formation with Uranus, animating your mental faculties so that you feel inspired to accomplish your heart's desire. You should have the inspired power to achieve satisfactory results in buying and selling. Therefore, dispose of possessions if a profitable opportunity arises. Then invest the cash in furnishings and repairs that can improve your domestic surroundings, or help your business.

FEBRUARY, 1948: The square aspect between Venus and Uranus on the 5th indicates the necessity of avoiding a dispute with someone concerning money. Even if you are right, an argument might weaken your position, or be the cause of strained relations with an associate.

An opposition is in effect between Jupiter and Uranus during most of February. Be satisfied with things as they are rather than reach outside of your circle for more ambitious attainment.

If you are planning a journey you may experience some disappointment or delay in finding adequate travel accommodations. Also in collecting data or information, be sure to gather only facts that are useful for the required purpose.

The vibrations created by Mars and Jupiter in trine configuration after the middle of the month, can be a helpful factor in your aspirations for success in a group activity. Nevertheless, take stock of your qualifications to get along with others. Also promote an agreeable attitude toward new acquaintances so as to promote your popularity.

News, for which you have been waiting, may arrive suddenly toward the close of February while Mercury and Jupiter are in sextile aspect.

MARCH, 1948: On the 2nd, while Venus and Mars are in trine aspect, you may experience much pleasure by receiving a favor from a friend. Or if you have been working at cross purposes with an associate, try to make an adjustment now since it should be easy to arrive at a better understanding.

A member of your family for whose financial integrity you vouched in the past, may volunteer to perform a similar service for you.

Toward the middle of March, while Mercury is in sextile aspect with Jupiter, you should be able to do your work with such efficiency that you are cited for promotion. This good fortune may come suddenly.

On the 25th, when Venus is in square formation with Mars, you may take an interest in someone of whom your immediate family disapproves. Or an acquaintance may try to take advantage of your generosity. Take the necessary steps to prevent further impositions by arranging to hold on to the benefits which you have earned.

Toward the end of March an experienced person may help you to expedite an arduous task. Nevertheless it may take substantial effort on your part to bring the job to completion. Stick to the assignment because persistence should aid you to see it through.

☆ A Sign-by-Sign summary of both the good qualities and the faults which are associated with each solar group

Your Inherent Birth Traits

By ERWIN A. TIBER

THE basic qualities of your character, personality, and temperament were established at the instant of your birth. The pattern for the development of your inherent traits and abilities was as clear then as it exists right now.

Any astrologer could have delineated your horoscope as easily within the starting hours of your life as it can be done at this moment.

You are a composite human being as the result of the dual endowments bestowed on you by the cosmic radiations. Some belong in one category; some in another.

You may be aware of the different traits which comprise your nature; or you might be oblivious of them.

Nevertheless they exist in one form or another, each contributing to what you wish to be, as well as to what you become involuntarily as the result of your inherent impulses.

Astrology makes it possible to define these combined traits. With no more data than the time and place of your birth, a horoscope chart can be calculated showing the exact position of the Sun, Moon, and Planets. These suffice to explain everything about the various phases of your life.

Although such a chart is not available for a general synopsis, nevertheless it is possible to describe several of your distinguishing attributes with a few contrasting terms, since the effect of cosmic vibrations is like a see-saw which has a downward swing as well as its upward arc.

As you know, the Zodiac is divided into twelve different sections. These are called Signs of the Zodiac. The complete Zodiac consists of 360 degrees. Therefore, each Sign occupies thirty degrees of this enormous celestial circle.

Each Sign has its own identity, its own characteristics, its own symbol, and its own celestial ruler. Knowing the date of your birth, you can easily ascertain the position of the Sun in the Zodiac, and some of the outstanding facts pertaining to this relationship.

When you know your faults, you can find a way to correct them!

An easy way to familiarize yourself with your inherent birth traits is through this simplified description of the dual qualities associated with your Sun Sign.

Rhythm in Your Horoscope

LOVE of music is inherent, but not everyone likes the same type of music. Astrology associates the different musical preferences with the aspect formed by the Planet Venus in the natal horoscope. If you like swing music, the probability is that Venus is allied through close zodiacal formation with Mercury or Uranus in your birth chart.

Religious music is associated with Venus-Saturn vibrations, while grand opera is under the jurisdiction of Venus and Neptune.

Baritone and contralto voices are ruled by the Planet Saturn. Coloratura sopranos and lyric tenors are ruled by the Planet Mercury. Lyric sopranos are ruled by the Planet Venus.

Dramatic tenors and dramatic sopranos are ruled by Mars, while bassos are ruled by the Planet Pluto.

The Planet Jupiter, in relation with one or more of these Planets, accounts for the financial success derived from tonal resonance or the skillful playing of a musical instrument.

The pattern of the Universe offers an intriguing challenge to the imagination of all mankind! ☆

The Discovery of New Planets

By IRENE L. COOKE

WORDS used in astronomy are intended to have a descriptive significance. The Word Sun, derived from the Anglo Saxon, means a luminous celestial body. Its symbol is ⊙.

The word Star also is derived from the Anglo-Saxon, meaning luminous celestial body. Like the Sun, the Stars generate their own heat and light. Therefore, they are self-illuminating. In point of fact, they Sun actually is a Star.

The word Moon, derived from the Anglo Saxon, is a rather oblique description of the satellite which revolves around the Earth in a periodic orbital transit of approximately four weeks. The word month is derived from this source. The symbol of the Moon is ☽.

The word Planet is derived from the Greek. It means wanderer. In astronomy this term is used to describe the celestial bodies which revolve around a central luminary.

The Known Planets

The Earth is a Planet. It revolves around the Sun. The other known Planets in the Solar System are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, and Pluto.

Astronomers as well as astrologers believe that additional Planets will be discovered during the next few years as the result of refinements in telescopic instruments. They cannot be seen at the present time because Planets only shine by reflected light. The Stars are brilliant as the result of their own luminosity.

Until the latter years of the Eighteenth Century, only six Planets of the total of nine in the Solar System were known. Even the ancients were familiar with these six Planets because they could be seen by the naked eye.

This group of Planets consisted of Mercury, nearest to the Sun; Venus, the brightest celestial orb in the sky aside from the Sun and Moon; the Earth, which is third in distance from the Sun; Mars, fourth in the Series; Jupiter, the largest Planet in the Solar System; and Saturn, encircled by its glorious ring of brightly shining particles.

A Momentous Discovery

Then a momentous discovery was made by William Herschel, the great German astronomer who found sanctuary in England after having to flee from his native land for political reasons.

After long study, and painstaking calculations, he decided that there was a Planet —or sky wanderer—outside the Saturn orbit. One evening, with just an ordinary pair of binoculars, William Herschel glimpsed this remote Planet. It is almost two billion miles distance from the Sun, 34,000 miles in diameter, and requires about eighty-four years for one complete journey around the Zodiac.

At first this Planet was named after King George, the reigning monarch of Great Britain. Some people called it Herschel, in honor of the astronomer who discovered it. Later the name Uranus was bestowed on it as being more appropriate, yet the H formation was retained as part of its identifying symbol which is ♅.

Amazing Deductions

More than a half century passed during which time astronomers continued to search for more Planets. Finally the search was rewarded by the amazing deductions of two mathematicians—John Couch Adams, an English astronomer; and Urbain Jean J. Leverrier, noted French astronomer.

With the data supplied independently by these two mathematicians, neither of whom knew that the other was working on that particular research problem, the astronomers at Greenwich Observatory in England were able to locate in 1946 the eighth major Planet, far outside the orbit of Uranus. Its distance from the Sun is almost three billion miles; its diameter about 33,000 miles; and its journey around the Sun requires almost 165 years before it returns to the same zodiacal area.

This Planet was named Neptune, in honor of the deity whose trident can subdue the waves. Astronomers and astrologers adopted this ancient symbol in behalf of the Planet Neptune, as shown here: ♆.

The Ninth Planet

Another long stretch of years passed until the discovery of the ninth Planet in 1930, based on the data supplied by a score of years earlier by the American astronomer, Professor Percival Lowell. This Planet was named immediately, after the deity Pluto. Its approximate distance from the Sun is more than three and a half billion miles, and it has an orbital track so vast that almost two hundred and fifty years are required to complete one zodiacal trip.

Some confusion exists as to the correct symbol identification. However, many astrologers believe that its similarity to the Planet Mars should be considered by a related symbol, like this: ♂

The Planetary Pattern

What is most intriguing about the planetary pattern is the related distance and size, as can be seen easily by comparison.

Starting with the Planet Mercury, the smallest of the major Planets, is Mercury. Its diameter is only 3000 miles, and it requires 88 days to make one complete trip around the Sun, from which it is separated by 36,000,000 miles. The symbol of Mercury is ☿.

Then comes Venus. Its approximate distance from the Sun is almost twice that of Mercury, and in size it is somewhat smaller than the Earth. It travels at the rate of 288 days around the Zodiac. The symbol of Venus is ♀.

The Earth is the third of the minor Planets. It is known as the Planet Terra. Its diameter is 25,000 miles, and its distance from the Sun is about 93,000,000 miles. It requires approximately 365 days to complete its entire orbit, which is equivalent to one terrestrial year. The symbol of the Earth is ⊕.

The Planet Mars comes next. Its diameter is only a little over four thousand miles; its orbit is 667 days; and its distance from the Sun is somewhat under a hundred and fifty million miles. The symbol of Mars is ♂.

The Largest Planet

The Planet Jupiter is the first large major Planet. It is separated from Mars by many millions of miles of celestial space which is filled with hundreds of asteroids. There is no doubt that these are fragments of a large celestial body which was shattered in the far-distant past.

The orbit of Jupiter is so large that the Planet requires almost a dozen years to make a full journey. Its distance from the Sun is about 483,000,000 miles; and its diameter is almost 87,000 miles, which makes it the largest Planet of the Solar System. The symbol of Jupiter is ♃.

The sixth Planet is Saturn. It is almost as large as Jupiter, since it measures about 75,000 miles at the equator. The distance between the Sun and Saturn is approximately eight hundred and eighty-six million miles, and it requires almost thirty years for one orbital journey. The symbol of Saturn is ♄.

An Intriguing Challenge

This pattern shows that the Planets increase in size as they recede in distance from the Sun, until the largest diameter is achieved by Jupiter which occupies the middle position in the planetary group.

Then they begin to decrease in size, becoming smaller until Pluto is reached. This, the outermost Planet, is only a trifle larger than Mercury, the first major Planet.

What will be revealed after the new Planets are discovered is an intriguing challenge to the imagination!

A Friendly Lady

By E. R. McKEON

ANYONE who is acquainted with Anita Mason regards her as a friendly and gracious person. An astrological analysis of her horoscope corroborates this, and reveals other facts about her character with which many who believe they know her well are not familiar. Mrs. Mason was born June 3, 1910.

The spontaneous friendliness is shown by the Moon in the Fire Sign Aries, in sextile aspect with the Sun in the Air Sign Gemini. This solar-lunar relationship shows a great deal of gaiety and considerable restlessness inasmuch as the Sign Aries rules adventure, while the Sign Gemini rules mental and manual action.

A Good Dancer

Articulate speech is the medium through which she expresses herself best, but she also dances exceedingly well, and she is very dextrous with her hands. Among her other attractions is her unerring sense of balanced decorative combinations, as shown by Jupiter in the Sign Libra which rules artistic effects. She is able to give her friends valuable advice about the interior appearance of their homes, as the result of this planetary influence.

Also she is a born hostess, as shown by the Mars-Neptune conjunction in the Sign Cancer which rules domesticity. However, there are times when her hospitable inclinations are diverted by events over which she has no control, due to the Mars-Neptune opposition with the Planet Uranus in the Sign Capricorn which rules public responsibilities.

Therefore, she often has to relinquish plans for entertaining friends and relatives in her home, in deference to the obligations imposed on her as the wife of an important business executive.

She knows how to use her money wisely, as shown by Saturn, the Moon's North Node, and Mercury in the Sign Taurus which rules wealth. However, she is not very prudent in her investments, nor does she save enough cash for future needs, as indicated by the Moon's South Node in the Sign Scorpio which rules assets.

She also can become ardent and enthusiastic about casual acquaintances, and then lose interest in them just as quickly, as shown by the square aspect between Venus in Aries with Uranus in Capricorn.

Razor-Sharp Wit

Another important vibratory influence in her birth chart is the presence of Pluto in the Sign Gemini, at a considerable distance from her natal Sun. This position of Pluto enables her to stand aloof from her surroundings, as it were, and to evaluate them.

She understands people and their motives, but she is too suave and tactful to tell them what she thinks. Occasionally, however, her razor sharp wit and her sarcasm get out of bounds as the result of the Cardinal Sign cross formed by conjoined Mars-Neptune, with Venus and Uranus.

The wide zodiacal opposition between the Moon and Jupiter turn this cross aspect into a Cardinal Sign grand square, accentuating Anita Mason's ambition, initiative, progressiveness, and independence.

She can be a first class organizer when she cares to manage any project in which she is interested. This ability, together with her friendliness, are the most significant dynamics of her personality—and the links she uses most to keep her allied with the enjoyments of life!

Your Star of Courage

By NEWTON L. FULLER

ONE of the most spectacular epics of personal courage, outside the realm of war, is that of Admiral Richard E. Byrd during his second Antarctic Expedition in 1934.

Admiral Byrd demonstrated his bravery in May 1926 when he and the famous aviator, Floyd Bennett, flew over the North Pole. This was a history-making flight since it was the first time that an airplane was used to transport explorers over the wastelands of the polar regions.

In his first Antarctic Expedition, 1928-1930, Admiral Byrd again used air power. This time it was to fly over the South Pole.

Then, in 1933 Admiral Byrd left for the Antarctic zone on his Second South Pole Expedition. This time he planned a rather unusual experiment which, he believed would add immeasurably to the scientific knowledge of atmospheric and other conditions in the Antarctic.

Antarctic Ordeal

What Admiral Byrd intended to do was to live alone for six months, during the entire Antarctic Night while the Sun was invisible, close to the South Pole. All preparations were made in advance. When the appointed time came, Admiral Byrd was flown to an advance base with what was considered sufficient margin of food and fuel to live in a specially built hut until a specified day several months hence when the Sun would once more be visible above the horizon.

Everything went well for some weeks. Then several minor mishaps occurred which, under ordinary circumstances would not have amounted to anything, but which as the result of the conditions under which Admiral Byrd was living mounted to such a crescendo of horror that his sanity as well as his very life were threatened.

That he survived the ordeals through which he had to pass was the result of self-disciplined courage that seems almost beyond belief.

It has been said that what Admiral Byrd attempted was useless and foolhardy. Be that as it may, he had the superhuman endurance and ability to overcome the seering experiences which could have ended in collapse and death. This shows that he possessed amazing qualities.

Admiral Byrd's Horoscope

At his birth on October 25, 1888 at Winchester, Virginia, the Sun and Venus were in the Sign Scorpio which rules the secrets of existence. This Sign is governed by the Planet Pluto, the cosmic symbol of awareness. Pluto was in the Sign Gemini which rules the intellect, in exact conjunction with the Planet Neptune, the cosmic symbol of intuition.

Therefore, Admiral Byrd has the mental ingenuity as well as the perceptive instincts to organize unusual projects. That he would be able to use these attributes on a large scale to carry out an international project is shown by the Planet Jupiter, the cosmic symbol of wealth, in the Sign Sagittarius which rules far off places and long journeys.

Venus, the cosmic symbol of love, was at the cusp of the Sign Sagittarius. This shows that he would have the loyalty and support of many enthusiastic sponsors in the development of his ambitious program.

The Planet Uranus, cosmic symbol of inventiveness, was in the Sign Libra which rules balanced judgment; while the Planet Saturn, cosmic symbol of sustained endeavor, was in the Sign Leo which rules authority and leadership.

The Moon, cosmic symbol of sensitivity, was in the Sign Cancer which rules domesticity. Therefore, Admiral Byrd feels at home wherever he happens to "hang his hat."

The Planet Mars, cosmic symbol of courage, was in the Sign Capricorn which rules large enterprises. That is why this distinguished explorer had to do everything on a grand scale.

There is close kinship between all the cosmic symbols in Admiral Byrd's horoscope, particularly so between the Sun and Moon which were in harmonious trine aspect. However, the Moon was in square aspect with Mars, which in turn was in favorable sextile aspect with the Sun. This vibratory alliance constitutes a strong triangle of power.

The Moon-Mars square accounts for the heating equipment in his little dwelling becoming defective, endangering his life through the escape of noxious gases as well as through exposure to the frigid atmosphere.

He became ill and weak, with no one around to care for him. Yet that extra degree of mental courage, is shown by the Sun's sextile with Mars in his solar Third House which rules the mind. This aided him as a supportive influence even though he had lost control of coherent thought and motion for several hours when his plight had reached its worst stage.

The autobiography by Admiral Byrd, describing his experiences during his Second Antarctic Expedition in detail, is a thrilling story of modern heroism. It should be read with admiration and appreciation by every American who takes pride in the authentic courage and unblemished honor of a great fellow citizen.

Some day a monument will be erected to this famous explorer who might have perished at the moment of achieving his most intrepid undertaking. His name and deeds will be lauded in many memorable speeches, and his bravery will be exalted. That is as it should be because it was Admiral Byrd's inherent courage which saved him from disaster as it may do again this year during his third South Pole expedition.

But neither statue nor oratory can pay sufficient homage to the suffering he endured, nor to the valor which impelled him to perform several impromptu deeds of heroism—among which was the rescue from the icy antarctic waters of a sailor who had fallen overboard.

The Source of Courage

So it is with every human being. Once or twice in your life time you do something memorable to exemplify your resourcefulness. There are hundreds of episodes, however, that require even greater courage; but these are seldom remembered by anyone. Even you forget about them sooner or later because you have so many other, more recent, things to think about.

However, the source of courage in your nature is unfathomable because it became part of your nature at birth. Sometimes you need this valor more than any other faculty because it gives you the stamina to work—and to try to win whatever you believe is worth while striving for.

Without work, sustained by courage, there can be no victory. Everything you do is the result of effort, and this effort is stimulated by the vibrations of the Planet Mars which in your natal horoscope as well as during its current transits symbolizes the reservoir of human strength and dynamic energy. So potent is the power generated by Mars that it can be compared to the eternal flame which warms the temper as well as the temperature of living beings!

You would be like an inert log if it were not for the warmth and impulsiveness instilled in you by the vibrations of Mars which, appropriately, is called the Star of Courage.

Therefore, whatever Sign of the Zodiac was occupied by the Planet Mars at the time of your birth, that is the zone which is impregnated most with its stimulating force.

Mars in Your Horoscope

You can ascertain the position of this Planet in your horoscope by consulting the accompanying ephemeris which contains all zodiacal transits from 1865 to 1947, inclusive.

For easy reference the following interpretations of Mars influences, in its phases as the Star of Courage, starts with the Sign Aries and continues in order through the entire series of the twelve Signs. This should enable you to find the description and placement of Mars in your own birth chart as well as in that of anyone else—ranging from the senior generation to the infant born yesterday, or of any baby who will be born before the end of this year.

With this information at your disposal, you can have a better idea of your own brand of bravery as well as a reliable measure to size up the valor of friends, relatives, and neighbors. Their exact birth dates can furnish a clue to the benefits bestowed by the Star of Courage.

THE PLANET MARS
in the Sign Aries

YOU are an enthusiastic, impulsive, and aggressive person since at your birth the Planet Mars, which represents the fire elements of the Solar System, occupied the Fire Sign Aries.

Your courage manifests itself through impetuous action, and in attempting to overcome obstacles that seem well-nigh impossible. Your very audacity is the signal of conquest. You march against any foe, no matter how formidable, as if you were unaware of fear or the danger of defeat.

The abundance of your vivacity is almost inexhaustible, and you enjoy pleasures that allow you to enter into competition with others who possess an equal amount of zest.

You get a great deal of exhilaration out of life, but you need to be careful not to be too rash. Exuberance under self-control can be an asset, but when it is allowed to go to extremes it can become as much of a fault as is an inclination toward violence or an utter disregard of threatened accidents.

Whenever you feel excessively restless and impatient, remember that this mood can become a liability instead of a blessing as your vivacity should be because of its direct derivation at your birth from the dynamic power of the Star of Courage.

THE PLANET MARS
in the Sign Taurus

DETERMINATION and persistence are the qualities that keep you going long after most people would give up in despair. Even when things seem tough, you do not know how to quit.

This earnestness is due to the fact that the fire vibrancies of the Planet Mars, transmitted through the earth elements of the Sign Taurus, produce a solidifying effect. Therefore, you know how to adhere with the utmost firmness to anything you attempt.

You like to pursue your own way, regardless of argument. You usually succeed in your purpose because you are impervious to thwarting interference. Your courage is the kind that is not squandered on trifles. It is strong and sturdy.

Some of your greatest victories are achieved in the management of money inasmuch as the Sign Taurus rules wealth. As an economist you can be pugnacious and enterprising. However, some of your investments can be unwise and imprudent since you dislike to follow advice that is contrary to your own ideas.

Any opportunity that comes along to be generous finds you ready and willing to contribute cash as well as time. Nevertheless, you believe that you are entitled to expect tangible results from such a donation because even your investments in philanthropy are motivated by prudence. You have strong reliance on the motto that "discretion is the better part of valor!"

THE PLANET MARS
in the Sign Gemini

INTELLECTUALLY you are prepared to tackle any hazard inasmuch as the Sign Gemini rules the mind. You are outspoken and witty, yet you are alert when you have to tackle anything risky.

Those with whom you work know that you never hesitate when it is necessary to match your mental or manual skill against anyone. You can engineer yourself out of any dilemma because you are ingenious and clever.

Supplementing your basic ability is acquired knowledge. That is why you are never taken unawares when a sudden demand is made on your courage. No matter how vacillating you appear, you can come to an instant decision under the stress of sudden trouble. The quickness of your mental reactions are almost phenomenal.

You are a strong advocate of original ideas, and an ardent believer in democratic privileges. With these attributes as props of your temperament, you have the courage to do what you deem essential to stimulate expanding patriotic fervor among large and small groups.

Also the swiftness of your thoughts can be exceptionally valuable when you are confronted with complex problems, or when you have to get out of a traffic jam. Your penetrative mind and whirlwind deductions are a most successful combination, conferred on you by the Star of Courage.

THE PLANET MARS
in the Sign Cancer

WHAT pleases you most is that you can fool a lot of people by giving the impression that you are timid, and then surprise them with the boldness and independence of your actions.

You possess this dual quality inasmuch as the constituents of the Planet Mars are fiery, while those of the Sign Cancer are watery. You know how to restrain your impulsiveness.

However, few can compare with you when it comes to the display of tenacity. You appear easy-going and ambling. Nevertheless you can hold on to anything that you grasp with such adhesive retentiveness that it is hard to wrest it from you. When you wish to relinquish your hold, you do so of your own accord.

The same tendency keeps you at your job. You can be industrious and proficient so long as you are interested in what you are doing, but when you lose your enthusiasm you can drop your vocation without the slightest hesitation, even if you have nothing else in sight from which to derive steady compensation.

You are equally willing to make domestic changes when necessary because you see no reason to stay in one place if there is an opportunity to become attached to other surroundings. You are staunch, true and courageous, but you can shift your ideas with the tides of your changing emotions.

in the Sign Leo

SO FEARLESS is your nature that you exert an aura of confidence wherever you are. People respond to you as they do to warmth on a cold day because of the double fire in your nature —since both the Planet Mars and the Sign Leo are imbued with fiery elements.

This combined influence causes you to be an extrovert. You never hide behind subtle inferences, and you like to be entirely open and aboveboard in your business transactions.

When you give a promise, you keep it even though it entails a sacrifice on your part. You cannot bear to associate with anyone who resorts to deception, and you are equally unwilling to become entangled in enigmatic or elusive conditions. You are forth-right, honorable, sincere, and proud.

Affection is the medium through which you express yourself best. You love to be loved, but you also love to love because you have an instinct for radiant romance. While you give your heart generously, and without reservations, you want to be adored with the same ardor.

Not being suspicious, there is no limit to your daring. You can go beyond the limits of discretion, and in that lies your danger since you run the risk of being stopped by connivance or by unanticipated barriers. However, you would rather take such chances than to curtail the normal extent of your remarkable courage.

in the Sign Virgo

AMBITION is the keynote to your courage. You take anything in your stride so long as you can add to the sum total of your accomplishments inasmuch as the Sign Virgo rules work and research.

You are not satisfied with mediocre effects. You want the best, and you have enough fortitude as the result of the anchorage provided by the earth elements of the Sign Virgo, so that you seldom fluctuate from your intentions.

Nevertheless you are capable of covering a great deal of territory inasmuch as you know so much about so many things. Also because you are industrious, you are kept busy in carrying out assignments for people who are not so well informed nor as competent in the things in which you specialize.

Although your valor can be confined to certain rigid molds, yet your sense of responsibility is such you are willing to become a voluntary combatant for someone else when your sense of shrewdness shows that you have a chance to win. You do not like to take useless risks.

Divergence from your usual routine can prove disturbing to you. To escape from the irritation of interruptions, you like to take things into your own hands. At such times you can sweep aside all obstructions, like a sudden and explosive tornado does on the super-heated plains in the summertime. Your courage may be spasmodic, but it is effective!

in the Sign Libra

WITH your flair for attracting people in all walks of life, you don't know what it means to be lonely. In fact your popularity can be almost inflated, as if the fire elements of the Planet Mars were empowered to expand the air of the Sign Libra.

You like to do everything on a grand scale, particularly if by doing so you can become associated with people of importance. One way you accomplish this is by membership in several clubs.

So self-confident are you that you sometimes maneuver yourself into a hostile situation for no other reason than that you wish to show how courageous and untrammelled you can be. Ordinarily, however, you are diplomatic and courteous, yet always ready to come to the defense of anyone who is attacked by formidable adversaries.

You do not need more than a slight incentive to arouse your sense of justice, but you are willing to lay down the cudgels of belligerence when your mission has been fulfilled. You prefer to spend your leisure in the enjoyment of art and music rather than in noisy and boisterous pastimes.

Some people consider you fickle because you do not mind discarding outworn companionship, or to resist being curtailed by dormant handicaps. You prefer to make the transition without being harsh or unkind, but when the entanglement becomes too severe, you can make a quick and final severance since your courage is as sharp as a two-edged sword.

in the Sign Scorpio

VERY seldom do you need to go out of your way to display your indomitable courage because its inexhaustible capacity is manifest in everything you say and do.

Even under the most exotic conditions you are a realist inasmuch as the fiery power of the Planet Mars, filtered through the watery elements of the Sign Scorpio at your birth, has instilled in you muted qualities of fixed yet ardent tempo.

You know when people are telling the truth, and you know when they are sly. You can stand by those who need you, through thick and thin, or you can walk away from the selfish and demanding with complete indifference. You have your own code of ethics.

Yet no one questions your integrity. When anyone has the temerity to do so, you can be so sarcastic and biting in your comments that the attempt is seldom repeated. You can vindicate yourself with words as well as with weapons because courage is an integral part of your natural inclinations.

You need to exercise a certain amount of self-control, however, inasmuch as the vibrations of Mars in your natal horoscope can cause you to go to excess in some respects; or you can draw censure by being self-opinionated. Yet your courage does not permit you to admit at any time that you are at fault.

in the Sign Sagittarius

AS A defender of philosophy and religion you are almost without peer because the Sign Sagittarius rules ideals, justice, tolerance, and probity.

You have an intuitive knowledge of people and events at a distance, and you like to keep well informed about what is going on in the world so that you can instruct and guide those who wish to learn what you are capable of teaching.

As a contrast to this mental perspicacity, you like strenuous exercise. All types of sports appeal to you, including horse-back riding and hunting. You have the physical coordination to participate in highly competitive skills, and you frequently win through sheer power of self-control and courage.

You can be sincere and honest in your dealing with others, but you can also be supercilious and snappy when you are upset by a pessimistic person or by a disagreeable situation. You find it hard to cope with depressing conditions and uncouth human beings.

When there is need to do so, you have no compunction about throwing off the shackles of restraint; yet it never occurs to you to side-step an obligation when there is no one else to be its custodian. You have a high-minded attitude about the scaredness of your ideals. That is why you have such a profound regard for any principle that needs to be safeguarded by your courage.

in the Sign Capricorn

PATIENT perseverance and intrepid fortitude are so much a part of your character that personal friends and business associates consider you as inflexible as the Rock of Gibraltar.

You want to climb to the topmost peak of your aspirations inasmuch as the Sign Capricorn occupies the zenith of the Zodiac. The self-confidence and enthusiasm instilled by the Planet Mars are the instruments that make it possible for you to reach your goal.

While you are rising upward, you are preparing to assume responsibilities and to hold a post of authority. You develop your proficiency as you go along because you realize that the more you know when you achieve a position of importance, the greater will be your opportunities for promotion and your scope for prosperity.

At the same time you are cautious, and occasionally even apprehensive, because you know that the higher you go the more precarious can be your footing. This inclines you to be hesitant about taking unnecessary risks, but when you are confronted by an emergency, you usually find a way to circumvent it.

Also you need to be careful not to get involved with anyone who is vindictive, narrow-minded, or conceited. So scornful are you of such sordid tactics or pretentions that you want to cauterize them—and you often do in a most salutary fashion by making use of your lofty courage.

in the Sign Aquarius

INSPIRED friendship with people on your own level of inventive ingenuity enables you to succeed in unique organizational work such as aviation, electrical engineering, or large scale altruism.

You take a benign interest in people because the Sign Aquarius rules humanitarian projects; but in your own behalf you insist on being entirely free to do as you please inasmuch as this Sign is ruled by the Planet Uranus which is the cosmic symbol of liberty.

Since the Planet Mars is the cosmic symbol of courage, you are a self-appointed guardian of human rights. You want to end any and all privileges to the favored few. You believe in the tenets of equality as a form of life for everyone, everywhere.

Your mind is filled with great hopes because you can anticipate the future. You know how to plan for progressive projects, even though some of your ideas are regarded as fantastic by those who lack your enthusiastic foresight of what the world will achieve during the atomic age.

You look forward instead of backward because you want the majority of the Earth's inhabitants to attain some of the enchanting and glorious freedoms to which you believe they are entitled. Even though that era seems remote, yet you show your faith in its eventual approach by the courageous quality of your anticipations.

in the Sign Pisces

SOMETIMES your courage is tested to the uttermost extent inasmuch as it has to function on two planes. This demand is imposed by the fire vibrations generated by the Planet Mars, and by the watery elements associated with the Sign Pisces.

Also quite often you are pulled in opposite directions. Your desire is to be self-reliant and undaunted; yet this wish might be frustrated by your inability to attain the quiet poise that is so necessary to your enjoyment of life.

However, you do not give in easily to pessimistic notions. You like to assert yourself against unsympathetic people and difficult conditions. When things become too confused, you manage to get away for a few hours of seclusion where you can think without being bombarded by useless interruptions.

So necessary are these interludes of serene privacy to you, that you depend on them as you do on good food for nourishment. You don't mind others being in the limelight so long as you can keep out of irksome complications.

While you have ample courage for all practical purposes, it is as a director of behind-the-scenes plans that you are at your best. Silently, and with consummate skill, you can pull the wires that set things into motion as does the cosmic influence of the Star of Courage!

April Aspects in Your Horoscope

By S. N. STEVENS

SOME people are full of self-confidence and zestful ambition while others feel enmeshed in a net of hopeless frustrations. A revealing reason for either reaction can be found in the aspects of each natal horoscope.

During April there are several opportunities for wonderfully fortunate attainments, and there also are interludes when there can be difficulties and reverses.

The accompanying schedule of the major planetary aspects can be the best source of information for the sort of conditions that can result.

Favorable Aspects

The first two weeks the vibrations are favorable for aggressive action in connection with business transactions, advertising, aviation, transportation, real estate, banking, and philanthropic projects. The conspicuous exception occurs on the 6th of April when Mercury is in square aspect with Uranus. As the result of this configuration it could be easy to talk out of turn, or to get snarled up in a traffic accident through sheer carelessness.

On the 15th emotional excitement might prove a serious impediment to success; or a pleasant friendship could be broken between neighbors who are fond of each other for no other reason than a minor disagreement about a local entertainment.

During the next five days the cosmic radiations are favorable for commerce, industry, publishing, agriculture, mining, engineering, and the metal working crafts.

Then on the 20th, when Mercury and Mars are conjoined, there could be a sudden burst of speed that can prove exhausting as well as dangerous. Suddenly hot tempers might break the bounds of discretion.

After the excitement subsides, things should be serene for several hours while Venus and Jupiter are in trine aspect. This configuration is favorable for art, music, acting, interior decorating, and the creations of fashionable apparel.

Beware of Risks!

A few hours later, when Mercury and Neptune are opposed, anything that is even slightly risky is in danger of collapse.

The Sun-Saturn square, and the Mars-Neptune opposition on the 23rd are the sternest vibratory influences of the month. Anything that is selfish or secretive is doomed to fail.

While these configurations are in effect, the sky is illumined by favorable planetary radiations. Therefore, greed and deceit should be extinguished by the glare of public attention.

All that can add to the comforts and enjoyment of life are exalted by favorable vibratory influences during the remainder of April, while the negative aspects are minimized.

Therefore, swing into the rhythm of cosmic power by doing the right thing at the right time in accordance with what is revealed by the symbols of Astrology!

☆ APRIL ☆

THE presence of the Sun in the Sign Aries is a vivifying influence for the north temperate zones in general, and for your solar group in particular. This solar transit is beneficial for the planting of seeds, and for the advancement of new ideas.

In addition to this solar occupancy at the Ascendant of your horoscope, this part of your birth chart is the focal point of other powerful vibratory radiations due to the entry by Mars into the Sign Aries shortly before midmonth, followed by Mercury a few days later, and by Venus toward the latter part of April.

As the result of these combined transits you might feel elated and courageous. A wonderful adventure may come your way unexpectedly, while delightful romance and thrilling mental pleasures may arrive in multiple abundance.

An accelerated cycle is indicated after Saturn turns direct in motion during the early days of the month, and when a similar change of pace is made by Pluto toward the latter part of April in your solar Fifth House which rules love and entertainments.

You might be able to return long-delayed hospitality, and you also might be delighted at the receipt of numerous invitations. A young friend or relative might ask your advice about a festive anniversary, and you also might be busy with some post-Lent engagement and wedding plans.

At the same time arrange everything with the approval of your lifemate. Unless there is active collaboration between you, some of your plans might go awry as the result of the opposition that is formed by the Sun, Mars, and Mercury with Neptune in your solar Seventh House which rules marriage.

Aspects in the TAURUS Horoscope

☆ APRIL ☆

DELIGHTFUL companionship is denoted during the great part of April, due to the presence of Venus in your solar Eleventh House which rules friendship. This transit is supplemented until mid-month by the vibratory influences of Mars and Mercury, activating opportunities for social pleasures, good fellowship, and the fulfillment of hopes.

However, do not rely on unsolicited advice inasmuch as these three Planets are in aspect with Uranus in your solar Second House which rules money matters. By asking for an opinion, you might be inundated with suggestions that are biased or full of flaws. Therefore, attend to things personally, without relying on anyone for guidance.

Also do not depend on your relatives to collaborate whole-heartedly in the adjustment of domestic problems, particularly toward the latter part of the month when the Sun at the Ascendant of your solar horoscope is in square aspect with Saturn and Pluto in your Fourth House which rules your home and family. Instead of receiving the assistance you desire, you might be blamed for a situation with which you were not even familiar.

Therefore, do not be disappointed if things are somewhat disjointed by hindrances and procrastinations. With patience on your part things should get straightened out eventually. In the meantime attended to your job without allowing your attention to be diverted by unnecessary distractions while Neptune moves backward in your solar Sixth House which rules labor.

Inasmuch as this Planet is opposed by the Sun, Mars, and Venus during April, you might have some exasperating experiences in connection with your work, unless you do your utmost to avoid sly interference that can cause serious blunders.

Aspects in the GEMINI Horoscope

☆ APRIL ☆

A CERTAIN amount of public attention may be focused on you during the forepart of April due to the combined transits of Mars, Mercury, and Venus through your solar Tenth House which rules prestige.

The elevated position of these three Planets can attract exceptional honors and an abundance of praise. However, the pendulum might swing in the other direction, creating a tendency toward criticism and censure inasmuch as this part of your horoscope is in square aspect with your Sun Sign.

Fortunately these adverse aspects are of short duration, but while they are in effect they can induce considerable pressure because of the square configurations in which Mars, Mercury, and Venus are involved with Uranus at the Ascendant of your solar birth chart.

What mitigates against the stress of these vibratory influences is the fact that all three Planets are in the trine aspect with Jupiter in your solar Sixth House which rules your job. This is an harmonious relationship for occupational success. You might benefit as the result of exceptionally fine work that you are able to do for someone who is appreciative as well as affluent, or you might be placed in charge of an important business enterprise.

The transit of the Sun through your Eleventh House, which rules aspirations, is a stimulating influence for going after what you want. You might be helped in the attainment of some of your most ardent ambitions by friends and acquaintances who are interested in your career.

Nevertheless, although you are very popular socially, take care not to waste an excessive amount of time on unremunerative pastimes inasmuch as progressively the Sun, Mars, and Mercury oppose Neptune in your solar Fifth House which rules romance and pleasure. Playtime can became an expensive luxury if you allow your attention to be diverted from your job.

Aspects in the CANCER Horoscope

☆ APRIL ☆

THE Ascendant of your solar horoscope forms a grand trine during the forepart of the month with Mercury, Venus, and Mars in your solar Ninth House which rules ideals and with Jupiter in your Fifth House which rules affection and investments.

This combination of aspects is favorable for romance and travel, as well as for gracious hospitality and pleasant relaxation. Also your creative imagination might be inspired by all that you see and hear. The appeal of beauty might be like a magnet at this time, while your intuitions are sensitized by these harmonious vibratory influences.

Economically you also might benefit from work that you did in the past, as shown by the return to direct motion of Saturn and Pluto in your solar Second House which rules your income. Your earnings should be steady, and your efficiency in handling money should be far greater than it was formerly.

However, while these favorable configurations are in effect, the Sun-Neptune opposition forms a Cardinal Sign cross with your solar Ascendant. This aspect is repeated later in the month by the oppositions that are formed between Mercury and Mars with Neptune which is in your solar Fourth House which rules your home and family.

Inasmuch as this part of your horoscope is opposed by the Tenth House which rules your reputation, you might be hard pressed to conform with the private and public demands made on you. In trying to please the members of your household, you might have to neglect outside duties. Or, in trying to keep up with public obligations, it might be necessary for you to allow domestic matters to remain unattended. Try to retain your self-control, however.

☆ APRIL ☆

NOW that Saturn and Pluto turn direct in motion in your Sun Sign, it should be a good deal easier than it was previously, to adjust a number of bothersome problems. Among other difficulties that you might have under control now is the housing situation, especially as Saturn and Pluto are no longer in direct square aspect with Jupiter in your solar Fourth House which rules real estate and domestic matters.

Although Jupiter is in retrograde motion at the present time, nevertheless its vibrations are favorable for the transmission of good news through confidential channels because this Planet is in trine aspect during the first half of April with Mars, Mercury, and Venus in your solar Eighth House which rules accumulated assets.

These favorable vibratory influences may enable you to bring to a conclusion a series of transactions that were started quite a while ago, adding to the financial security of the entire family.

At the same time you may receive good news from a long distance due to the transit of the Sun through your solar Ninth House which rules far-off places. Inasmuch as Mars, Mercury and Venus also enter this part of your horoscope after midmonth, you may find that these benefits extend beyond your expectations. Also you may have the thrill of being able to take an extensive trip, or you might rejoice at the welcome return of a relative who has been on a long journey.

The sum total of your progress should be definitely on the upgrade, and many of your aspirations may be highlighted by actual achievements due to the harmonious vibrations generated by Uranus in your solar Eleventh House which rules your hopes, wishes, and friendship. The sextile aspect of this Planet with the Ascendant of your birth chart indicates kind help by friends in making some of your finest desires come true!

Aspects in the VIRGO Horoscope

☆ APRIL ☆

AS THINGS shape up during the early part of the month, you may be very busy in collaborating with your lifemate or an associate, due to the influence of the stellium that is formed by Mars, Mercury, and Venus in your solar Seventh House which rules marriage and partnership matters. You might have to control the tendency to be irritated by what you consider unreasonable demands inasmuch as Mars is the cosmic symbol of belligerence as well as courage.

Fortunately these Planets are in trine aspect with Jupiter in your solar Third House which rules ideas. Therefore, you should be able to know just what to say and how to say it so as to conciliate anyone who is in a combative mood.

This non-aggressiveness should pay good dividends by saving you from getting into a useless altercation with a public official while Mars, Mercury, and Venus are in square aspect with Uranus at the zenith of your horoscope which rules authority. Be positive in action, yet do not be too assertive inasmuch as the Ascendant of your horoscope forms a Mutable Sign cross with Uranus through square formation, and with Mars, Mercury, and Venus as the result of the oppositional aspects.

Furthermore, you might be vulnerable to financial chicanery while Neptune, in your solar Second House which rules money, is in opposition with the Sun in your Eighth House which rules savings. You need to be careful not to dissipate your accumulated assets during April because the power of the Sun in this part of your horoscope is augmented after midmonth by the radiations of Mars, Mercury, and Venus.

Keep your valuables under lock and key, and do not invest in any business enterprise that can benefit others more than you.

☆ APRIL ☆

UNTIL the middle of April conditions in your place of employment may be disturbed due to the vibratory currents generated by Mars, Mercury, and Venus in your solar Sixth House which rules your job. People with whom you work might be quarrelsome, or you might be unable to accomplish as much as you wish as the result of sudden interruptions.

Also because these Planets are in square aspect with Uranus in your Ninth House, which rules travel, you might be unable to get enough free time from your work to be able to take a pleasant Easter trip that you planned.

Some of your resentment at being deprived of a holiday may be dissipated, however, when you learn that an extra assignment you carried out in record time has brought you special compensation. This can be the result of the trine formation between Mars, Mercury, and Venus with Jupiter in your Second House which rules money.

You need to be unusually alert not to get into a dispute with an associate or a close relative while Neptune, at the Ascendant of your horoscope, opposes the Sun in your solar Seventh House which rules affiliations. The stress can be stronger than you realize inasmuch as Mercury, Mars, and Venus also are in zodiacal opposition to Neptune during the latter part of April.

The vibrations of Venus can generate a soothing influence in this part of your birth chart. Therefore, there is no reason to emphasize the effect of emotional intensity that can be aroused by the vibrations of Mars, nor to give in to the inclination to be arbitrary in speech or action that is typified by Mercury.

The serenity you need should be fairly easy to achieve, however, inasmuch as these Planets are in trine aspect with Saturn and Pluto in your Eleventh House which rules the attainment of hopes.

Aspects in the SCORPIO Horoscope

☆ APRIL ☆

THE efforts you make during the first half of April to increase your popularity should bring gratifying results. The reason for this happy cycle is due to the harmonious influences created by Jupiter, the cosmic symbol of good fortune, at the Ascendant of your solar horoscope.

The beneficent Jupiter vibrations are supported further by trine aspects with Mars, Mercury, and Venus in your solar Fifth House which rules love and pleasure. Therefore, by wise management of your social opportunities you should be able to increase your circle of friends and acquaintances. Among these may be some who are in a position to introduce you to people of prominence.

However, be careful that the multiple courtesies do not involve you in extravagant expenditures. To show your appreciation you might consider it necessary to buy costly gifts, or you might try to reciprocate with other favors. The money you spend in this direction might make a deep dent in your savings, due to the square aspects formed by the stellium in your Fifth House with Uranus in your solar Eighth House which rules accumulated funds.

Also you need to be alert not to be fooled by someone who imposes on you through a secret entanglement as the result of the illusive vibrations generated by Neptune in your solar Twelfth House which rules behind-the-scenes matters. Such machinations might affect your job inasmuch as Neptune is in successive opposition during April with the Sun, Mars, and Mercury in your solar Sixth House which rules labor.

An important business project in which you are interested might entail greater responsibilities now that Saturn and Pluto turn direct in motion in your solar Tenth House which rules your career. There should be more opportunities for advancement, however, from now on.

☆ APRIL ☆

CONTRADICTORY experiences are indicated during the first half of April as the result of the Mutable Sign cross that is formed in your solar horoscope. The stress can come with personal associates as well as through public alliances inasmuch as the Ascendant of your birth chart is opposed by Uranus in your Seventh House which rules marriage, and in square aspect with Mercury, Mars, and Venus in your Fourth House which rules your home.

There need be no emotional upsets if you do not allow disturbing conditions to rub you the wrong way. Hot words won't mend matters. Say as little as possible, even when there is a sudden flare-up of excitement. The soothing effect of silence should enable you to placate irascible tempers far better than by using an angry retort.

That it should be fairly easy to maintain harmony, even under sudden pressure, is shown by the trine aspect that the Sun forms with the Ascendant of your solar horoscope. After midmonth the Sun, in your solar Fifth House which rules love, is joined by Mars, Mercury, and Venus. This stellium, in trine aspect with your natal Sun Sign, is like a fairy wand that can turn everything into splendor and joyous happiness.

Moreover, this beneficent configuration forms a grand trine aspect with Saturn and Pluto in your solar Ninth House which rules ideals and impressions. Therefore, the momentum of your success should increase as the result of your intuitive understanding of conditions. With superlative skill you may be able to accomplish things that you did not attempt before, or you might get an excellent start in an export or import business.

Anything that is ethical and high-minded should be a splendid roadway to steady progress, and a link with future good fortune!

☆ APRIL ☆

UP TO the middle of April you should have considerable satisfaction in working out your ideas. You should have the chance to do things better, and to enjoy everything a little more than usual. You might find it desirable to take a short journey in connection with your work.

However, make all the necessary arrangements well in advance. Otherwise you might be unable to accomplish what you set out to do inasmuch as Uranus, in your solar Sixth House which rules your job, is in square aspect with Mars, Mercury, and Venus in your Third House which rules travel.

Fortunately these Planets are in harmonious relationship with your Sun Sign. Therefore, you should be able to set things aright as you go along, provided you are well prepared ahead of time for the experiences you might encounter as the result of the rather erratic vibratory influences that are created by these triple square configurations.

Another beneficent vibratory influence in your birth chart is created by Jupiter, the cosmic symbol of affluence, in your solar Eleventh House which rules aspirations and friendships. Inasmuch as this Planet is in trine aspect with Mars, Mercury, and Venus during the middle part of the month, you may gain immeasurably from the friendly attitude of people with whom you associate in the development of clever ideas, as well as from your agreeable companionship with neighbors.

However, do not become arbitrary regarding a business matter or a domestic situation. Either you will be rebuffed, or you might make matters worse by exaggerating the importance of trifles. Allow some things to subside of their own accord while your natal Sun forms a Cardinal Sign cross with Neptune, Mars, Mercury and Venus during April.

☆ APRIL ☆

THE elevated position in your solar birth chart of the Planet Jupiter, the cosmic symbol of good fortune, is a beneficial influence for the attainment of the highest peak of success in your career.

However, you may have to make concessions to others because Jupiter is in square aspect with your natal Sun Sign as well as with your solar Seventh House which rules collaboration. Inasmuch as this part of your horoscope is occupied by Saturn and Pluto, you might be hemmed in by various associates who do not allow you the essential freedom that is imperative for the needs of your unfettered temperament.

Another type of influence of which the Ascendant of your horoscope is the pivot is the zodiacal grand trine that is formed by your Sun Sign with Uranus in your solar Fifth House which rules creative ideas, and with Neptune in your Ninth House which rules philosophical ideals. Therefore, your mind may be geared to all sorts of inspiring ambitions.

Don't be too impetuous, however, about spending money to start your wonderful plans because you might meet with delaying obstacles. During the forepart of the month several handicaps might come as the results of the square aspects formed between Uranus with Mars, Mercury, and Venus in your solar Second House which rules money.

Another delaying influence is the retrograde motion of Neptune. This may cause a feeling of confusion. Then, toward the latter part of the month, when Saturn is in square aspect with the Sun in your solar Fourth House which rules home and family, you may be obstructed by domestic conditions.

Also do not attempt to travel during April inasmuch as Neptune, in your solar Ninth House which rules long journeys, is opposed by the Sun, Mars, Mercury, and Venus during different parts of the month while they transit your solar Third House which rules short trips. Neither should you write letters that can be misconstrued.

Aspects in the PISCES Horoscope

☆ APRIL ☆

A FEELING of elation should be natural for you during the forepart of April while the Ascendant of your solar horoscope is occupied by Mars, Mercury, and Venus, in harmonious trine aspect with Jupiter in your Ninth House which rules ideals.

The fact that four Planets are united in this harmonious vibratory combination should stimulate your entire outlook. Wonderful plans might formulate in your mind, inasmuch as Mercury typifies the intellect. Also your emotions might be sensitized to highly romantic responsiveness, since Venus typifies love.

The powerful vibrations of Mars in your Sun Sign can activate your self-confidence, while Jupiter can cause you to seek a wider outlet for your social instincts. Going to places you have not visited in a long time, and meeting people who are interested in world betterment, should do a great deal to develop your initiative.

At the same time you may have several opportunities to augment your income, but be alert against sharp financial practices at the very beginning of the month when the Sun, in your solar Second House which rules money, is opposed by Neptune in your Eighth House which rules savings.

Also beware of delusion about your funds later in the month when Mars, Mercury, and Venus also pass through their annual oppositional aspects with Neptune. If you hand out money on the say-so of a casual stranger, you might find that your trust has been misplaced. Either you will lose most of the cash, or you might get inadequate return for your investment.

While Jupiter is in trine aspect with your Sun Sign, however, you should have the foresight to avoid irreparable mistakes so long as you adhere to the idealistic concepts of the vibratory influences generated by the Planets.

A well-known consultant tells you some of the interesting facts and influences that shaped his career ☆

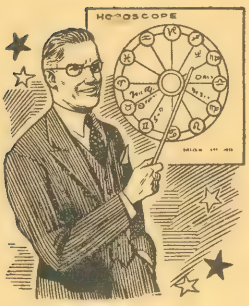
By L. A. WILMOT



AMONG the most frequent questions the average astrological consultant is asked by new clients is: "What caused you to become interested in Astrology in the first place?"

The answers vary, of course. My own interest in Astrology started about thirty years ago when I decided to make a practical demonstration to disprove it.

I had read somewhere that if one bought clothing or wore it the first time when the Moon transited the Sign Scorpio, under adverse aspect, that something was sure to go wrong. That seemed an absurd superstition.

Being wise and headstrong in my youth, as almost everyone else is, I went shopping one Saturday afternoon when I was told by an astrologer I knew that the Moon occupied the Sign Scorpio that day.

The Silk Necktie

I bought a nice heavy-corded silk necktie, paying $2.50 for it. In those days that was a high price for a necktie. I wore it the next day, the Moon still being in the Sign Scorpio. Nothing happened. Ha, I felt, another superstition exploded. How could people believe in Astrology!

The tie lay in the drawer until the following Friday, when again I decided to wear it. I put it on, tied it, and started to pull it into place. At the first pull I felt something give way. I took it off, and in doing so the tie literally disintegrated in my hands. I felt partially convinced that Astrology was not altogether wrong, but I decided to subject it to further tests.

The results were so astonishing that my skepticism finally disintegrated as did my expensive tie. Not only have I had some exceptionally interesting experiences to corroborate the authenticity of Astrology, but in innumerable instances have my friends and clients confirmed this opinion.

Forecasts Confirmed

Several years ago, when I was broadcasting a series of astrological talks on the radio, I used to give interpretations of the day by day planetary aspects. Within a day or two letters would arrive from listeners, telling me how correct my forecasts had proved. Here is an excerpt from a letter written by a girl:

"I needed a dress for a dance to which I was invited unexpectedly. I had bought it that day, and was shortening the hem while listening to the radio.

"I heard your voice saying that the influences were not propitious for the purchase of wearing apparel because at that particular time the Moon was in the Sign Scorpio, in bad aspect with Mars. I smiled to myself because at that moment I was handling my gorgeous gown.

"To cut a long story short that night a tumbler of water spilled over the skirt, and a neglected cigarette in an ash tray fell down, burning an irreparable hole in a conspicuous spot. The next night I had to wear an old dress to the dance."

A Few Experiments

During the same series of radio broadcasts, I suggested a few simple experiments with garden seeds. The idea was to plant a row of radishes when the Moon was in the Sign Cancer which is considered fruitful.

The following day, when the Moon had entered the Sign Leo, which is said to be barren, another row of radishes was to be planted. Two rows, side by side, planted from the same packet of seeds.

Before very long the reports began coming in. The first row, planted when the Moon was in the Sign Cancer, produced crisp and succulent radishes. The adjacent row, planted when the Moon was in the Sign Leo, seldom flourished for any of the amateur gardeners!

Another time-tried planting idea in which astrologers believe is that root crops do best when the Moon is in its decreasing phase, that is between the Full Moon and just prior to the next New Moon.

Flowers, grain, and fruit which give their yield above the ground do best when planted while the Moon, in a fruitful Sign, is increasing in size—that is in the two weeks between the New Moon, and the Full Moon.

The "Right" Lunar Time

Transplanting follows the same rule. Use some potted plants or bulbs for your astrological planting experiments. Of course, it is necessary to remember that infertile seeds or poor soil won't produce good results, regardless of where the Moon is when you do the planting. To get good results, use guaranteed seeds and healthy soil at the "right" lunar time!

Another interesting astrological planting formula, requiring technical knowledge, is to plant seeds when the Planet Jupiter is at the Ascendant. A crop of startling abundance follows.

The reverse effect is noted when the Planet Saturn, the cosmic symbol of restriction, is at the Ascendant at the hour when the seeds are being planted.

A chart, based on horary Astrology, is necessary for accurate knowledge as to where the Sun, Moon, and Planets are during each hour of the day and night to achieve the wished-for results.

Fishing Schedule

That such horoscopes are useful is illustrated by the following anecdote:

A client, who had tested the efficacy of Astrology repeatedly, wished to go fishing with some friends. Their time was limited. Therefore, they had to make the best of each day.

He asked for a time schedule during the next few weeks when the fishing would be best. As it is well known that fish are most active at the time of the New Moon, and again at the Full Moon. I suggested the latter period, inasmuch as the Moon would be in a Water Sign which is the normal feeding cycle for fish.

It takes the Moon about two and a half days to pass through each Sign of the Zodiac. By reference to the ephemeris, I was able to tell my client the hour when to start fishing.

I told him that while nothing would insure a catch of fish in "empty" waters, yet if the angling was to be done where fish were known to exist, they would rise during the first and second days, and until about noon of the third day. After that the fish would stop biting.

Here is the report given by the client after his return: "What happened was just uncanny. We got started fishing after we got settled in camp, and caught a lot of fish until noon of the third day. Then I told my friends that I would quit because the luck had run out. But they said: 'Don't stop. We have been getting fish right along, so let's finish up right.'"

"So we had lunch, and started again. And would you believe it, we did not catch another fish. Here we were, fishing the same pools, with the same tackle, but never a rise. It was uncanny!"

Applied Astrology

Cooperating with Nature, by using applied Astrology, can work wonders. Try it the next time you want to achieve something special in buying, selling, traveling, renting, or in any other legitimate pursuit.

You need to be reasonable, of course, because the aspects might be favorable but your personal horoscope might be under adverse vibratory trends at the time. For example, the hormonious influences of the Planet Jupiter are favorable for money transactions. On the day that this Planet is well aspected some people might make a fortune, yet your own financial aspirations might collapse. The explanation might be due to the fact that just then Saturn is not well placed, through progression or transit, in your horoscope.

Several letters in my files clarify this point:

"Since following your charts," wrote Edgar F. D. "I have made a record on the days marked as favorable for selling, and those which were marked adverse. On March 18th, for instance, when the Moon, Mercury, Mars, Venus, Jupiter, and Neptune were well aspected, I received more than half of my total orders for Easter merchandise.

"On the 24th, when the Moon and Saturn were in square aspect, and on the 26th when the Moon opposed Jupiter, I couldn't make any headway. My customers were friendly, but they did not buy."

The Time Element

Here is a letter from Mrs. Kathryn

W. R. which shows how the time elements work in relation to Astrology.

"You will remember" she writes "that you did not believe that we should make that trip. However, when we insisted, you told us to delay until two o'clock in the afternoon, instead of starting at four in the morning as we had intended to do.

"That difference of ten hours certainly saved us from trouble, danger, and perhaps from death. We were delayed by mountain slides, road wash-outs, and car accidents just preceding our approach due to a cloudburst earlier that day.

"We did not turn back although we encountered windstorms, rains, sewer cave-ins, and other mishaps. In one instance tractors had to be used to straighten out a road. Some cars had been delayed five or six hours. We had to wait only thirty minutes.

"At the end of each day's travel we found comfortable hotel or camp accommodations. When we crossed the desert, we were told it was the coolest day in a hundred years. We kept thinking of how much we owed to those ten hours.

"We had intended to remain all winter. But at the end of a few weeks things went wrong. We had to curtail our visit, ending it in two months rather than in six months as we had planned. We came back without accident, and now we are safe at home again. You were right all along the line. We should not have gone in the first place, but having gone we are glad we had sense enough to start at the hour when you said the planetary directions would be more favorable."

A Letter from a Friend

A friend whom I have known for many years, and who now lives in another part of the country, wrote me a long letter not so long ago. We often exchange experiences and opinions, inasmuch as we both are practising astrologers.

"As you know," my friend writes, "my elder son is one of those individuals who must learn from experience rather than advice.

"Last summer, while adverse aspects were stimulating his horoscope, he took it into his head to buy a new automobile. I told him the notion was erratic, and asked him to wait because Mars was under inharmonious aspects in his Eighth House which we both know rules possessions.

"I don't need to remind you that he has Sun in the Sign Aquarius, and that in his natal chart Uranus and Saturn are in discordant configuration. He is of age now, so I could not stop the purchase of the car. I did coax him, however, to wait until the Moon and Jupiter in the Sign Libra were in beneficent aspect with his natal Sun in the Sign Aquarius.

"Fortunately Mercury and Uranus, in the Sign Gemini, united these aspects into a grand trine.

A Source of Trouble

"I told my son that I was afraid he could not overcome the adverse vibratory influences generated by Mars in his birth chart, and that his car would always remain a source of trouble, but I felt that the beneficial influences of Jupiter would enable him to take care of the financial hazards it would entail.

"You can almost anticipate what I am going to tell you now. As he was taking the car out of the dealer's garage, an insurance man asked him to let him insure it. John told him that his father always took care of those things, but the insurance man insisted. That was Saturday, and since he would be unable to see me until Monday, he offered to carry the insurance free until Monday.

"On Sunday afternoon John took some friends for a drive. They came to a narrow intersection. John stopped, and so did a man in an old car. Just as John started to drive on, the other man let out his clutch and drove headlong into the side of the new car.

"The insurance arranged over the week-end sufficed to cover the expense of repairing the car. Twice since then John has had accidents in which the car was damaged, and on each occasion it was repaired without cost to him.

"As you know, I am a good driver. I have driven for more than fifteen years, and never had as much as a dented fender or a scratch on the body of any automobile I owned. One day, however, while I was backing John's car out of the garage, it slid off the drive. I had failed to close the door properly. It flew open, and was badly banged up at the side of the house.

Another Accident

"Last Monday John went out with three friends. He allowed one of the other boys to drive. While going at a high rate of speed, the boy lost control of the steering

April Transits and Aspects

AN HOUR-BY-HOUR GUIDE FOR EACH DAY THIS MONTH

The aspects shown on this chart are calculated for Eastern Standard Time. If you live in Central Standard Time Zone, subtract 1 hour; in the Mountain Standard Time Zone, subtract 2 hours; in the Pacific Standard Time Zone, subtract 3 hours.

The times given here tell when the planetary and luminary vibrations reach their technically correct peak, but while forming or separating they have a sphere of influence that may extend from a few hours to several days. Bear that fact in mind.

The letter a indicates that the aspect is adverse; f shows that the aspect is favorable; the letter n shows that the aspect is neutral.

NEXT MONTH

ARIES COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between March 21st and April 20th

BECAUSE you are never happier than when giving your mental assets and leadership ample scope for expression, you should experience much satisfaction during the first ten days while the Sun forms a trine with Pluto and Saturn, in your Fifth House which rules amusement, young people, and education. You may be able to put your go-getter qualities to work for a widely beneficial purpose. Since you are an excellent organizer, you may turn your hand to establishing recreation clubs for children, or interest yourself in projects for raising funds for community betterment, or for scholarships for the young who show promise.

On the 6th, when Mercury and Uranus are in square aspect, you might need to temper your enthusiasm with caution, because of criticism from those who cannot compete with your initiative. Offset this by taking a conciliatory attitude. Ask the advice of anyone who might accuse you of being domineering, or who might resent your efficiency. Such consideration should bring its own reward.

On the 14th, when the Mars-Saturn trine is in effect, you may be able to handle a difficult situation in your business, social, or personal life with dispatch, for you may possess the faculty of managing people without appearing to do so. Or some past experience may furnish the solution for a problem concerned with investment, a theatrical enterprise, or an educational matter.

Attend to practical plans and details on the 17th when Mercury and Saturn are in trine aspect. Then you should be ready, on the following day when Mercury approaches a conjunction with Mars—exact on the 18th—to put your plans and ideas into operation. Keep each step clear in your mind, because on the 23rd these two Planets oppose Neptune, so that confusion might result unless you are explicit and definite.

When Mars and Pluto are in trine aspect on the 25th, you may encounter many who appreciate your viewpoint and cleverness, and mutual understanding may bring you a loyal following. On the 26th, when Venus is in trine aspect with Saturn, someone who joins forces with you may prove to be both trustworthy and capable.

During the last few days when the Mercury-Uranus sextile is in effect, you may find that novel plans might prove more workable than tested ones. Put new methods into effect, and present ideas with an unexpected twist.

Tues., Apr. 1. If you can spare the time, organize a sports event in which children participate. It may prove to be a big success, and thoroughly enjoyable for you.

Wed., Apr. 2. Be patient with someone you may be teaching either a skill or craft. In time, you may turn out an expert.

Thurs., Apr. 3. Even if you finish your work ahead of schedule, don't remain idle. With nothing better to do, you might get into a hot argument.

Fri., Apr. 4. By handling a rather awkward situation at a social gathering diplomatically, you may earn the deep gratitude of someone you rescue. Your tact should not go unappreciated.

Sat., Apr. 5. Use your initiative, but not to the point of being aggressive. If you arouse antagonism, others might become rebellious instead of cooperative.

SUN., Apr. 6. If circumstances keep you from church services, explain your reasons to those interested. Avoid undeserved criticism.

Mon., Apr. 7. Consider pooling your financial resources with those of others on whose judgment you rely. Your chances of profit in joint enterprises should be good.

Tues., Apr. 8. Give aid to a relative or friend, in putting over a business deal. You may receive no immediate benefit, but the favor should be returned, later.

Wed., Apr. 9. Be courteous and considerate of a new arrival in your neighborhood, who may be a person of distinction. You may meet some interesting people through the contact.

Thurs., Apr. 10. Do not be disturbed by an article you read in your daily paper. It may be written from a biased viewpoint.

Fri., Apr. 11. Be as diplomatic if you are an executive as though you were an employee. The approval gained should be compensatory.

Sat., Apr. 12. Encourage the efforts of someone who aspired to artistic accomplishment. Your heartening word may have an inspiring effect.

SUN., Apr. 13. If church funds are low, spend extra time in an effort to stretch the budget. You may find a way to cover an unexpected expense.

Mon., Apr. 14. Stick to your campaign to further a business enterprise. It might prove successful, if you carry it through to the finish.

Tues., Apr. 15. Do not consent to join an excursion party without due thought. Something might occur to place you at a disadvantage.

Wed., Apr. 16. Do not permit yourself to be used as the sympathetic shoulder for another's woes. They might be purely imaginary, and too much encouragement prove detrimental.

Thurs., Apr. 17. Keep your papers in order. If you can produce a receipt, should a dispute about a bill arise, it might save you money.

Fri., Apr. 18. An idea you suggest to a neighbor may be accepted and developed. It should prove practical.

Sat., Apr. 19. Give yourself no opportunity for idle chatter. Unless you work hard at a job that absorbs your full attention, you might have a clash of opinion with an associate.

SUN., Apr. 20. You may be asked to join a club or other group with common interests. By accepting, you may be put in touch with people who have tastes similar to yours.

Mon., Apr. 21. A well-wisher might do something anonymously to make your life easier and more pleasant. Don't attempt to ferret out your benefactor's identity.

Tues., Apr. 22. Should a financial emergency arise, give the matter your immediate attention. Success may depend on quick-thinking.

Wed., Apr. 23. You may feel you must protest if you see a relative headed for error, but keep your counsel. Interference might be resented.

Thurs., Apr. 24. Do not be misled by the boastfulness of someone in your vicinity. It may only camouflage a deficiency.

Fri., Apr. 25. Act according to your own judgment on a financial issue. Advice offered might be based on a personal motive.

Sat., Apr. 26. You might have to take on a job that concerns a child. Though at first reluctant, you may come to realize much joy in your assignment.

SUN., Apr. 27. Obtain all necessary information concerning a proposed entertainment. Otherwise, cash might be needlessly wasted.

Mon., Apr. 28. Give your imagination free play. You may think up something ingenious, with a money value.

Tues., Apr. 29. Be prudent about business expenses. Pay cash and buy less, instead of running up bills for equipment and accessories.

Wed., Apr. 30. Do not be surprised or put out if your routine schedule is interrupted. Busy yourself with tasks that require neither great persistence nor continuous effort.

For You Who Were Born Between April 21st and May 20th

YOUR protective instinct may be appealed to so greatly as to awaken your romantic interest during the first half of the month while Venus, Mercury and Uranus are in sextile angle with your Sign. Someone who seems helpless, or who is the victim of unfortunate circumstances may touch your heart so strongly that you may be able to tell of your affection in poetic phrases. On the other hand, you may defend the object of your devotion with a fiery tongue should someone speak in a derogatory manner of your idolized one, or any other friend on the 6th, when Mercury and Uranus are in square aspect.

Do not believe such stories, for what is said during this interval might be a pure figment of imagination, or a near-truth may be distorted beyond recognition. Complete vindication may come between the 7th and 13th when Mars and Mercury form a trine with Jupiter. In your jubilance you may decide to get married, or to form a close business association, since Mercury is in your Seventh House which rules partnership.

Avoid asserting your independence much on the 15th, when Venus and Uranus are in square aspect, for it might cost you money, especially should you ignore a regulation. On the 17th, when Mercury and Saturn are in trine aspect, you might be fortunate in a real estate or rental deal, particularly if an elderly person is involved. But be certain of the integrity of anyone you invite to your own home between the 20th and 23rd when conjoined Mercury and Mars oppose Neptune, or you might inadvertently have to play host or hostess to a subtle trouble-maker. Also be cautious in signing papers, particularly real estate agreements, or a catch clause might inconvenience you later.

Some domestic anxiety might occur on the 23rd, when the Sun-Saturn square is in effect, but because Venus approaches a trine to Saturn on the 26th, the temporary setback may turn out to be a favor. Someone you have aided may appear to smooth out your difficulties, and gladden your heart.

Financial benefits may accrue to you at the close of the month when Mercury is in sextile aspect with Uranus, in your Second House which rules money. You might cash in on your inventive skill, or on some imaginative idea.

Tues., Apr. 1. Discuss an unusual entertainment idea with friends, preferably in your home. The plan may receive enthusiastic support.

Wed., Apr. 2. Concentrate on the known good qualities of someone whose endless chatter annoys you. They may far overbalance the vexing characteristics.

Thurs., Apr. 3. If you are inconvenienced in your work environment, don't complain. Your protests might accentuate the disturbance.

Fri., Apr. 4. A relative or close friend might send you a small remembrance, in token of a favor you performed. Appreciate its sentimental value.

Sat., Apr. 5. Should you have an offer from a prospective purchaser for some article of value in your possession, accept it. You might receive a substantial sum.

SUN., Apr. 6. Do not be discouraged if a suggestion concerning church activities you consider good, should be turned down. It later may be adopted.

Mon., Apr. 7. Should you obtain information from a business executive who possesses accurate knowledge, act on it promptly. You may turn over a worthwhile profit.

Tues., Apr. 8. If you cannot afford to tender a loan to a close friend who relies on you for financial assistance, say so frankly. There are limits to self-denial.

Wed., Apr. 9. You might receive a fine business offer because of a special skill you possess. It may lead to still greater opportunities.

Thurs., Apr. 10. Curb an impulse to express your opinion too freely in financial matters. Do not let your own careless words affect your credit.

Fri., Apr. 11. Express your views on current issues either in words or in a letter to an open forum. The resultant publicity should be pleasing.

Sat., Apr. 12. An acquaintance may speak to you enthusiastically of a current best seller. Read it, for an interesting discussion may follow.

SUN., Apr. 13. Take an interest in community hymn singing. By becoming proficient, your group may have a chance to sing on a radio program.

Mon., Apr. 14. Try to ignore what seems to be an awkward domestic situation, and the tension may gradually relax. Do not stir things up.

Tues., Apr. 15. Use your good taste in purchasing a gift for a convalescent friend. Be sure your offering is complimentary as well as appropriate.

Wed., Apr. 16. A surprise which gives you both emotional and mental pleasure may mark this as a memorable day. Enjoy it.

Thurs., Apr. 17. Get an itemized estimate for essential repair work on household equipment. You should be able to obtain advantageous terms.

Fri., Apr. 18. Show your hospitality to strangers as well as intimate friends. Seek an opportunity to entertain convalescing veterans.

Sat., Apr. 19. You may be visited by a relative or friend you have not seen for a long time. Show that absence has not dimmed your affection.

SUN., Apr. 20. You need not be self-effacing, but do not go out of your way to attract attention. If you are reserved, others may want to bring you out of your shell.

Mon., Apr. 21. Do all you can to make yourself attractive. Wear your best clothes today, be your most charming self, and new friends may flock to you.

Tues., Apr. 22. Be cautious about requesting a favor of a friend. No matter how diplomatic you are, it might be considered an imposition.

Wed., Apr. 23. A long-standing business association might be approaching a crisis. Do nothing that might help the situation to reach the breaking point.

Thurs., Apr. 24. An original idea for earning cash might occur to you. Handle its development carefully, for though potentially successful, it might be fragile.

Fri., Apr. 25. Ally yourself with a progressive group concerned with civic or community improvement. You may find an entirely new interest.

Sat., Apr. 26. A friendship with an elderly person may take root today. It should become deeper and sweeter as the days go by.

SUN., Apr. 27. Do not allow a domestic problem to baffle you. A talk with your spiritual adviser may reveal the solution.

Mon., Apr. 28. Attend a business conference to fulfill an obligation to your colleagues. A constructive measure may be decided to your advantage.

Tues., Apr. 29. If you receive an invitation to attend a lecture, concert, or educational forum, accept eagerly. You should find mental pleasures enjoyable.

Wed., Apr. 30. Keep your mind on what you are doing. If you should try to mix work with play, you might overlook an important detail.

GEMINI COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between May 21st and June 20th

A PLANETARY configuration of mighty power is in effect during the first ten days while the Sun is in sextile aspect with Uranus and Pluto. To make the most of this beneficial aspect, ally yourself with others, preferably with a group or organization, for combined effort. Join someone in creative work, or in a human relationship project.

If you work in the marts of trade, you might receive a surprise offer to use your talents in a large sales organization. If yours is a literary bent, a chance might come along for you to join an important publishing firm. If you are musically or dramatically inclined, you might sign with a radio company, go on tour with a theatrical group, or perhaps travel in the interests of a lecture bureau. You may be headed toward your greatest achievement.

But make sure that your business plans are in order, because otherwise you might encounter an annoying upset because of the disturbing rays of the Mercury-Uranus square around the 6th. Fortunately, however, the Mars-Jupiter trine is in simultaneous operation, so difficulties may be avoided by taking preventive measures.

Accept even a temporary position, if offered, for it may lead to something permanent and profitable. Certainly let no opportunity slip away if it comes to you around the 14th, when Mars and Saturn are in trine aspect, for it may mean future security.

Be discreet in your speech about the 15th, when the Venus-Uranus square is in effect. Do not repeat gossip, and say nothing which might be misconstrued and put your job or that of anyone else in jeopardy.

The companionship of an understanding friend, about the 17th, under the stabilizing rays of the Mercury-Saturn trine, should be of great aid in giving you the serenity necessary to see things in a calm light on the 20th when a conjunction of Mercury and Mars, opposing Neptune between the 21st and 23rd, might otherwise influence you to make a decision contrary to your best interests.

On the 26th, when Venus and Saturn are in trine aspect, do something to let friends and relatives know that they are ever in your thoughts. Continue the good work during the remaining days when the Mercury-Uranus trine is in effect, by promoting friendliness which should benefit you immeasurably.

Tues., Apr. 1. Do your share for the happiness of your community. Support a lecture series, concert, or amateur theatricals.

Wed., Apr. 2. Do not neglect household tasks. A new neighbor you would like to impress might make an unexpected call.

Thurs., Apr. 3. If what you have been accustomed to buying is unreasonably high-priced, purchase something else. A change might prove interesting.

Fri., Apr. 4. Perhaps your hobby is inventing recreational games. Friends may suggest how you can market them profitably.

Sat., Apr. 5. The time you spend with a congenial acquaintance may well repay you. It may lead to an inspiring close friendship.

SUN., Apr. 6. Be lenient with a youngster who may not understand that some daily activities are not appropriate for the Sabbath. A guiding word should suffice.

Mon., Apr. 7. Judicious initiative may meet with success. If you believe your services deserve better payment, make the suggestion.

Tues., Apr. 8. Be conscientious about performing even seemingly unimportant chores. Someone may be checking on your diligence.

Wed., Apr. 9. You may be surprised to learn of the importance of someone you meet casually. Your new acquaintance may stand at the top in the financial world.

Thurs., Apr. 10. You may have a heartfelt desire to help a neighbor, but your advice might not be practical. Do not offer it.

Fri., Apr. 11. In considering a business agreement, be sure the arrangements are equable. It is not grasping to look out for your own interests.

Sat., Apr. 12. Accept an invitation to an impromptu get-together, preliminary to a business conference. It should promote friendliness.

SUN., Apr. 13. A church member may tell you something which relieves your mind about an economic worry. Be willing to do a similar favor for that person in return.

Mon., Apr. 14. Your sense of humor and your diplomacy should aid you today. Use them to avoid any chance of emotional friction with co-workers or others around you.

Tues., Apr. 15. Keep your mind on business, relegating your personal problems to the background. Indifference might prove detrimental to your job.

Wed., Apr. 16. Check facts for accuracy before putting them into a report. Do not depend on your memory, or on others who might not be well-informed.

Thurs., Apr. 17. Your loyalty to an executive may be noted, though you do not push yourself. A promotion in the near future may be in store.

Fri., Apr. 18. Begin now to spend fifteen minutes each day in improving study. The slogan as to its worth in acquiring an amazing fund of knowledge is not exaggerated.

Sat., Apr. 19. Do not allow only vaguely understood misgivings to disturb you. If your imagination is playing tricks, give it free play by reading about exciting far-off places.

SUN, Apr. 20. Volunteer for additional church duty, if you can spare the time. Your capability may bring you honor.

Mon., Apr. 21. You may be on the list of guests selected to celebrate the opening of a new department or branch of industry. The invitation may add to your business prestige.

Tues., Apr. 22. If you have little time for reading, make your selections carefully. Include books on current events or on subjects of popular interest.

Wed., Apr. 23. Do not become enthused over an extravagant declaration of affection made to you today. Even sincere ardor may not be lasting.

Thurs., Apr. 24. Be prepared for an alteration in plans or in viewpoint. Something you hear may cause you to change your mind.

Fri., Apr. 25. If you are a radio broadcast fan, this may be a red-letter day. At a studio you may meet a number of interesting personalities.

Sat., Apr. 26. Should a romance meet with your approval, say so. Much of its happy culmination may depend on your view.

SUN., Apr. 27. Do not allow a pessimistic friend's dismal outlook to dampen the spiritual uplift you receive during church services. Pay no attention.

Mon., Apr. 28. You may feel an urge to resume a correspondence with a former friend. By doing so you might be put in touch with interesting people.

Tues., Apr. 29. Make this a practical, routine day. Attend to domestic duties that require attention to detail.

WED., Apr. 30. Call in an expert if work with chemicals or electricity is required. Do not experiment unless you are skilled.

CANCER COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between June 21st and July 22nd

MERCURY, Venus and Mars form part of a Grand Trine with Jupiter and with your Sign the first part of the month, the stellium of Planets occupying your Ninth House which rules waterways, shipping, foreign affairs, science, publishing, and higher education. Activities in any of these lines should be favorable for you, though perhaps your most outstanding success may come from your interest in domestic science, or that which goes to make home life more beautiful and secure. This is natural, since your Sign ruler is the Moon which has jurisdiction over domestic matters.

During this period you may feel an urge to perfect yourself in something allied to home interests, so you might decide to take a course in home economics, cooking, nursing, or begin medical training under the most favorable astrological auspices for success. Or you might prepare yourself to cater to those who are away from their own homes, by taking up the hotel or seaside resort business, or going in for steward or stewardess work. You might obtain such a position on a ship, taking you to foreign lands.

If you are a writer, your best chance for making a hit with your publisher may be to select a domestic theme for an article, or a domestic or romantic problem for fictional purposes. Whatever you do, however, stick to conventional lines, for although Mars, Venus and Mercury are in friendly angle with your Sign, they are in square aspect with Uranus, a cosmic warning against the unorthodox. It is especially important that you insist on keeping everything open and above-board, since Uranus is in your Twelfth House which rules under-cover activities.

Since the benefic Jupiter occupies your Fifth House which rules social life, emotions and investments, you might be successful in a new undertaking because of the interest taken by a social acquaintance. Or romance might come into your life through the same channel.

During the second half of the month when Mercury and Mars mount to the zenith of your chart, opposing Neptune, guard against making rash statements, though fortunately these Planets are in sextile aspect with Uranus, a protective influence against indiscretion. These magical vibrations should aid you to turn apparent disaster into triumph, so do not be disheartened if your progress seems barred. You should easily rise above temporary frustration through courageous effort.

Tues., Apr. 1. Someone may ask you to contribute a small sum to a joint fund to purchase a gift of appreciation for a benefactor. Be glad you are included.

Wed., Apr. 2. Do not neglect details of a job to which you are assigned, but keep in mind the main purpose. See that small things do not distract you.

Thurs., Apr. 3. Keep strictly out of a discussion on a controversial subject. There might be an attempt made to goad you into saying something imprudent.

Fri., Apr. 4. If you long for some article which adds to home comfort, do something definite to accumulate the necessary cash. Start a savings account.

Sat., Apr. 5. You might fancy that a relative or friend has slighted you. Don't be sensitive, for there may be a satisfactory explanation.

SUN., Apr. 6. Pray for spiritual enlightenment concerning an imposing business obstacle you face. You may see how to overcome it.

Mon., Apr. 7. Begin the study of a foreign language. It might not be long before this knowledge may have a monetary value.

Tues., Apr. 8. Strive for accuracy, rather than speed. Carelessness might involve you in errors which might be expensive.

Wed., Apr. 9. You might be well-paid for work you would have had to attend to anyway. Appreciate your stroke of good fortune.

Thurs., Apr. 10. If you hope for a promotion, do something to call attention to your ability conspicuously. Your value in your job should be noted.

Fri., Apr. 11. Make certain you are well-informed about all the rules, if you enter a contest. Take no chance of being disqualified for innocently infringing a regulation.

Sat., Apr. 12. Seek the advice of a legal authority if you are troubled about a point of law. A consultation may reassure you.

SUN., Apr. 13. Attend a church meeting called to discuss a charitable enterprise. A plan you submit may be considered interesting and practical.

Mon., Apr. 14. Do not complain if work seems to pile up on you. Instead, realize that your skill and earning power may be amazingly increased through the extra effort.

Tues., Apr. 15. Present yourself for a business interview appropriately dressed. Create an impression of efficiency.

Wed., Apr. 16. Refuse to listen should a co-worker make an insinuation that might stir up discord. Remember it takes two to make a quarrel.

Thurs., Apr. 17. Minor details might be so confusing as to assume major proportions. Avoid the feeling by arranging your work systematically.

Fri., Apr. 18. Your graciousness may help someone from a far land to feel at home. Do what you can to dispel loneliness.

Sat., Apr. 19. Do your buying from your trusted, tested tradespeople. A "bargain" purchased from a door-to-door peddler might later cause you embarrassment.

SUN., Apr. 20. Spend some of this day in active exercise. A brisk walk with a congenial friend may be more enjoyable than complete physical relaxation.

Mon., Apr. 21. Observe the social amenities with scrupulous care. Your tactfulness should be gratefully noted.

Tues., Apr. 22. You may not wish to believe the undesirable reports you hear about an acquaintance. Do not be too trustful, for your confidence might be misplaced.

Wed., Apr. 23. Let bygones be bygones. Entering into a discussion about something which happened in the past would serve no good purpose.

Thurs., Apr. 24. You might have an idea that a new acquaintance has sought your friendship under false pretenses. Settle the matter by obtaining reliable information.

Fri., Apr. 25. Do not let your mind wander whenever radio commercials are on the air. You might get a profitable financial hint.

Sat., Apr. 26. Disregard an antiquated work method in favor of an improved system. You may gain greater profit with less effort.

SUN., Apr. 27. You might have to spend some of your Sabbath considering a delicate money question. Unlimited patience may be necessary in handling the matter.

Mon., Apr. 28. Try to put punch in an advertisement you insert in a newspaper, to arouse interest. You should obtain desirable results.

Tues., Apr. 29. Do not let the pleasant chatter of co-workers interfere with your work. Spend the time and effort expected of you, and for which you are paid, conscientiously.

Wed., Apr. 30. In planning a short trip, arrange everything beforehand. There should then be no chance of an annoying delay.

LEO COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between July 23rd and August 22nd

TWO aspects which are in effect the first ten days—when the Sun forms a trine with Pluto, now in your Sign, followed by a sextile with Uranus—may usher in a lively period for you. A flair for the dramatic is one of the characteristics of your Sign group, so if you are allied with the theatrical profession a spectacular opportunity may come for you to show your talent as you never have before. If you are in the newspaper business, an extraordinary event may furnish you with an exclusive story which can place you squarely in the limelight. Even if you are living an ordinary routine existence something exhilarating may occur to make your life exciting and interesting.

But do not become so elated that you burst out in a flood of boasting of your good fortune. With Mercury in square aspect with Uranus—exact on the 6th—you might say the wrong thing. Get the full worth of the cosmic benefits, because since Mars and Jupiter are in trine aspect, whatever distinction comes may have cash value. If money should appear, be sure that some of it goes into the bank. With Jupiter in your Fourth House which rules accumulated assets, a small sum deposited now may pyramid.

Consider a business partnership offer on the 13th, when the Mercury-Jupiter trine, which favors joint interests, is in effect. Attend to insurance, annuity, or income tax matters, and come to an agreement with a business rival. When Mars and Saturn are in trine aspect on the following day, obtain professional advice.

Watch your cash on the 15th when Venus and Uranus are in square aspect, to make sure that you are not persuaded to be foolishly generous. Between the 20th and 23rd, while conjoined Mars and Mercury oppose Neptune, do not get into a stew over a mental problem, such as an examination, for instance, because with these Planets in sextile aspect with your Sign, you should be able to solve any and all of such intricacies, with sufficient consideration and study.

During the last week, with Venus, Mars and Mercury shedding beneficent rays from your Ninth House which has jurisdiction over higher education, you may be mentally active, and should shine among congenial companions with particular lustre.

Tues., Apr. 1. If you have studied a foreign language, don't let yourself become rusty. Join a group which holds conversations in the tongue.

Wed., Apr. 2. Do not recommend someone for a job merely out of the kindness of your heart. Make certain of the applicant's qualifications.

Thurs., Apr. 3. If you believe you are doing the fair thing, don't be swayed by arguments to the contrary. Follow your own convictions.

Fri., Apr. 4. Remember your elderly relatives and friends. If you are too busy to make a personal visit, write a note, or show other courtesy.

Sat., Apr. 5. Try to find some time to collect books, magazines, or games for veterans still away from home. Your effort should be appreciated, as well as give you much satisfaction.

SUN., Apr. 6. Keep your financial affairs to yourself. Someone who loves gossip may be eager to pass the information along.

Mon., Apr. 7. A regular contribution to your domestic budget may be increased. It should relieve any possible financial strain.

Tues., Apr. 8. You may have to revise your household plans at the last moment, though completed. The new arrangement should prove successful.

Wed., Apr. 9. In mental achievement, you may rank high. You might be elated over your passing marks in an examination or other test.

Thurs., Apr. 10. Be as methodical in keeping a record of your social engagements as in business matters. Avoid a chance of getting your dates mixed.

Fri., Apr. 11. Unless you are sure you can meet consequent obligations, do not make a down payment on an article. You might have to forfeit your deposit.

Sat., Apr. 12. A new melody you hear may aptly express a sentiment in your heart. Let the song speak for you, or bring happy memories.

SUN., Apr. 13. Systematize your tasks, to get them accomplished with dispatch. In making a decision, do not sacrifice permanent gain for a temporary advantage.

Mon., Apr. 14. Take a personalized interest in the politics of your country. If you favor a pending issue, express your opinion in writing or by word of mouth.

Tues., Apr. 15. What you consider merely amusing, an acquaintance might believe important. Don't give offense by telling others of the little foible.

Wed., Apr. 16. Be on the lookout for a creative idea that can be applied to your job. Scan newspapers or magazines.

Thurs., Apr. 17. If you believe you could handle a radio job, put your qualifications in writing. You might be given a chance for a try-out.

Fri., Apr. 18. Someone in charge may offer you a well-paying job, because of your courtesy and consideration. Accept if you can.

Sat., Apr. 19. In studying points of technique, make sure what you read is up-to-date. Discard out-moded information.

SUN., Apr. 20. You may feel unusually eager to be out in the spring sunshine. Organize a hiking group, or take a walk with a friend.

Mon., Apr. 21. Talk to an acquaintance with colorful ideas about home decoration if you plan any refurbishing. You may obtain interesting suggestions.

Tues., Apr. 22. If you merely desire to make a good impression, consider the cost. Don't put a strain on your expense account.

Wed., Apr. 23. Be tactful and diplomatic in all you say and do. Otherwise, a social blunder might not be easily explained away.

Thurs., Apr. 24. Do not encourage the friendly overtures of a stranger to whom you are introduced. The casual acquaintance might become an inconsiderate nuisance.

Fri., Apr. 25. Fellow club members might request the use of your home for a meeting. Offer your hospitality, if you can.

Sat., Apr. 26. If you want new ideas you can use in a commercial or artistic enterprise, talk with a business friend. Get the benefit of experience.

SUN., Apr. 27. A friend who has been absent from your vicinity for a long time may appear at church. After services, offer a hearty welcome home.

Mon., Apr. 28. Join an altruistic program in your community if one should be organized. You may be put in touch with interesting people.

Tues., Apr. 29. A self-appointed adviser might offer to look after your personal interests. Investigate the financial status of your would-be benefactor.

Wed., Apr. 30. Do not waste time in cultivating a friendship which entails expense. The satisfaction might not be worth the money spent.

VIRGO COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between August 23rd and September 22nd

DURING the first ten days when the Sun is in trine aspect with Pluto, and in sextile aspect with Uranus, members of your Sign group may be honored by being selected for confidential work, because of your discernment and discretion. However, since Uranus is in square aspect with your Sign from the zenith of your chart, make sure that the enterprise is in no sense questionable, and that speculation is not involved.

Particularly around the 6th, when the misleading vibrations of the Mercury-Uranus square are in effect, stand firm against being talked into anything you cannot wholly approve. On the following day, however, when the Mercury-Jupiter trine occurs, someone may offer you a money-making suggestion which is as sound as a dollar. With your discrimination you should be able to single out the opportunity which is essentially workable.

About the 13th, when the Mercury-Jupiter trine is in effect, you may be asked for your advice. Give it willingly, but do not become overwrought about the problems of others. If you keep serene you should be in a much better position to help, for you might be somewhat sensitive while Mercury opposes your Sign.

On the 14th, when Mars is in trine aspect with Saturn, try to handle a money matter tactfully, but be firm about asking for an accounting if you feel that cash is being handled carelessly.

Be your calm and dignified self while Venus and Uranus are in square aspect on the 15th, for protests may avail nothing, even if you should receive undeserved blame. An unexpected swing of circumstances may turn criticism to praise, all the greater because of your decorous conduct under pressure.

News for which you have been waiting might arrive on the 17th, when Mercury and Saturn come into trine aspect. But between the 20th and 23rd, when conjoined Mercury-Mars oppose Neptune, a responsibility might loom disproportionately large. Dispatch each issue as it comes up, and you may be surprised at how you handle the knottiest questions. You may have proof of the worth of your decisions between the 23rd and 25th when Mercury and Mars are in trine aspect with Pluto.

On the 26th, when Venus is in trine aspect with Saturn, try to arrange for beneficial rest and quiet.

Tues., Apr. 1. Should you be asked to join an attractive social circle, do so if you can afford your share of the necessary expenses. Decline, if it involves going into debt.

Wed., Apr. 2. Do not become too greatly attached to a new acquaintance. Closer ties might bring disappointment.

Thurs., Apr. 3. Make only kind remarks to or about those with whom you are associated, either in your job or socially. Feelings might be hurt by even unintentional criticism.

Fri., Apr. 4. Perhaps someone who borrowed from you may not be able to repay in a lump sum. Suggest that specified installments will be satisfactory.

Sat., Apr. 5. Study with a critical eye an investment which offers suspiciously high profit. Questioning its soundness may be justified.

SUN., Apr. 6. Of course you are to be commended for your enthusiasm over an altruistic plan, but be cautious also. Ask someone on whom you rely for practical advice.

Mon., Apr. 7. Enter into a partnership agreement with someone who understands and likes your chosen job. Working together should be profitable for both.

Tues., Apr. 8. Spend only what you can afford. Do not count on possible profit until the cash is in your pocket or bank.

Wed., Apr. 9. A suggestion you make may at first be passed over as trivial. Persist, for it may become the foundation of a successful enterprise for you.

Thurs., Apr. 10. Keep your home and the surroundings in your job free from clutter. Debris often invites accident.

Fri., Apr. 11. You might make an interesting career of a youngster under your care. Study some of the many books devoted to the feeding, teaching, and amusement of children.

Sat., Apr. 12. Entertaining for a social acquaintance should prove a delightful event. Your guest's enjoyment may be worth the cost.

SUN., Apr. 13. Your day of rest should be a memorable one. The agreeable mood of everyone with whom you associate should bring you happiness.

Mon., Apr. 14. Don't hoard articles no longer in use just because they might "come in handy some day." Give them to a charity which can salvage them to good purpose.

Tues., Apr. 15. If you have been entrusted with a secret concerning someone well-known, do not divulge it. The publicity might be damaging.

Wed., Apr. 16. Do not be vacillating if you must make a decision about someone who is sensitive. It might be kinder to be definite.

Thurs., Apr. 17. You may be called on to head a family conference. Live up to your reputation for sound judgment.

Fri., Apr. 18. Look around to see how experts handle their jobs. You may get a new slant on your own work.

Sat., Apr. 19. Balance your expenditures against your income. Knowing your exact financial status can be a check on extravagance.

SUN., Apr. 20. Throw all your persuasiveness into your work in charitable cause. Your earnestness should accomplish a financial success.

Mon., Apr. 21. Do something kind and generous for a relative or friend who is knowing lean days. It should further endear you to the rest of your family and close associates.

Tues., Apr. 22. Check up on what is told you by a self-claimed authority on science or history. The statements may not agree with those generally accepted.

Wed., Apr. 23. Do not be persuaded to "try-out" what you believe is inferior merchandise. Make your own choice firmly.

Thurs., Apr. 24. You might have to alter your plans because of an unexpected occurrence connected with your job. Face a necessary emergency with equanimity.

Fri., Apr. 25. You may have been unsuccessfully trying to see a busy person. Ask for an appointment today, and the door may be opened for you.

Sat., Apr. 26. Because of your dignity and efficiency, you may be asked to preside at a meeting. Add to your reputation for making things run smoothly.

SUN., Apr. 27. There may seem to be a personal message in the sermon you hear. It may comfort and enlighten you on a vexing problem.

Mon., Apr. 28. You might discover that you are mentally congenial with an associate in your job. Your friendship may meet with a hearty response.

Tues., Apr. 29. Do not be skeptical of the gracious gesture of an acquaintance. Accept the friendly overtures.

Wed., Apr. 30. Restrain yourself from a display of temperament. Loss of self-control might be detrimental to your job.

LIBRA COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between September 23rd and October 22nd

WHEN the Sun forms a trine aspect with Pluto, and a sextile aspect with Uranus, during the the first ten days, members of your Solar group may come in contact with so many interesting, even celebrated people that you experience a mental and spiritual treat. Your acquaintance with those connected with the arts—music, drama, literature, painting, or sculpture—may be enlarged, or you may take an active interest in educational projects sponsored by savants who stand at the top of their calling. Even romance may appear as the result of the unusual and satisfying contacts you make.

But about the 6th, say nothing that could put a damper on newly acquired friendships, for with Mercury-Uranus square in effect at that period, you might be tempted to speak sharply. There may be no reason whatever for the worry which might cause your irritation. You may forget it, anyway, on the next day, the 7th, when the Mars-Jupiter sextile is in effect, for you may be offered such a good chance to make extra money that your attention may be centered only on your bright prospects.

On the 13th, when the Mercury-Jupiter trine is exact, the postman might ring, bringing you a check for an expertly done job, and when Mars enters your Seventh House which rules cooperation, near the 14th, in trine aspect with Saturn, you may launch a new idea which might bring equally satisfactory results. But when Venus is in square aspect with Uranus, about mid-month, make no attempt to ally yourself with anything that is not ultra-conservative.

Consider jobs and work policies around the 17th when Mercury is in trine aspect with Saturn from your Sixth House which rules employment. Between the 20th and 23rd, when Mercury conjoined with Mars opposes Neptune, do not make decisions, for even your usually clear judgment might be somewhat clouded.

On the 25th, when Mars and Pluto are in trine aspect, depend on dramatic appeal rather than on logic to put your ideas across. After the 26th, when the Mercury-Uranus trine, which favors mental effort is in effect, you may be able to hold your own in brilliance with the most learned in distinguished callings. Do something practical to further increase your mental powers.

Tues., Apr. 1. Invite someone to supper in your home, or elsewhere. Put a gala finish to an otherwise uneventful day.

For You Who Were Born Between October 23rd and November 22nd

THE arrival of the benefic Jupiter in your Sign in the early fall must have been pleasant for your Solar group, being indicative of opportunities for both personal and business advancement. Since November, however, the Planet Saturn, in square aspect with your Sign, has been in retrograde motion, so some ventures may not have reached a speedy culmination. But with Saturn resuming forward motion on the 4th, everything should begin to move again, though progress will likely be marked by steadiness rather than by climactic brilliance.

You might even find an obstacle in your path, but because of the disciplinary Saturn rays you also may discover the tenacity and patience needed for a long pull. Furthermore, the test may aid you to develop stamina you might need later.

During the first ten days, while the Sun occupies your Sixth House which rules employment, in trine aspect with Pluto and in sextile aspect with Uranus, "make hay while the sun shines." Arrange for important contracts, seek job advancement, or look to future security through insurance, or alliance with an organization featuring financial benefits. If you have children, begin a fund for a college education or other training.

Sign important papers between the 13th and 17th, because with Mercury successively forming a trine aspect with Jupiter and a sextile aspect with Saturn, you should find yourself in an harmonious atmosphere, with associates agreeing with your views. And a pact or contract entered into during this period may be long-lasting and of substantial benefit.

Pleasure may be on the docket between the 15th and 21st while Venus, which rules entertainment, exerts powerful rays. But since this Planet turns from a square aspect with Uranus to a trine aspect with Jupiter, be certain you make no social faux pas through which you might forfeit desirable invitations.

Banish misgivings about your job on the 21st and 22nd when Mars and Mercury oppose Neptune. You may realize they were entirely imaginary when you might receive heart-warming praise for excellent work—or something more material—around the 27th, when Venus and Saturn are in trine aspect. The recognition of your worth may be even greater about the end of the month, while Mercury and Uranus are in benefic trine. You might be entrusted with job matters of large scope.

Tues., Apr. 1. A theatrical acquaintance might remember you with complimentary passes. Cultivate such open-handed friendship.

Wed., Apr. 2. Carefully examine a luxury article you consider purchasing. Make sure that no hidden flaw is overlooked.

Thurs., Apr. 3. Do not refuse a donation to a solicitor for funds for charity. But be certain you are not assessed more than your share.

Fri., Apr. 4. Try not to be impatient if an acquaintance is late for an appointment. Pity might replace all other emotions when you learn the reason.

Sat., Apr. 5. If you have to give up plans for pleasure because of an emergency job, there may be compensations. The extra pay might be quite welcome.

SUN., Apr. 6. Give your full attention to church services. The temporary withdrawal from worldly cares should refresh you spiritually.

Mon., Apr. 7. Offer your services as adjuster in a misunderstanding about money. You should aid the disputants to reach an agreement.

Tues., Apr. 8. You might unexpectedly get a chance to attend a show you long to see. A casual caller may extend an invitation.

Wed., Apr. 9. If you want to promote a business project, be enthusiastic in outlining your plan. Your own deep interest should carry conviction.

Thurs., Apr. 10. Rely on your own efforts, rather than on the influence of others. Such self-reliance should bring you financial success.

Fri., Apr. 11. You may not be able to indulge a whim because of lack of cash. Forget it by working hard to finish an uncompleted chore.

Sat., Apr. 12. Do not complain, if you must accept a new responsibility. Win praise and fresh respect by the way you handle the added load.

SUN., Apr. 13. You might run across a human interest story which carries a valuable lesson. Tell your pastor, or a newspaper acquaintance about it.

Mon., Apr. 14. Do not be tempted to use household cash to make an extravagant purchase. Make your money go as far as possible.

Tues., Apr. 15. A stranger you meet today may seem much interested in you. Do not bank on the acquaintance to be a continuing friendship.

Wed., Apr. 16. Before you start on a shopping tour, make a list of household items you wish to buy. Something might slip your mind.

Thurs., Apr. 17. Begin a task which requires steady effort or constant practise. Or complete one which has been on hand for some time.

Fri., Apr. 18. Plan a party or other social entertainment on a simple scale. Otherwise, the cost of the festivities might get out of hand.

Sat., Apr. 19. Do not be satisfied with anything less than perfection. Painstaking thoroughness may repay you better than you imagine.

SUN., Apr. 20. Keep your wits about you if you go for a Sunday drive. The ability to think fast, should an emergency arise, might prevent a traffic delay or save you from possible accident.

Mon., Apr. 21. If you wish to dine in an exclusive club, a friend may give you a guest card. Acknowledge the courtesy with a letter of thanks.

Tues., Apr. 22. You might hesitate about accepting an important job because you lack confidence in yourself. Try it, to prove your own capability.

Wed., Apr. 23. Be careful what you put in letters or other communications. An interpretation far from your intention might be read into your words.

Thurs., Apr. 24. You might be able to carry out a project when others have failed. You may be possessed of resourcefulness to an unusual degree.

Fri., Apr. 25. Examine the source of a rumor concerning business or job interests before becoming alarmed. That may be all it actually is—gossipy rumor.

Sat., Apr. 26. If you want accurate scientific data, go to the fountain head—your research library. Do not accept the word of someone who claims to be an authority.

SUN., Apr. 27. If family duties claim your attention, be glad you can be helpful. It should make you happy to know that you are needed.

Mon., Apr. 28. Business matters might seem to be branching out more than usual. If you attend a conference, you may be gratified by the result.

Tues., Apr. 29. Be scrupulously accurate in making a report. Even a slight error might upset matters seriously.

Wed., Apr. 30. Think only of the task you have in hand, and be purposeful. Someone may have an eye on you for wider field of work.

SAGITTARIUS COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between November 23rd and December 21st

THIS month your Solar group may realize as never before what a tremendous part you have to play in world understanding. Always longing to explore far places, to know their peoples, you may discover during the first ten days while the Sun, in your Fifth House which rules social life, forms a Grand Trine with your Sign and Pluto, in your Ninth House which rules distant lands, that they are all around you in the great melting pot that is your country. Your eyes may be opened more widely to the true worth of the foreign-born who work beside you. You may recognize that you are one of and with them, as your contribution to one world.

With surprise you may see you need not travel far to appreciate what those born in foreign lands can bring you in knowledge and pleasure, for you have them in your own environment. Specifically, you may help welcome a foreign lecturer to your vicinity, or take new interest in children who fled war's terrors. Or you may travel the Seven Seas via history or geography.

Because these Planets form a sextile with Uranus from your Seventh House which rules partnership, someone of originality may be assigned to help you in your work. But because Uranus opposes your Sign, you might have to make some concessions to a temperamental disposition. If you should precipitate a break, a possible advantage might pass you by.

Just prior to the 14th, when Mars and Saturn are in trine aspect, and in the three days following, when Mercury approaches a trine with Saturn—exact on the 17th—give attention to important news items which may aid you to form sound opinions on burning questions of the day.

Between the 20th and 23rd, while conjoined Mercury and Mars oppose Neptune, make no promises you are not sure you can fulfill, even though it may seem easier to say "yes" than "no." Near the 25th, when Mars is in trine aspect with Pluto, ask advice from an authorized source as to the validity of the requests, rather than pass judgment yourself.

On the 26th, when Venus and Saturn form a trine, someone may aid you in a business way. During the last few days when the Mercury-Uranus sextile is in effect, you may find that your imagination and intuition are remarkable illuminated.

Tues., Apr. 1. Have confidence in your ability. What others think of your worth may be guaged by your belief in yourself.

Wed., Apr. 2. Heed the axiom, "A place for everything, and everything in its place." Otherwise you might not be able to find something you need in a hurry.

Thurs., Apr. 3. Be patient with a child who may not have been taught to obey. Gentle firmness should do wonders.

Fri., Apr. 4. Discuss your ambition with someone sympathetic with your aims. A listener may suggest how you can take the first forward step.

Sat., Apr. 5. Someone close to you might insist on pouring into your ears the details of an emotional problem. Listen without comment. Advice might be resented.

SUN., Apr. 6. Do not let an argument interfere with the Sabbath calm you deserve and may require. Leave the scene of bickering, to avoid becoming involved.

Mon., Apr. 7. Sign a lease or other papers concerning your home, or make arrangements for necessary repairs. You should make satisfactory terms.

Tues., Apr. 8. Do not let impatience hinder a job or business opportunity. Attempting to hurry things along may merely delay progress.

Wed., Apr. 9. Work you have done in the past, or other accomplishment, may bring you honor. An even more important job may be offered you.

Thurs., Apr. 10. Do everything possible to avoid giving even a semblance of reason for a quarrel. A break just now might be a hindrance to your job or business.

Fri., Apr. 11. Look for sturdiness as well as beauty in purchases for your home. The long-wearing qualities may be the most appreciated in the long run.

Sat., Apr. 12. Ask a lonely friend to your home, or for an interval of amusing relaxation in some other pleasant spot. Both of you should appreciate the change of routine.

SUN., Apr. 13. Give due appreciation to an eloquent sermon you hear. Store up the message in your mind, in order to pass it along to others.

Mon., Apr. 14. Reserve a few minutes of study each day—beginning now—for study. Should you learn to speak to a fellow worker in a familiar tongue, the time should be well spent.

Tues., Apr. 15. Do not show undue interest in the confidential concerns of a relative. Prying might be hard to excuse.

Wed., Apr. 16. Make only reasonable demands for attention from your family or close friends. Likely they are happy to do all that is possible for your comfort.

Thurs., Apr. 17. Do the necessary preliminary work to develop an inspirational idea. Even an artistic or literary job must be attacked practically.

Fri., Apr. 18. If you visit a convalescing friend or relative, keep the conversation bright and gay. Be prepared with amusing news or episodes.

Tues., Apr. 22. In storing woolen garments for the summer, make sure that they will be safe from the depredations of moths. Proper care now should give satisfaction later.

Thurs., Apr. 24. Focusing too intently on accomplishment might cause you to speak irritably to an associate. Relax your zeal for a time.

Fri., Apr. 25. Whether you speak publicly or privately on a controversial issue, be moderate in what you say. Cherish friendliness.

Sat., Apr. 26. Remember a friend who has done you a favor by a suitable, but inexpensive, gift. A well-chosen book should be appreciated.

CAPRICORN COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between December 22nd and January 19th

THE Sun, in your Fourth House which rules the home, forms a trine with Pluto, now in your Eighth House which governs financial association, during the first ten days. Your job and your domestic interests should go hand in hand harmoniously, to the advantage of both.

An agreement reached under the roof that shelters you might work out well, for you might be placed in a more responsible position in which more money may be earned. Help in bringing about a fusion of home and job interests by inviting those who labor beside you to accept your hospitality. Also, since the vibrations of this configuration sponsors educational enterprises in your community or neighborhood, you may take an active part in their success, particularly from a business standpoint. You may help solve housing problems for students, or have an opportunity to coach young athletes, or win approbation in kindergarten work.

During the same period, the Sun is in square aspect with your Sign, so be cautious about expanding. In your enthusiasm, do not lose sight of overhead expenses which could reduce profits, even though your efforts may meet with marked success, and mere acquaintances be eager to help you, since the benefit influence of Uranus is potent at the same time. Moreover, when Mercury and Jupiter are in trine aspect a few days prior to the 13th, you should be able to "sell" your ideas as well as your wares easily, because of your fluent persuasiveness.

On the 14th, because of the Mars-Saturn trine, economic matters concerning your family should progress favorably. You might unexpectedly discover that you can afford the cash necessary for household or property repairs.

If you enter into an agreement, sign it before the 17th, when the Mercury-Saturn trine is in effect. But between the 20th and 23rd, when conjoined Mercury and Mars oppose Neptune, refuse to commit yourself in any way, shape or form, until around the 25th, when Mercury is in trine aspect with Pluto. Even then, ask the advice of financial experts, particularly on the 26th, when the Venus-Saturn trine is in effect.

During the remaining days, under the rays of the Mercury-Uranus sextile, bring a business idea you consider good to the fore. It might gain you an interesting job with a large organization. Particularly if it concerns electricity.

Tues., Apr. 1. Increase your reputation for thrift, as a valuable asset. Start a savings or checking account. Have money in the bank.

Wed., Apr. 2. Be as careful with books taken from your lending library as though they were your personal property. Others will appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Thurs., Apr. 3. You might be annoyed by petty interruptions, in telling of an interesting incident. Be polite, if you must admonish discourtesy.

Fri., Apr. 4. You may realize, with gratitude, that you are in a better position to help others than you knew. Obey a benevolent impulse.

Sat., Apr. 5. Attending an educational movie might be as entertaining as it is instructive. Share the recreation with a congenial friend.

SUN., Apr. 6. A planned Sunday outing might cost more than you expect. Do not spend for pleasure if the money is needed for necessities.

Mon., Apr. 7. Work out a business arrangement with a friend who needs your help. Your own financial interests may be aided.

Tues., Apr. 8. Trade with firms which experience has proved are reliable. It might be a costly experiment to change to a less efficient organization.

Wed., Apr. 9. You might be invited by someone in an official position to attend a political rally. It may prove to be a colorful occasion.

Thurs., Apr. 10. Do not give up, even if a job or business plan does not at first work out to your satisfaction. Keep trying.

Fri., Apr. 11. Decline a social invitation if you must travel far to the home of your host or hostess. Fatigue might outweigh your pleasure.

Sat., Apr. 12. For self-satisfaction, give scrupulous care to your grooming. Accept helpful hints from magazines and newspapers.

SUN., Apr. 13. Invite amusing companions to join you in a short trip to an interesting spot. All should enjoy the change and relaxation.

Mon., Apr. 14. Before entering into a real estate deal, consult a well-informed friend as to the advisability of the step. Do not risk blundering by accepting an amateur's opinion.

Tues., Apr. 15. Do not talk shop in the company of those who are unfamiliar with your work. It might be like speaking in a foreign tongue.

Wed., April 16. You may be asked to speak at a meeting of fellow workers. Prepare what you have to say carefully, and you should meet a gratifying response.

Thurs., Apr. 17. Do not be discouraged if you cannot at once master an abstruse subject or a delicate skill. Persistence should reward you.

Fri., Apr. 18. You might despair of finding a suitable home or living quarters. A reputable real estate firm might have just what you want today.

Sat., Apr. 19. Do not expect magical performance from a new product. It may be useful, even without accomplishing marvels.

SUN., Apr. 20. Arrange to take a long walk or a bus ride in the country or through an interesting neighborhood. You may delight in keeping in motion.

Mon., Apr. 21. A friend may wish to introduce you to a new circle. You might even be guest of honor at a party.

Tues., Apr. 22. Unwittingly, you might reveal a confidence. Therefore be careful what you say, and to whom you say it.

Wed., Apr. 23. Do not worry, if you seem to lack ambition. This temporary phase will soon pass, and you should feel on your toes again.

Thursday, Apr. 24. You might feel that your efforts to settle a work problem are futile. Let it go, for the time being, and the matter may soon settle itself satisfactorily.

Fri., Apr. 25. If you consider making an investment, be sure that your choice is sound. Look into groups which handle savings wisely.

Sat., Apr. 26. You might not at first be drawn to someone to whom you are introduced. The person may improve greatly on acquaintance.

SUN., Apr. 27. Be sure you do not give an impression of boasting about your success. Someone who is jealous might pronounce you smug.

Mon., Apr. 28. Divide the duties in your home, office, factory, or other work place among those who can and should help. Plan for greater efficiency.

Tues., Apr. 29. Make notes on important data in seeking information. Do not depend on your memory to absorb all details.

Wed., Apr. 30. Do not take offense if a neighbor gives scant attention to a grievance you take to heart. Perhaps it is only a trivial matter.

AQUARIUS COSMIC FLASHES

For You Who Were Born Between January 20th and February 18th

THE acumen and intuition for which your Solar group is noted may serve you well during the first ten days, for you may have to decide exactly what course to take, with diametrically opposed planetary vibrations in effect.

With the Sun in trine aspect with Pluto and in sextile aspect with Mars, your personal and job contacts may be pleasant and profitable. You may associate with interesting, fascinating personalities. And with Mars in sextile aspect with Jupiter, you might be promoted to a better paying job.

When Mercury and Uranus are in square aspect about the 6th, though, you might be embarrassed over a money matter unless you have ample funds on hand to take care of a possible emergency. Also, a business venture might entail unexpected expense, so be prepared in advance to handle exigencies. Even though these two configurations are contradictory, you may use both advantageously by a clever understanding of their nature.

On the 13th, when Mercury, in your Second House which rules money, is in trine aspect with Jupiter, stress mental work, with the accent on its eventual money value, whether it is something you write, or the carefully considered thoughts you express about a business idea in which you have faith. Begin an important project when the Mars-Saturn trine is exact the next day. You should gain cooperation.

Around the 15th, when Venus and Uranus are in square aspect, everyone may not be congenial, but since Uranus is in sextile aspect with your Sign, the phase should quickly pass. Pending agreements may be settled satisfactory around the 17th, when the Mercury-Saturn trine is in effect. You might feel unappreciated between the 20th and 23rd, when conjoined Mercury and Mars oppose Neptune, but you may merely be exaggerating trifles.

When Mars and Pluto are in trine aspect on the 25th, best results may be obtained through team-work, whether in your home, in office, factory, theatre, sports arena, civic, state or government duties, store or school or farm. On the 26th when Venus and Saturn are in trine aspect, you may be shown how greatly your willingness to adhere to the motto of your country—"United We Stand"—is appreciated.

Try to take a well-earned pleasure trip during the last few days, while Mercury is in sextile aspect with Uranus.

Tues., Apr. 1. You might get much benefit by joining with congenial people who love outdoor sports. Get your friends together, if you know of no recreational group in your vicinity.

Wed., Apr. 2. In selecting either clothes or furnishings, give the choice to simplicity. To keep in good taste, avoid garish colors or ornate designs.

Thurs., Apr. 3. If you notice a little ill humor in someone you love, try to understand the reason. That should help, if the "touchiness" is caused by worry or disappointment.

Fri., Apr. 4. Perhaps your hobby is antiques or curios. You may have some interesting moments talking with a collector.

Sat., Apr. 5. If you are undecided about the wisdom of taking a business step, sleep on the problem. It might be clarified when you awake.

SUN., Apr. 6. Unless all preparations have been made for a trip, try to postpone it. Traveling today might prove tedious and wearisome.

Mon., Apr. 7. You might pick up a surprisingly good suggestion for earning money, through a casual meeting with an acquaintance. Do something about it at once.

Tues., Apr. 8. You may have great hopes about the cash an investment will bring, but do not be too optimistic. Until sure, hold on to your ready money.

Wed., Apr. 9. Contact with someone of forceful personality might be a turning point in your life. You may be starting a fortunate cycle.

Thurs., Apr. 10. If circumstances force you to make an adamant refusal, be definite. Show that your decision is final.

Fri., Apr. 11. Because of a duty you cannot ignore, you may have to cancel an engagement. A pleasant surprise may banish your disappointment.

Sat., Apr. 12. The mail might bring you a small sum of money or a check from someone who is fond of you. It may be suggested that you buy something for yourself.

SUN., Apr. 13. Your pastor may congratulate you on your astuteness in managing church funds. Church members may join in heartily.

Mon., Apr. 14. Before making an investment, consult a business friend or a government expert. Unless you are fully aware of an economic situation your own judgment might not be wise.

Tues., Apr. 15. Do not center a social conversation around the valuables you possess. It might be thought you are mercenary.

Wed., Apr. 16. Be sure you can afford an entertainment you anticipate with delight. It may indeed be enjoyable, but rather costly.

Thurs., Apr. 17. If you are interested in technical subjects, hunt up some authoritative books. You might be highly entertained as well as instructed.

Fri., Apr. 18. Do not be entirely satisfied with completed tasks until you have given them a final check-up. Look for perfection.

Sat., Apr. 19. If a disturbing message must be delivered to a friend, do not be abrupt. Lead up to the subject gently, to ease the way.

SUN., Apr. 20. Do not mar your Sabbath by listening to the woes of chronic complainers. Spend your leisure with those who make you feel cheerful.

Mon., Apr. 21. Someone you have entertained may reciprocate. A party to which you are invited may prove delightful.

Tues., Apr. 22. Even if you believe you have a right to be indignant, do not put your protest in writing. When you have calmed down, speak your mind orally.

Wed., Apr. 23. Make sure you know all the rules before you enter a contest or submit to a written examination. Take no chance of being disqualified because you "didn't know."

Thurs., Apr. 24. In deference to your host or hostess at a social gathering, be courteous to someone you may dislike. Mask your antipathy.

Fri., Apr. 25. Should you sponsor a sport project for the young folks, keep at it steadily. It may meet with phenomenal success.

Sat., Apr. 26. Unless you are familiar with the location of a prearranged meeting place, get specific directions. Avoid a possible mixup.

SUN., Apr. 27. Take time after church to check up on a bill in which you suspect there is an error. You may save money.

Mon., Apr. 28. You might scintillate at a social gathering. Your wit may add much to mutual enjoyment.

Tues., Apr. 29. Plan work that will have future worth. Spectacular accomplishment may be out of the question today.

Wed., Apr. 30. If you loan a friend money for amusement purposes, you might as well make a present of the tickets. The cash may never be returned.

For You Who Were Born Between February 19th and March 20th

YOUR Sign is ruled by Neptune, so you have a deep interest in all the arts which stir the emotions, whether literature, music, painting, dancing, sculpture, photography, or drama. However, during the first half of the month while Mercury, Venus and Mars occupy your Sign you may be particularly absorbed in literature. Your personal efforts may run the gamut from the stateliest forms to melodrama and comedy.

If you are in the theatrical profession, you may be offered the most promising role of your career. If music is your vocation, you may be kept busy rehearsing, or engrossed in composition, or perhaps making recordings or doing other radio work. If you are a disciple of Terpsichore, your dancing feet may be endlessly busy, whether you teach, study, or entertain.

If your ideas do not meet with immediate approval around the 6th, when Mercury and Uranus are in square aspect, do not worry, for you might find attention given them more of a liability than an asset. Agree with others, particularly in family matters, because argument likely would be useless.

A business matter may be brought to a climax on the 7th, when Mars is in trine aspect with Jupiter, a helpful planetary influence for promotion—but act promptly. You might be able to rejoice with someone close to you who also may have financial success on the 9th when the Sun-Uranus sextile is in effect.

When Mercury is in trine aspect with Jupiter, a few days later, you may negotiate with a seaside resort to present an entertainment feature. With the Mars-Saturn trine aspect the next day, the business terms should be advantageous.

Around the 15th, when Venus and Uranus are in square aspect, refuse to be imposed on, even though your naturally kind heart may be touched by a sad story. Discuss family matters about the 17th, when Mercury is in trine aspect with Saturn, for your suggestions should be logical and sound. However, that may not be true between the 20th and 23rd when conjoined Mercury and Mars oppose Neptune, for you might not possess good judgment where money is concerned unless you combat an urge to be extravagant.

The last week, when Venus and Mercury, from your Second House that rules finance, respectively form a trine with Saturn and a sextile with Uranus is a favorable period for seeking work to be done at home.

Tues., Apr. 1. Through a friend who has club affiliations, you might be accorded a welcome privilege. You may be offered a guest card.

Wed., Apr. 2. Be as neat in your work arrangements as with your personal grooming. If yours is a desk job keep your work spot uncluttered, and your typing perfect.

Thurs., Apr. 3. Get to work at once to accomplish whatever task you have on hand. Do not watste time talking about it.

Fri., Apr. 4. You may make an agreement concerning money. Make certain that each stipulation is explicit, and is understood.

Sat., Apr. 5. If you are not sure you are thoroughly versed in economics, study the subject. Even though a book may seem "dry," read it through.

SUN., Apr. 6. Someone near you might be so irritable as to stage a rather embarrassing scene publicly. Smooth it over diplomatically, or ignore the episode.

Mon., Apr. 7. If you are contemplating a trip, carry through your plans. You might learn something to put cash in your pocket.

Tues., Apr. 8. Do not rush a research job which may take longer than you expected. Accuracy may be more important than speed.

Wed., Apr. 9. A business or job opportunity might come through the influence of a relative or friend. You may be able to develop it splendidly.

Thurs., Apr. 10. You may have to overcome some obstacles before a money deal is completed. Persevere, for success.

Fri., Apr. 11. Do not take it for granted that a statement expressed by an acquaintance is correct. Find out for yourself.

Sat., Apr. 12. Refuse to let other matters interfere with your regular visits to experts who contribute to your good grooming. The results should be worth while.

SUN., Apr. 13. You may be in a mood to receive the message in a sermon more readily than usual. And sacred music may exalt you.

Mon., Apr. 14. If a money matter concerning your job is pending, you might receive satisfactory compensation. The settlement should be a friendly one.

Tues., Apr. 15. Keep private matters strictly to yourself. Someone with inflated curiosity might want to pry—and gossip.

Wed., Apr. 16. You should have splendid results in any matter concerning photography. Have your picture taken, or arrange for a miniature of a cherished old likeness.

Thurs., Apr. 17. Discuss your job with someone of experience, if the chance occurs. You may receive valuable pointers and wise counsel.

Fri., Apr. 18. Make plans that are meant to be lasting. There might be enduring results from a venture started now.

Sat., Apr. 19. Be entirely frank in expressing your opinion on a financial matter, if asked for advice. Otherwise your knowledge of the question might be questioned.

SUN., Apr. 20. Live up to your promise of financial assistance to a charity, if you give your word. To hedge might cause disappointment.

Mon., Apr. 21. Should someone present a letter of introduction, check up with the writer. The credentials might be in the wrong hands.

Tues., Apr. 22. Read up on a subject which intrigues you. You may make good use of your leisure by investigating a new field.

Wed., Apr. 23. Do not be credulous if someone comes to you with a hard luck story. The whole intention may be to borrow from you.

THURS., Apr. 24. If you should be annoyed by someone who tries to tell you how to run your home, merely listen politely. Then do as you see fit.

Fri., Apr. 25. Take an interest in the romantic life of a fellow worker. Perhaps you can add to the happiness by planning a delightful outing.

Sat., Apr. 26. Select your instructor with care if you plan to take up an artistic subject. That may have a bearing on your entire life work.

SUN., Apr. 27. Develop a budding friendship with a member of your congregation. This may be of great aid to you later.

Mon., Apr. 28. Should you make application for a job which concerns mental work, show your intellectual efficiency. That might mean more money for you.

Tues., Apr. 29. Work with an assistant at a job which requires both inspiration and technique. Select someone who can complement your own qualities.

Wed., Apr. 30. Advice you receive today may be prompted by a kind heart. Accept it appreciatively.

A fascinating summary of important historical events that have occurred during April ☆

The Month of Adventure

By STUART E. MASON

ACCORDing to mythological observance, the fourth month of each year was sacred to the goddess Venus. In her honor the ancients celebrated the Feast of Venus on the first day of this month. Ever since then the coming of April is heralded as the time of love and fruitfulness.

In Astrology nowadays the first twenty days of April are associated with the Planet Mars which rules the Sign Aries. This zodical area is occupied by the Sun from March 21st to April 20th.

The powerful activity of this Planet may well be the influence that has made this month a dramatic reversal of the avowed Venus gentleness, since American history records a series of events that are far removed from the romance for which this goddess was famous.

Apparently it was Mars, the recognized deity of combat, who was responsible for the commencement in the month of April of four major Wars—the American Revolution, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and the declaration of hostilities by the United States against Germany during the First World War.

On the 21st day of April, however, when the Sun enters the Sign Taurus, the gracious influence of the Planet Venus makes itself felt by bringing a greater abundance of the fragrant blossoms of Spring, while glowing thoughts turn to romance!

With Venus harmoniously aspected in your horoscope, and especially if at your birth it occupied either the Sign Taurus or the Sign Libra, of which it is the planetary ruler, you possess a keen sense of appreciation for art, music, decorative arrangements, and dramatic effects.

You take pleasure in refined amusements and attractive adornment. You also are capable of lofty thoughts, and you delight in beautiful living environments as well as in sparkling emotional thrills.

You are socially popular, and are extraordinarily deft with your hands. Try your skill this year during the latter part of April, when the Venus vibrations are in power!

Many memorable deeds and events have occurred in April under the combined influence of Mars and Venus. These are part of America's great traditions. Here are some of the most important historic happenings, with the planetary symbols that typify the cosmic vibrations which are associated with these famous events.

April 1. For almost 400 years, folks have been pulling tricks on each other on April 1st. All Fools' Day became popular after adoption of the reformed calendar by Charles IX in 1564. The Frenchman could not forget that April 1st rather than January 1st, was the day for giving New Year's gifts. This began the practice of sending token or fool's presents.

April 2. On this day, in 1792, Congress passed an act establishing a national Mint to manufacture money. Branches now exist in San Francisco, New Orleans, Denver, Philadelphia, and Carson City, Nevada.

April 3. Washington Irving, one of America's first important literary men, was born April 3, 1783, in New York. You probably remember best his famous stories of "Rip Van Winkle" and "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow."

April 4, 1818. Adoption of the present flag of the United States, providing for 13 stripes to represent the original colonies, and a star for each State, was effected this day.

♂ △ ♃ — ♄ ⚹ ♆

April 6. Officially, this is called Army Day. Its basis and historic significance, however, was the momentous decision on April 6, 1917, to declare war against the Imperial German Government. On April 6th, 1830, the Mormon Church was founded. This day also is cele-

April 7. Few people at the time realized how close to war were the States and Great Britain over issues that arose during the American Civil War. Along with aid that England sent to the South were ships, one of which was "the Alabama." In a series of diplomatic agreements that were remarkable in their successful settlement of a major dispute, the Alabama Claims case, begun on April 7, 1865, was closed six years later.

April 8. More than 400 years ago, on an April 8th, Ponce de Leon landed on the coast of Florida, near the present location of St. Augustine. The legend is he did so to bathe in the mythical Fountain of Youth. His search was in vain, for an Indian arrow caused his death. But the quest for health is still carried on by pallid northerns who almost inundate the State of Florida, between December and the end of March annually, to acquire a rich brown suntan and comforting rest in its salubrious climate!

April 9, 1865. On this day the Confederate Army, under General Robert E. Lee, surrendered to General Ulysses S. Grant, ending the war between the northern and southern States.

April 10. William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, was born this day in 1829. The social reform work he started was primarily religious. Now it encompasses many valuable programs for the underprivileged.

April 11. Charles Evans Hughes was born April 11, 1862. His work as the eleventh Chief Justice of the Supreme Court will retain an enduring place in America's precedent-making jurisprudence.

April 13, 1743. Birthday of Thomas Jefferson, president of the United States from 1801 to 1809.

April 14. Pan-American Day, marking the formation of the Pan American Union of which all countries in North, Central, and South America are members.

April 18, 1906. The most disastrous fire in American history at San Francisco, following an earthquake at five o'clock in the morning. A quarter of a million persons were left homeless.

April 19. Anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and Concord. From the muzzles of the guns leveled by patriots, aroused by the shouts of Paul Revere during his famous ride the night before, the first shots of the American Revolution were fired. These shots were to continue echoing until out of the British colonies grew a new nation—the United States of America.

April 21. A holiday in Texas. On this day, in 1836, the Texans forced Mexico, in the Battle of San Jacinto, to recognize their independence.

April 22. Birthday of J. Sterling Morton, in 1832—the originator of Arbor Day in America. Observed throughout the nation, although it varies from State to State because of the difference in the Spring planting season. Celebration of this day has made millions of persons conscious of the need for tree planting and conservation. This has resulted in saving and replanting billions of shade and fruit trees.

☉△♂—☿△♃

April 23. In 1791 on this day in Mercersburg, Pa., was born James Buchanan, the 15th president of the United States. April 23, 1564, also is accepted as the birth date of one of the world's most remarkable and famous writers—William Shakespeare.

April 24. The British arrived in Washington, D. C., in 1814 on this date, in part of the campaign of what is usually called the "War of 1812," or "The War on the Seas." Practically all public buildings, including the White House and Capitol, were burned during this attack.

April 25. The feast of St. Mark is observed on this day by Roman and Protestant churches.

♀⚹♄—☿⚹♀

April 26. Most of the southern states which were members of the Confederacy note this as Memorial Day in honor of those who died in the cause of the South during the War of Secession. On April 26, 1780, was born one of America's greatest naturalists and artists, John James Audubon. His program for Sanctuaries as a protection for birds, and other activities he recommended to spread the knowledge and care of birds, are strongly backed by the National Association of Audubon Societies. These have affiliation with similar societies in about twenty-five other nations.

April 27. Born on this day, 1822, Ulysses S. Grant, 18th president of the United States and leader of Northern troops during the War Between the States.

April 28. America's fifth President, James Monroe, was born April 28, 1758. Not only does the Monroe Doctrine bear his name, but the annals of the State Department are filled with his successful diplomatic negotiations as this country's representative abroad.

April Shopping Guide

Americans are accustomed to a constant flow of new commodities due to the influence of Uranus, the cosmic symbol of inventiveness, at the Ascendant of the national horoscope. Even during the war, while other countries were deprived of necessities let alone luxuries, there was only a temporary slackening in the availability of essentials. In some instances it was necessary to use substitutes, but on the whole there was an adequate supply of most things on the markets of America.

This abundance is becoming so apparent now that some items are obtainable at reduced prices, largely due to the current transit of the Planet Jupiter through the Water Sign Scorpio which rules savings. Since this Planet is in sextile relationship with the Sign Virgo, which rules labor, the price adjustments can be of benefit to wage earners.

Durable goods should attain a gradual upturn in sales due to the influence of the Planet Saturn, the cosmic symbol of sturdy materials, in the Sign Leo which rules large-scale purchases.

There is also reason for optimism regarding trade prospects in April as the result of the stimulating vibrations generated by Mercury and Venus. Last minute buying of merchandise for Easter should make store keepers feel enthusiastic, and customers delighted with the values they are offered by enterprising merchants.

The list of familiar items, grouped below, may enable you to find what you want and need on the dates which have been calculated in relationship with your natal Sun Sign.

RECOLLECTIONS OF AN ASTROLOGER

wheel. The car crashed into a store window, completely demolishing the plate glass as well as the car.

"All the boys, including John are in the hospital now. Once again the beneficent vibrations of Jupiter prevailed. The boys will recover, and the insurance will pay for the cost of the damage. I hope John has learned his lesson, but I doubt it.

"We who know something about Astrology have implicit faith in the planetary influences, but we can't always convince others—not even our own children."

Why is Astrology so infallible? The explanation is obvious. All that transpires in life is timed by the tempo of the Cosmic Clock which measures the minutes, hours, days, and years of the eternal motions that are the foundations for the tenets of Astrology!

YOUR PROBLEM

in the Water Sign Cancer which rules sea voyages. This accounts for your aptitude in naval matters. Aiding these influences were Saturn in the Water Sign Scorpio, and conjoined Mars-Uranus in the Water Sign Pisces. The probability is that you will decide to remain in the Navy or Maritime Service, aspiring to one of the higher ranks, since Neptune was in the Sign Leo which rules authority.

Temporary Delay

PROBLEM: I have always done well in the real estate business, but things seem at a standstill now. When will I be able to swing some big deals again? I was born May 18, 1914.—CLARENCE D. V.

ANSWER: As a dealer in land you should do well inasmuch as at your birth the Sun was in the Earth Sign Taurus which rules the soil, mining, property, building, and tangible wealth.

Venus and Saturn were in your solar Second House which rules your income. Therefore, your best sales should be among women and elderly folk.

However, right now Saturn is moving through your solar Fourth House which rules the completion of transactions. This transit signifies delayed action inasmuch as Saturn is in square aspect with your natal Sun Sign.

Nevertheless the restrictive cycle may teach you some important lessons. Try not to be too impatient.

Emotional Conflict

PROBLEM: I am in love with a man who promised to get a divorce from his wife if I agreed to wait for him. He was born April 1, 1901; and I was born August 4, 1918. I wonder what I should do.—AGNES J. O.

ANSWER: Your uncertainty is its own answer. Several hundred letters, similar to yours, are received annually from girls or men who are willing to wait for second-hand romance.

Do you think it is fair to wait for a man who is willing to discard one woman so as to marry another? Are you sure that he will remain loyal to you? And how about your own conscience? Won't it bother you that you were the one who broke up a marriage?

All these questions need to be answered honestly for your own sake, as well as for his. As a woman, it is you who have to make the decision rather than the other way about.

For your satisfaction it may be said that a basis for mutual attraction exists inasmuch as you have Sun in the Fire Sign Leo, in trine aspect with his Sun in the Fire Sign Aries. I am an easy-going person. I don't like the constant disputes. Is there anything I can do to stop her? I was born June 29, 1912.—SIDNEY A. A.

ANSWER: A powerful Fixed Sign cross exists in your wife's birth chart, formed by the Moon in the Sign Leo, in opposition to Uranus in the Sign Aquarius, and in square aspect with Venus in the Sign Scorpio.

Supplementing this vibratory stress is the influence of the Sun in the final degrees of the Sign Scorpio. Fortunately the Sun is in trine aspect with conjoined Mars-Neptune, so there are times when she is justified in her aggressiveness.

However, the latter aspect is in wide opposition with Jupiter, the cosmic symbol of wealth. Therefore, she sometimes is penalized for her belligerence. She might, for instance, receive more attractive gifts from you as well as from her friends and relatives if she were not always quarrelling about unimportant things, or going to extremes in her sarcastic criticism.

She can be clever and alert, as shown by the trine aspect between the Moon with Mercury in the Sign Sagittarius which, in turn, is in sextile aspect with Uranus in the Sign Aquarius. This constitutes a strong triangle of power that can work in two directions. Therefore, the effect can be constructive as well as destructive, according to personal inclinations.

Your wife apparently prefers to use her strong endowments for the expression of traits which are not especially admirable.

Joyous Wedding Bells

PROBLEM: My sweetheart and I are planning a June wedding. We have waited a long time for this glorious event; in fact ever since he was inducted into the Army, when I was too young to marry.

NOTICE

The interpretations of the planetary aspects in EVERYDAY ASTROLOGY are based on current planetary aspects and although identified with each Sign of the Zodiac are not intended to be individual or specific. The pronoun YOU is used in a collective and plural sense. Neither theoretically nor actually is it assumed that the response to the cosmic vibrations is uniform yet there is sufficient similarity among the members of each solar group to justify the salient claims of Astrology.

Now we are looking toward a happy life together, and I hope we are not disappointed. Are our horoscopes well matched? I was born February 3, 1925; and he was born September 25, 1921.—SUSAN R. F.

ANSWER: You and your husband-to-be should be able to get along very well inasmuch as there is an harmonious trine aspect between your Sun in the Air Sign Aquarius, and his Sun in the Air Sign Libra.

Right now your natal Sun is in beneficent trine formation with Uranus and Neptune.

Lovers' Quarrel

PROBLEM: About two weeks ago my boy friend and I had a quarrel. I admit it was my fault. I asked him to forgive me, but I am sure that in his heart and soul he is disappointed in me.

What should I do? I was born December 2, 1924; and he was born March 9, 1921.—AUGUSTA, N. W.

ANSWER: You are the extrovert type inasmuch as at your birth the Sun was in the Fire Sign Sagittarius which is symbolized by "the Archer." You can shoot an arrow into the air, without regard of where it would fall or whom it would hurt.

Your friend, on the other hand, has Sun in the Water Sign Pisces which is symbolized by "the Fishes" swimming in opposite directions. Consequently he is a sensitive and emotional person. He wants sympathy rather than excessive exuberance.

Everything might go well between you for a while, and then another squabble could destroy the serene calm that is so necessary to his enjoyment of a placid existence. After a while you might become tired of apologizing, and he might become weary of trying to adjust himself to your hot-headed outbursts.

What you need is someone who is not so sensitive; and what he needs is someone who is not so prone to lacerate his feelings. Also the fiery impulsiveness of your personality, and the rather watery qualities of his are not particularly congenial. This point should have your full consideration before—rather than after the reconcilliation.

This Month's Cover

An Astrological Interpretation

AT first glance you might wonder about the two contrasting masks on this month's cover. A few minutes of meditative analysis, however, should reveal what they mean.

Not only is there a cleavage in the weather during April, when the north temperate zone starts to "warm up," while the south temperate zone begins to "cool off," but the whole world is commencing on a new cycle of self-expression.

This vivifying renewal is due to the entry of the Sun into the Sign Aries, after having concluded its apparent journey through the entire zodiac.

On this month's cover the new start is represented by the youthful mask, looking forward toward the future with optimism. The tendency toward progressive adventure is emphasized by the symbol of the Sign Aries at the upper right hand margin, while the dynamic confidence that is essential for aggressive leadership is shown by the symbol of the Planet Mars in the center at the lower part of the illustration.

The grotesque mask is intended to show the appearance of useless worry and apprehension. Life has a certain amount of trials and tribulations, but everything is balanced in the course of time by the harmonious vibrations that eventually set success and happiness into motion.

Whenever you feel "blue," think of the frozen icicles caused by pessimistic self-pity. With the first smile your irritation should melt away as does the snow after the Sun starts its annual pilgrimate through the Sign Aries.

The tinted rainbow is an iridescent promise of more valuable treasures at its end than a mere pot of gold, since what can be more precious than the eternal gifts of your cosmic heritage?

Please let me have your opinion of this month's cover—and of this issue of the magazine! A postcard will do. Kindly address all mail to The Editor, EVERYDAY ASTROLOGY, 10 East 40th Street, New York 16, N. Y. Thank you!

—THE EDITOR.
